

Mail Service—Woodstock, P. O.

10 a. m. For south, east, west and Upper Provinces.
12 p. m. For Montreal and Fredericton.
12 p. m. For north, including register.
10 p. m. For south, east, west, including register.
Sundays—All mail must be posted at least 15 minutes previous to time of closing.
Mails Arrive.
8 a. m. From south, east and west.
10 a. m. From Fredericton and Montreal.
10 p. m. From south, east, west and Upper Provinces.
10 p. m. From north.

TERMS OF THE SENTINEL.

Subscription $1.00 a year in advance; $1.50 if not paid in advance.
Short notices exceeding 4 lines, 5 cents first insertion; 10 cents each subsequent insertion.
Transient advertisements should be accompanied by the money to insure insertion.
Mrs. J. H. Bates, Advertising Agent, 41 Park Row, (Times Building), New York, is also authorized to contract for advertisements in the SENTINEL at our best rates.
This paper may be found on file at Geo. P. Bowles & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce street, where advertising contracts may be made for it in New York.

The Carleton Sentinel.

SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1895.

SENTINEL Office, in Vanwart's Brick Building, King Street, up stairs.

Consult the Direction Label on Your Paper or Wrapper, and if in Arrears please Pay up at once.

Manitoba politicians appear to be quite certain that Premier Greenway contemplates bringing on the provincial elections at an early date. The opposition are so well convinced of this that they are already discussing candidates and a policy in respect to the school question.

In a sermon in St. Mary's church, Winnipeg, Sunday, Archbishop Langevin, after begging Oblates to stand firm for their schools, stated plainly that those of the church who continued to give their aid to the opponents of Catholic schools would no longer be considered Catholics by the church. This is taken to be equivalent to excommunication.

A bill has been introduced in the British House of Commons, imposing a penalty for the utterance of any false statement regarding the character or conduct of any candidate for election to Parliament which may be circulated during a contest for a seat, and providing that a seat shall be lost if the opposing candidate or election agent shall be found to be responsible for such statement.

In an engagement with natives at Chitral recently Colonel Dabney and his men were killed, and two officers and seventeen private were wounded. The British had no idea such a large force of the enemy was in their immediate neighborhood. Urdu Khan has sent Lieutenant Edwards and a detachment of 100 men to the scene. Edwards is expected to arrive there soon. Both officers have been held as hostages by the native leaders.

The By-Elections.

On Wednesday, there were four by-elections for the House of Commons. In Haldimand, Ontario, the candidates being Dr. Montague, Com., and Jeffrey McCarthy, a McCarthyite. Montague elected with 673 majority.

In Vercheres, Que., Bisson being the conservative candidate and Geoffroy, the liberal. Geoffroy elected, 156 majority.

In Quebec West, the candidates being McGreevey and Dubell, independent conservatives. Dubell elected, 7 majority.

In Antigonish, J. A. Chisholm, Com., C. F. McLean, Lib., McLean elected, 113 majority.

Easter in the Churches.

Sunday was a bright and beautiful Easter day and the congregations at all the churches were unusually large. Special preparation in the selection of music, and the commemoration of the buildings had been made in nearly all the churches, and the services were heartily engaged in.

St. Luke's church was not so largely decorated with flowers as usual, but still some beautiful bouquets adorned the reading desk. The pastor, Rev. Canon Neale, preached morning and evening.

Perhaps the F. O. B. church was the most beautifully decorated of any. In a half circle in front of the pulpit, the flowers were arranged in artistically arranged pots, of beautiful and fragrant Easter lilies, geraniums, carnations, and other flowers. Rev. C. T. Atkinson, the pastor, officiated, and the selection of anthems was heartily rendered.

In the Albert Street Baptist, there was a small, but handsome array of flowers. The sermon of the pastor, Rev. A. F. Baker, was also the music selected, were appropriate to the joyous occasion.

The Presbyterian church had a few flowers arranged in good taste. Rev. Mr. Whitehead occupied his pulpit and delivered two sermons well suited to the glorious event commemorated. The singing at this church, as is always, was good.

