"O yes, I'm a richt," came the feeble reply.
"You are sure there is nothing troubling you? Do not be afraid to tell me." The old man seemed to hesitate, and at length, with a faint return of animation said: "Well, there's just as thing that troubles me, but I diana like to speak o't."

"Believe me, I am most anxious to comfort you," replied the clergyman. "Tell me what it is that troubles and perplexes you."

Office boy - Doctor, that red-headed Mrs. Squanch came in while you were out and ripped around awfully!

She called you a quack and a fraud and a scoundrel, and threatened to have you arrested or sued or something.

Dr. Tombs - Great Scott! What was the matter with her?

Office boy - Why, she said you told her that her husband could not recover, and she went and sold all his clothes to a second-hand dealer. And now he is getting well as fast as he possibly can.

Summerman - Well, this is unusual! Why, you are putting all the big apples in the bottoms of the barrels and the little ones on top.

Uncle Hiram - Yes. Those fellows in the city are getting' all so-called cures; they open the barrels from the bottom to see whether we farmers be tryin' to cheat them.
