Literary Notices

Never before has Scribner's Magazine bad so many features running at the same time of the widest interest to everybody who is thoroughly awake to contemporary affairs and wante to be posted in regard; to American topice. The February issue, demonstrates this admirably. Noah Brooke' articles on "American Party Politics" will give any man, young or old, in a very short space, a clear dea of how American politics have developed from Washington's time to the war. Then will begin the great series by President Andrews, of Brown University, which will decribe "The Last Quarter-Century in the United States" picturesquely, telling the story of the most eignificant events from the Chicago Fire to the present day. Then all married people, or those who hope to be married, will be intensely interested in Robert Grant's brilliant series of papers on "The Art of Living."

General Lord Wolseley makes a most important contribution to the literature of the China-Japan war. In an article for the Feb-'My poor child!' said the lady caress- ruary Cosmopolitan, he discusses the situation ing her, 'you are overwrought, and no and does not mines matters in saying what China must do in this emergency. Two other noted foreign authors contribute interesting articles to this number. Kosita Mauri, the famous Parisian danseeuse, gives the 'She has promised to be my wife!' said of the fall of Louis Philippe. From every part of the world, drawings and photographs have been obtained of the instruments used to torture poor humanity, and appear as illustrations for a clever article, by Julian Hwshorne, entitled, "Salvation via the Rick." Mrs. Reginald de Koven, Austole France, W. Clark Russell, Albion W. Tourgee, and William Dean Howells are among the story tellers for the February number of the Cosmopolitan
