The Plebiscite and Franchise Bills.

These two measures bear an important relation to each other. As passed by the Commons the plebiscite was to be taken on the provincial lists as provided in the new franchise bill. The Senate has made some amend concurred in by the Minister of Justice.

The grave question now is will the Gov ernment and the Commons concur in the amendments to the franchise bill made by the Senate, if not then probably the bill will be withdrawn, and in that case the only hope for having effect given to the plebiscite will be by an amendment now proposed in the Senate providing for the vote to be taken on the existing Dominion franchise lists.

Government Visit.

Hon. Chief Commissioner of Public Work Hon, Prov. Secretary Tweedie and Hon. L P. Ferris arrived in town on Saturday and returned to Fredericton Wedneeday morning. They came as a committee of the Executive to examine the new Bul Creek bridge, with which structure they report themselves well satisfied, and to investigate a claim of F. H. Hale and John Graham for land damage at the town approach to the river bridge. The SENTINEL is assured that no ulterior object such as a general election, is concerned with this visit, which is made at an opportune time to wites the splendid showing which the country men possessed of good conscience and good

What Brings Success to the Young Man in Business Life. So much advice is given to the young man that it is no wonder when he gets to that was, "I will not answer any question this stage in life where he must depend on himself, he hesitates and hardly knows what to do. If he decides for what vocation in life he is fitted and puts into it the necessary energy, he will succeed in most cases. Today we often see young men pursuing etudies which they will never apply and which will be of no use to them in after life. If these same young men could utilize the time wasted in this way in something will apply in their contemplated vocations, age. the statement made that any study that a boy pursues will be beneficial. We will not attempt to deny that statement, since the statement that more work on special branch es will produce better results is a strong one. The man who succeeds to-day is not the man who knows a little about everything and not much about anything, but it is the man who knows his own business thoroughly and who has devoted his time to it, and not to getting a smattering of a hundred other things which he will not apply. If the young man contemplates a business career and will devote his time to the things which he must know and apply every day, he will be far more young man, who contemplates engaging in ness, should get a training in some good business college, for in it he will get the training which the business world demands. In order to get a start to day, he must have a knowledge of business and with this knowwill be able to get an opening and will have overcome one difficulty. Once he has got this start, he must remember that there is plenty of work and good pay for those who do well what the world wants done. He must not be of the number of young men who stan around with soap locks and scented pocket handkerchiefs, tipping their hate to the ladies while instead of waiting for business to come to them, they ought to go to work and make a business. The Sun gives the following, dated the 7th The Senate to-day was in committee on the plebiscite bill. Senator Sullivan and Senator O'Donohue opposed the bill and also the principle. Mr Vidal repeated his decla ration that the plebiscite was not asked for by the temperance people. He proposed to strike out of the question all mention of rapidly the kinds of liquor, leaving only the words 'alcoholic liquore,' Hon Mr Scott said that the amendment would make the bill wbolly us less. The amendment was lost on division. On the clause requiring the plebisci e vote to be taken by the machinery of the franchise bill before the house, Sir Mackenzie asked whether the plebisoite vote would be taken in case the franchise bill did not become law. The scoretary of state did not think the
