

dom of this thought. All right, let us pray. They knelt down. He prayed appropriately and the smile of Providence shone brightly on the so practically arranged marriage. The illustration was a graphic one for the occasion. Mary was in the foreground, and the smile of Providence shone brightly on the so practically arranged marriage. The illustration was a graphic one for the occasion. Mary was in the foreground, and the smile of Providence shone brightly on the so practically arranged marriage.

An address by Rev. Mr. Fisher followed pointing out the present state of temperance and the ease of making a temperance stand today as compared with the past, adding some of the latest statistics of the temperance cause. The address was well received and the speaker was warmly applauded.

Mr. George Curran then sang, "The Dream of Platte's Wife." Mr. Curran, whose song, "The Dream of Platte's Wife," was well known, has a voice of remarkable sweetness for a man of his years.

Miss Gussie McQuinn then sang, "The Dream of Platte's Wife." Miss Gussie McQuinn then sang, "The Dream of Platte's Wife." Miss Gussie McQuinn then sang, "The Dream of Platte's Wife." Miss Gussie McQuinn then sang, "The Dream of Platte's Wife."

Subscription $1.00 a year in advance; $1.50 if not paid in advance.

Short notices not exceeding 6 lines, 25 cents per insertion; 10 cents each subsequent insertion.

Transient Advertisements should be accompanied by the money to insure insertion.

Mr. J. H. HARRIS, Newspaper Advertising Agent, at Park Row, Times Building, New York, is also authorized to contract for advertisements in the Sentinel, at our best rate.

This paper may be found on file at Geo. P. BOWMAN & CO.'s Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce street), where advertising contracts may be made for it in New York.

The Carleton Sentinel.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1896.

SENTINEL Office, in Vanwart's Brick Building, King Street, up stairs.

Consult the Direction Label on Your Paper or Wrapper, and it will tell you in Arrows please Pay up at once.

The report is confirmed that Great Britain, France and Russia have arrived at an understanding that will speedily put an end to the massacres and general disorder in Turkey.

The Birmingham Post adds that the Russian Black Sea fleet and the British Mediterranean fleet will shortly be mobilized in contingency to the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles in order to enforce, if necessary, the reform which the consensus of the three powers are about to present to the Sultan.

The other signers of the Berlin treaty, Germany, Austria and Italy, consent that the passage of the straits of the Dardanelles shall be forced, if necessary, by the allied fleet.

Our New Governor.
Hon. A. B. McMillan was sworn in Lt. Governor of the Province, on Friday of last week, by Judge Barker.

The Sentinel welcomes Mr. McMillan to the distinguished position, which it is confident he will fill with honor to himself and credit to New Brunswick. It is hoped that his Honor will live to see the Province and the Dominion enter upon the coming century, into which his term of appointment extends, in a position of increased and still increasing prosperity.

It is the Governor's intention, it is understood, to still reside at his old home at Alberton, while he will have an official residence at Fredericton during the Legislature's sittings.

Election Protests.
Of the several election protest cases now before the Courts, in the Provinces, the most remarkable is that of Major McGillivray, Conservative M. P. for North Ontario.

The returning officer in the Major's constituency declared the Conservative candidate elected by a majority of one. A recount was demanded and it was shown before the County Court judge that a ballot box had been tampered with and a similar number of ballots for the Conservative candidate substituted. The judge threw out these bogus ballots, but the loss of 23 votes left Graham in a minority, and McGillivray was declared elected.

In the face of so glaring an outrage it would be naturally supposed that Major McGillivray would refuse to take his seat in the House of Commons; but he has not done so, but took the seat and drew his salary. Later it is reported that he will resign.

In the Rougouche election case, Alexander de Meulles, the petition was thrown out by the Supreme Court, on the ground that it was not filed in good faith by the petitioner, nor having been instigated by him, or read over to him, and some of the statements contained therein were false by his own admission. This is the judgment of the Chief Justice and Justices Hamilton, Lindy and McLeod. Judge Barker also thinks the petition should go, but on the same reasons.

Judge Vanwart dissents from the judgment only on the ground on which the petition is dismissed, and as to this his Honor holds that the efforts, having been signed and sworn to, the Court cannot go back of it and acquire whether the petitioner believed or had good reasons for believing the allegations to be true. If the petitioner has sworn falsely he is liable to criminal prosecution for perjury.

In the York election case, McFarlane and Feggs vs. Foster, the Court refused the application to dismiss the preliminary objections filed to the petition and an order will be made that the respondent leave to file an additional copy with the clerk ex pro.

The decision, however, in the Rougouche case disposes of all preliminary objections in favor of the petition, excepting those relating to the petitioners being themselves guilty of corrupt practices, upon which question evidence will have to be taken.