The ladies of the Methodist church had arranged their artistic taste in the flowers which adorned the altar. The flowers were a vase of beautiful Easter lilies, which had been brought in. Rev. Dr. Chapman, the pastor, preached morning and evening, and at the close of the evening service administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The morning service was a Sunday school service, in which the children took prominent part in the singing, and the minister delivered a sermon eminently suited to the children on the text, "The children of the kingdom of heaven." The children of the church were absent, still the singing of the large congregations attended the different services. The altar decorations were brilliant with flowers and plants, while, in the evening, the many lighted candles added beauty to the scene. Special music was prepared by the choir, under the charge of Miss Chapman, and the choir sang as organist, and was of an exceptionally high class. The singing on the organ, as well as on the leader and organist. Rev. F. Chapman preached an able sermon, commemorating Christ's resurrection from the dead, on the joyous Easter morn.

Easter offering was taken up at both masses.

Easter Elections.

WOODSTOCK.

At the annual meeting of the corporation of the Parish of Woodstock, on Monday, the financial report was quite favorable. At the meeting of the Parishioners, which immediately followed, the following elections took place: B. H. Smith, F. B. Ball, church wardens; J. T. Gordon and T. O. L. Ketchum, delegates to the Synod and D. C. S. which met at Montreal in July, and Hugh S. Wright and J. L. S. Bay, delegates to the vestrymen. Dr. G. H. G. S. Raymond, J. T. Gordon, J. N. W. Winslow, T. O. L. Ketchum, G. F. Smith, O. H. L. Perkins, J. A. Dibblee, G. A. Taylor, H. S. Wright, Richard Cluff and Wm. M. Connell.

ST. JAMES CHURCH—CENTREVILLE.

Thomas Orchard, R. W. Baillet, wardens; John P. Williams, Guy R. Ball, John, Charles Williams, G. L. Leverette, Walter, Alfred J. Lee, Isaac P. Williams, Dr. Frank M. Brown.

ST. BARNABAS CHURCH—GREENFIELD.

John Ritchie, J. H. George, Arthur, wardens; William, Alex. P. Ritchie, Thomas H. Waken, J. H. Ritchie, Samuel Ritchie, George Stewart, Wm. M. Ritchie, Willie Ritchie.

I. O. G. T.

Prince Albert Lodge, I. O. G. T. was re-organized at Woodstock on Monday evening by G. U. T. Farley, and the following officers were elected and installed:—

George Currie, C. T.; Miss B. Kewney, V. T.; Mrs. Mackell, S. J. T.; Miss B. Kewney, H. S.; Jas. R. Tappin, E. S.; R. D. Currie, Treas.; Mrs. Chas. Tappin, Chap.; Arrara Kearney, Jr., Mar.; W. W. Woodward, Guard.; Nelson, Wm. Woodward, Henry Green, P. O. T. Night of meeting Saturday.

100 Elegant and Stylish Dress Patterns just received on consignment for 10 days only at B. B. Manzer's. All goods not sold will be returned the 10th of April.

Bicycle Club.

WOODSTOCK.

A meeting of the wheelmen of the town was held at the store of J. A. & R. J. Lindsay, on Monday, for the purpose of forming a bicycle club. J. A. Lindsay was called to the chair and Chas. Appleby appointed secretary. After some discussion the meeting adjourned to meet at the Dispatch office Wednesday evening, when Mr. A. Lindsay was chairman and Chas. Appleby, secretary. It was resolved to form a club, to be called the Woodstock Bicycle Club; the following were elected officers:—

George E. Blumkin, president.

H. S. Wright, vice president.

These Jones, secretary.

A. D. Melish, treasurer.

John Frapp, captain.

Norman Laine, first lieutenant.

Rube Lee, second lieutenant.

A. D. Hylke, W. Blumkin, Dr. Kirkpatrick, George Blumkin, These Jones, H. S. Wright, A. D. Melish—executive committee.

Admission fee was fixed at 50c, to be paid on signing by-law. Ladies to be admitted on honorary membership. Yellow and black were adopted the club colors. Next meeting at Balmrain Bros office, on Monday at 7.30 p. m.

