Miscellaneous.

An itinerant parson tells that way out in the back woods' he came, one day, to a settler's house, and entered to have a talk with its inmates. The old woman of the house became much interested in the preacher's discourse, and requested that he conduct family worship. She also insisted upon hunting up her family

Bible, to be used upon the occasion.

She left the room to look up the Bible, but seemed to have hard work finding it. The minutes passed, and she came not. The preacher had time to grow impatient before the old woman reappeared, with a few tattered leaves in her hand. She handed them over, with an apologetic air. 'I'm awfully sorry, parson,' she exclaimed, 'but the fact is, I didn t know I was so near out of Bibles!'

The following is a story told of a doctor at one of the London hopitals: He was one day lecturing to a class of medi-cal students, when he stopped and asked a question which for some time none of them answered. But one man, who had never answered a question before, and was looked upon as the fool of the class, answered him correctly. The doctor

'You look surprised, sir,' said the tudent. 'So did Balaam!' was the docfor's sharp reply.