Late Bishop Medley.
There was a large gathering of Churchmen at Fredericton, on Tuesday, on the occasion of which the monument and statue of the late Bishop Medley was unveiled at Christ's Church cathedral, which building stands, indeed, a worthy monument itself, to the distinguished prelate. The monument was unveiled by Sheriff Sterling and T. C. Allen.

The services were conducted by Sub-Dean Whalley and Dean Partridge, Ven. Archdeacon Brigstocke delivering the address.

THE MONUMENT.
A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

Governor Fraser's Obsequies.

The remains of the late lamented Lt. Governor, John James Fraser, accompanied by his widow and Miss Fisher reached Fredericton, on Saturday last. On Saturday afternoon and Monday, the corpse lay in state in the Assembly room, Parliament building, where it was viewed by a large number of visitors, from all parts of the province.

On the top of the coffin was a beautifully engraved name plate containing the following inscription:—
The Hon. John James Fraser,
Lieutenant Governor of the Province of New Brunswick,
Died at Genoa, Italy,
November 24th, 1896,
Aged 67 years.

Owing to defective embalming, probably the face of deceased was not exposed to view. Among the numerous floral tributes was one from the government, secured in New York, it was of large palm leaves, surmounted by a wreath of orchids, attached by a light purple ribbon, with the following inscription:— "In respectful remembrance from the Executive Government of New Brunswick." Hon. Samuel Adams of New York, sent a beautiful tribute, a crown of violets, and also Hon. Chas. F. Miller, agent general for N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. W. Winslow, Woodstock, contributed a cross composed of calla lilies, violets and roses.

Mrs. Stephen Smith, Woodstock, a cross of calla lilies and calla lilies. The immediate cause of the Governor's death was pulmonary oedema, dropsy of the lungs, resulting from cold taken on the sea voyage. He was conscious to the last.

On Saturday, the remains of the late Governor were placed in the Assembly room, a life-size and life-like, oval portrait of deceased for which his Honor sat, last spring, at Fredericton, at request of his government.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. It was a fine pageant. Every evidence of honor, "pomp and circumstance" was provided. The city was filled with people who had come from all points of the province to attend the funeral, while Fredericton's citizens, of course, swelled the numbers in the immense procession which attended the bier from the Parliament building to the Cathedral, and thence to the many in carriages went to Forest Hill Cemetery where the body was interred.

The pall bearers were the Chief Justice and Justices of the Supreme Court, attended by a military escort. His Lordship Bishop Kingston officiated at the Cathedral, assisted by Rev. J. Roy Campbell and Ven. Archdeacon Brigstocke. Immediately following the mourners came Governor McMillan and staff, members of the Executive, etc.

Among those who went from Woodstock to attend the late rites were Ven. Archdeacon N. A. Fisher, W. M. Connolly, J. N. W. Winslow, J. T. A. Dwyer, M. P. P., Robt. Brown, C. L. Smith, M. P. P., H. H. McQuinn, M. P. P., Dr. R. E. Gay Smith.

Schools Examination.

The public examination of the town schools took place on Wednesday. The attendance of visitors was not large, but the presentation made by the several schools was good.

Miss Bessie Good, teacher of the VII and VIII grades in the College building, and who has held a most efficient position, much to the regret of the trustees and pupils. At the examination, Wednesday, she was given a very handsome and expensive lamp, accompanied by the following, which speaks for itself.

ADDRESS.
Miss Bessie Good, Teacher of Grades 7 and 8, Woodstock, N. B.

DEAR MISS GOOD:—It is with sincere regret that we, your pupils, learn that you intend to resign your position as teacher here and that, therefore, the relation which has been so long sustained between us, as teacher and pupils, will soon be severed.

Our associations have been so most pleasant and we fondly trust that any thoughtless act done by any of us or any intention to study has been this been by you forgotten and forgiven.

We also cherish the hope that you will ever retain in grateful memory some pleasant recollections of the hours spent amongst us.

We wish hereby to assure you that your efforts on our behalf have been greatly appreciated, and we fully realize that the many who are about to follow you from this school will be the better for your discharge of duty.

As a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us, we ask you to accept this lamp which we present to you, not on account of its intrinsic value, but on account of the love and good will which prompts the gift.

In whatever position in life you may be placed, whether as teacher in a public school or an educator in the home circle, be well and prosper, and may all your efforts be crowned with success.

In conclusion we wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Dated this sixteenth day of December, A. D. 1896.

