It is not necessary for us to say that this association, starting out as it does under such favorable auspices, and having the support of such well known representative farmers as those whose names appear in the report, must prove a success. The gentlemen forming the association appreciate the importance of more quent opportunities will be afforded by next. periodical meetings of this association. # F. & D. Association.

According to call made by delegates, from ferred to water committee.

the provincial association, was appointed to appear in their report for 1894.

Mr. Ronald, on taking the chair, said that Leighton in the chair, to consider the estimate a county association, did not have in view the taking the place of the existing agricultural societies, but as auxiliaries to help and strengthen them. Union being strength, as illustrated in the combination of men engaged in trade and the various industries of the country, union among the farmers would give them strength and lufluence in seeking reforme in any direction in which it might be desirable for their interests. And there were matters in which they might act at once and others would suggest themselves if this association was formed. To one subject he might refer : the present freight rates on the railroad by which our farmers were discriminated against. This was a matter on which the Board of Trade, Woodstock, had taken action and secured a reduction of rates on general freight coming to that town. The freight on oats from Bristol to St. John, 160 miles, was 54 cents per bushel, while from Montreal to St. John, 481 miles, the freight was only 8 cente per bushel; this showed a heavy disorimination against the shippers of oats in Carleton county and in this the producers were more directly interested than the buyers and shippers. Tale was one item and in this as in other matters the farmers, if they would obtain relief, must act in concert, always remembering that, "the Lord helps them who help themselves." Therefore he considered that an association of farmers, from the different sections of the county, meeting together periodically for the consideration of such practical subjects, was of importance and must be attended with good results. Then there was the social side to be considered. It would be a good thing for farmers to meet brother farmere; they had not heretofore sufficient opportunities for such meetings. A good thing to meet and greet each other and jons items above, before they were severally that about the crops, the soils, the weather, adopted. The county required $2,231 60, the various productions and their value, and which included one quarter of old balance even about politics if necessary. A frequent due, or $467.91, but the Council only allow intercourse and interchange of ideas must ed the amount given in the estimates prove of immense advantage. He expressed above. HUMOROUS LECTURER,

WILL DELIVER A

W. C. T. U., MONDAY: EVENING,

SUBJECT:-

"HOW I FOUND IT and HOW IT LEFT ME."

Being the experience of A New England Journalist who went West to "GET RICH."

WORDS OF THE PRESS

"BOILED DOWN"

While the lecture was humorous it was also refined. Mr. Fuller's humor is genuine, his manner, his delivery, his gestures, all are in harmony with his Lecture — Fairfield Journal. The lecture has marit enough to enjoy the largest patronage. It is a capital presentation by a humorist of the humorous side of western life, yielding a fund of graphic description not unaixed with shrewd observations on the philosophy of the situation. As a popular entertainment the lecture has many obvious attractions both in lecture has many obvious attractions both in man ner and matter - S'amford (Conn.) Advocate. There is a great deal of fun and lets of informa-tion in the lecture.—Pemaquid Messenger. Spite of the big storm the hall was crowded. The lecture was all broken up with applause. Fuller will reach the front ranks of American plat-form humorists - Rockport News.

From Hon N. R. Colter. Member of Dominion Parliament for Carleton County, N. B. It gives me great pleasure to testify to my personal enjoyment of the lecture delivered here by W. O Fuller, Jr., on "Banking in Kansas" He kept his audience in a roar of langhter for nearly two hours. Beside being humorous it was highly instructive, and his occasional bursts of eloquence charmed his listeners. His audience was large and represented the intelle toal and business culture of the community. Mr. Fuller's return to Woodstock would be hailed with delight.

From Shailer Mathews Professor of Biblical History at Chicago University. Mr. Fuller alternately instructed and amused his audience with the lessons and humor of his experience. Such a combination of vivid de :e iption with witty illustration and comment is rarely heard upon the lecture platform SHA(LER MAT E VS.