Personals.

Dr. Colter, M. P., left for Ottawa on Wednesday.

Mrs. L. P. Ferris has returned to her home in Quebec.

Rev. Mr. Blackmore is here, with a view to making this place his residence.

Mr. Hugh Hay left on Monday to return to Philadelphia; he goes via Montreal.

Prof. J. A. Jones, Fort Fairfield, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. A. Lindsay.

A. D. Melish and Dr. Kirkpatrick spent a portion of the Easter holidays at Fredericton.

Thos. Colter, Kewick, spent some days with his brother, the doctor, here last week.

David Irvine and H. T. Scholey, Centreville, was in Woodstock the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kerr, Harland, spent their Easter vacation with friends in Woodstock.

Mrs. D. H. Armstrong, Andover, left last week for Boston, to spend a few weeks with her sister.

Councillor Spike and D. H. Armstrong, Andover, and C. S. Squire, Bath, were in town this week.

Mr. Sanderson, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, went to St. John Friday, and returned on Tuesday morning.

Miss Moreau, of Newburg or the Hudson, is lying quite ill at B. B. Manzer's, where she has been spending the winter.

Miss Elith Omben, St. Andrews, reached Woodstock Thursday, whence she proceeded to Bloomfield, to take charge of the school there.

F. H. Morehouse, Newburg, New York, who is cousin to and guardian of Miss Morehouse, who is ill at Mr. Manzer's, reached here on Tuesday.

Miss Edith Porter has resigned her position on the teaching staff of the town, and has returned to her home, Fredericton.

Her friend Miss Porter's resignation, has been filled by the appointment of Miss S. Omben there.

Among the students who came to spend their Easter vacation here were Anson Rose and Neville Vane of the N. B. University, and Lulu Vane of the Fredericton High School; Louise McCormack, daughter of the late Mrs. Fraser of Bathurst, of the Normal School.

B. T. of T.

WOODSTOCK.

The District Council, Royal Temples of Temperance, of Woodstock, N. B., was held at Centreville on the 9th inst. The travelling was very bad, but there was a good attendance, one delegate walking all the way from Bathurst, twenty miles, to be present. There was to have been a public meeting in the evening, but owing to the bad weather this had to be abandoned. The reports of the several committees about the order to be in a prosperous condition financially as well as numerically.

The committee on temperance work, in their report, strongly urged the banishment of a hiding public meeting; suggested that every member should subscribe for the weekly Temperance, expressed pleasure at the progress made during the past three months and enthusiastically urged each Royal Temple to do everything possible to aid in the election of L. E. Young, the prohibition candidate.

Committee on the state of the Order submitted the following statement:—

On Dec. 31, 1894, Florenceville Council, No. 87, had 111 members in good standing; Bathurst, Centreville, No. 79, 105 members; Grand, Bloomfield, No. 75, 68 members; Woodstock, No. 65, 104 members; Harland, No. 20, 104 members; Riverview, No. 10, 104 members; five councils met in an official session, but all are prosperous. In some of the above councils the number has more than doubled since New Year's. In the whole county there were over 900 Royal Temples at the end of 1894, and now there are nearly 800. Gloucester Council now has 51 members and Bathurst has 40.

J. Gordon Collier was elected delegate to the Grand Council.

The next session of District Council will be held at Harland, on 1st July.

A round of speeches were then made and the Council adjourned.

Rev. Mr. Parkins, Methodist of Centreville, urged his hearers to enforce the Scott Act, and to do everything possible to aid in the election of L. E. Young, the prohibition candidate.

Rev. H. P. Gillespie spoke in the same strain, and urged his hearers to do everything possible to aid in the election of L. E. Young, the prohibition candidate.

Rev. J. T. Gordon, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A. Lindsay, of the Temperance, of Fredericton, the president of the British Empire, addressed the meeting. He was in favor of the Royal Temple, and all temperance and church people taking a hand in prohibition to elect our candidate pledged to support prohibition in parliament. It would be well to support party machinery to introduce and vote for temperance laws, but where some spot were available, the temperance people were justified in bringing out independent candidates. J. A