On behalf of your school,
Yours very sincerely,

Elia Colter, Annie Colter, Jessie Porter, Faye Chamber, Frank N. Fisher, Ida Hay, Harry McLaughlin, Oscar M. Lancaster, Annie Chy, Tricie Sanderson, Lucie, Ernest C. Smith, Daisy Hay, Pearl Allerton, Mabelle Sherwood, Katie McFarlane, Michael Brewer, Madeline Collins, Joseph Corkery, Harry Lee, Daisy Hughes, Ethel Baird, May Dugan, Vera Brewer, Ogil Hamilton, Hugh Wright, Kate Brown, Bertha, Helen McLeod, Mammie Archibald, Archie Munro, Tillie Winslow, Clara Jones, Joseph, Daniel Campbell, Violet Watson, Nellie Gabel, Nell McLeod, Willie Connelley, Louis Milmore, Helen Marcy, Ida Hall.

Miss Good was so taken by surprise that she could not trust herself to reply and called upon G. L. V. who was present, to respond for her. He did so in very fitting terms, and was followed in complimentary remarks by J. R. Murphy.

In Miss McGillivray's school two prizes given by Major Vince for history and spelling were captured, respectively, by Ernest White and Marion Gibbins.

Police Court.

On the 10th three Italian laborers on the W. & C. Ry. at Centerville, known by number, their real names not known, Nos. 228, 230 and 232 were brought before the Police Magistrate, charged with intimidating other workmen, on the road, and endeavoring to prevent their working. J. C. Hartley appeared for the complainant, J. R. Murphy for the prisoners. Smith & Hay are the employers of this crew, Duncan McLeod being in charge. A number of the men had formerly struck. On Tuesday, 8th, Duncan McLeod, his brother Daniel, W. C. Cronk, H. Kinney and Fred Stewart, were at work in a cutting, when the three accused came up to them and told them they must stop work. They did not use force to any extent, though one Italian seized hold of the hair of Daniel McLeod and tried to force it out of his hand. The magistrate fined the Italians $5 each, payment to stand suspended on good behavior.

Upper Kintore F. & D. Ass'n.

At the annual meeting of the Upper Kintore Farmers and Dairyman's Association, recently held, the president, John Connor presiding, the following were elected officers for the year:—

Andrew Phillips, president; Wm Christie, vice president; William Oulton, secretary; treasurer, D. Curry, A. Curry, G. Barclay, J. Ferguson and J. D. Barclay.

D. C. Curry, delegates to the annual meeting of the Farmers and Dairyman's Association at Fredericton.

An interesting address was made by Mr. W. Phillips, on the development of the short horn to the high place which that herd now holds among beef cattle, and an article by Mr. Lewis Allan, on the same subject, was read.

A discussion followed on the improvement of the breed of cattle.

A paper will be read, at the next meeting, on the care of cows in winter, by W. Oulton.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

JOTTINGS.

See advt. of Shaw & Dibblee, Hartland, regarding lamps.

Rev. Dr. Chapman, and Rev. J. B. Gough, Hartland, exchanged duties on Sabbath.

Burtt & Lee has a very fine stock of Silverware and Cutlery for Xmas trade. See advt.

Calendars. Neat and handy calendars come to us from Ham & Smith, Oak Hall, Almon H. Fogg, Carr & Gibson.

The Baird Company's stock of Import Perfumes and Soaps is unusually large and well assorted.

Master Frank Fisher fell on the ice Tuesday and inflicted a severe cut on his eye. Dr. Colter had to take six stitches.

Call at the Up-Town grocery and inspect our Raisins and Cleaned Currants. Great bargains will be given until Jan. 1st, 1897. L. A. Vanwart.

A new lot of Puff and Soap Boxes. A pretty Soap Box with a cake of French Toilet would make a nice present: what do you think? Garden Bros., Druggists.

The ladies are again reminded of the fact that the cheap sale of Millinery still continues at Mrs. Bailey's. It will close soon, so that you need to hurry in order to get great bargains.

Possibly we sometimes err in the same way as does our esteemed and valued contemporary the Co-Operative Farmer, in not duly crediting articles of local interest copied from the Starfax.

Henry Sutton met with a painful accident, while working about a circular saw, Tuesday morning. He lost his finger, and his thumb and middle finger were nearly cut off. Dr. Sprague dressed the wound.

The school register was taken from the school house at Hartland, a short time since. The trustees will pay a handsome reward to anyone giving such information as will lead to the conviction of the offender.

Miss Maud Haydon, who for years has been an invalid, passed away at the residence of her father, Mr. W. P. Haydon, on Saturday. She was a very highly esteemed young lady and the sorrowing parents have universal sympathy.

There will be a Sacred Concert given in the Methodist church at Oakville, on Dec. 18th, it will consist of solos, duets, choruses, etc., and be under the direction of J. A. R. Adams. Admission 10 cents. The concert will begin at half-past seven.

Attention is called to the advertisement of H. S. Cruikshank, St. John, in this paper. Parties in want of floral tributes, for festive or solemn occasions, may be sure of having their orders satisfactorily filled by sending them to Mr. Cruikshank.

A constant want in this County is now provided for by the arrival of S. O. Richards, D. V. S. who, as his card in this paper indicates, offers his services as a Veterinary Surgeon. The doctor is a graduate of McGill, which, of itself, is a strong recommendation.

The body of Amos L. Boyer, whose death at Denor we recorded last week, reached Hartland on Friday 11th inst., via, Edmundston. The members of Woodstock Lodge, F. & A. M., of which deceased was a member, held an impressive memorial service at Hartland on Friday afternoon.

The members of the W. C. T. U. and all the friends who kindly assist in sending gifts to the less favored of our citizens, will kindly send their contributions to W. C. T. U. Hall in Graham's building, on Thursday, Dec. 24th, where a committee of ladies will be in attendance to receive and distribute them. Mrs. H. Hosmer, Cor. Sec'y. W. C. T. U.

As another evidence of the excellent character of Connell Bros. Shingle machines it may be stated that some few weeks ago the firm sold one of these machines to a party in Quebec, on trial, it gave such good satisfaction, that on Monday last a cash order came from the same party for another of the machines. Connell Bros. are also putting up two of their machines to fill orders from Ontario.

Our modest request, a week ago, that subscribers would look at the direction label on their papers, has been kindly received and attended to in many instances, for which our thanks. One esteemed subscriber who had allowed the years to go by unnoticed called and paid for arrears and in advance sixteen years subscriptions. There are a good many who are about to follow, and we are pleased to see the coming Christmas a happy one for the SENTINEL.

Elder G. W. Sederquist, Evangelist who is holding revival services in the Advent church, will continue the services each evening at 7.30 until Sunday 20th inst., and as much longer as may be deemed advisable. Preaching service Sunday at 3.30 p. m., by the Evangelist; subject, The Scriptures their importance and Profitableness. This is a very important and interesting subject and will be ably presented. Everybody who can should make a special effort to be present; the Elder will use a chart to illustrate his subject thus making it more interesting.

All our novelties—like Albums, Toilet Cases, and things of that sort—are moving off. The low prices that we sell them at, accounts for it. Garden Bros., Druggists.

A large number, fifty or more, of the children, grand children, friends and acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Traflet, assembled at their residence, Main street, on Wednesday evening, to give them kindly greetings on the fortieth anniversary of their marriage.

A delightful evening was spent in conversation, music, speeches, refreshments, etc. Varied and valuable presents were made the esteemed host and hostess, some remembrances coming from friends in the far west.

We need not again remind our readers that Christmas is about here; but we may remind them that an excellent idea to the places at which they may, to the best advantage, make their Christmas purchases, will be found in our advertising columns. It is impossible, in our space, to enumerate the goods on display to choose from, and that the several proprietors had never displayed more taste and judgment in selection and display of goods.

Upper Kintore F. & D. Ass'n.

At the annual meeting of the Upper Kintore Farmers and Dairyman's Association, recently held, the president, John Connor presiding, the following were elected officers for the year:—

Andrew Phillips, president; Wm Christie, vice president; William Oulton, secretary; treasurer, D. Curry, A. Curry, G. Barclay, J. Ferguson and J. D. Barclay.

D. C. Curry, delegates to the annual meeting of the Farmers and Dairyman's Association at Fredericton.

An interesting address was made by Mr. W. Phillips, on the development of the short horn to the high place which that herd now holds among beef cattle, and an article by Mr. Lewis Allan, on the same subject, was read.

A discussion followed on the improvement of the breed of cattle.

A paper will be read, at the next meeting, on the care of cows in winter, by W. Oulton.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire marble, the top of the tomb. The tomb is about 2 feet 6 inches high. Carved on the bevelled edge of the grey slab is a Latin inscription in the English of which is: "John Medley, D.D., first Bishop of the diocese of this Cathedral, Metropolitan of Canada, died Sept. 9th, 1892."

Games for the little ones—5c., 10c., 15c., and up. They please the children and are instructive. Better look them over. We've a lot of Toys, very cheap. Garden Bros., Druggists.

The Baird Company advertise a good line of Christmas goods in this issue.

THE MONUMENT.

A recumbent figure, almost heroic in size, of the late Metropolitan in his robes, with mitre and pastoral staff. The figure is cut in pure white Carrara marble and the features are remarkably life-like. The sculptor was an artist of rare skill and his ability is shown in the beautiful and graceful folds of the garments, and in the delicate embroidery on them. So well has the work been done that the observer can easily distinguish the stiff folds of the satin gown from the soft "crush" of the lighter sleeve material. The workmanship in every respect is perfect and the figure is a most beautiful one. It rests on a slab of grey Devonshire