EXTRACT FROM ANNUAL REPORT for 1897 of the consulting Chemist of the

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF ENGLAND,

Published in their Journal 31st December, 1897, page 732

"It has been necessary to call attention to the fact that under the name of 'slag,' and sometimes "even under that of 'basic slag,' have been sold refuse materials of a very different character, and "having little or no manurial value. These have not been the product of the now well-known "'Basic' or THOMAS process of iron or steel making, and have contained little or no phosphoric "acid such as basic phosphate has In several instances the purchasers believed that they were "buying the true basic slag. It behooves one, therefore, to be careful to stipulate for THOMAS "PHOSPHATE, and to have a guarantee of phosphoric acid contained, and a fineness of division."

Miscellaneous.

'Are you a native of this town?' asked a traveler of a resident of a sleepy little Southern hamlet.

'Am I what?'

'Are you a native of the town?'

'Hey?'

'Are you a native of this place?'

'At that moment his wife, tall and sallow and gaunt, appeared at the open door of the cabin, and, taking her pipe from behind her teeth, said acridly:

'Ain't ye got no sense, Jim? He means wuz ye livin' here when you wuz born, or wuz ye born before you begun livin' here? Understand'im? Now answer him.'

Mrs Hayseed—Yes, I had some city boarders durin th' summer, but I didn't interdooce 'em around much 'cause I saw they wasn't fust class folks what goes out of the city every summer.

Neighbor—Oh! They showed they'd never been in the country before, did they?

Mrs Hayseed—Yes, indeed. Why, the very fust meal they asked for cream.

Jaggs—What's good for insomnia doctor?

Doctor—How long have you been troubled with it?

Jaggs—Oh, I haven't got it at all but my wife has. Sometimes she doesn't get to sleep until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

Doctor—Well I'd advise you to try going home earlier.

VOLUNTARY TESTIMONY

Worth Having from a Well-Known Physician.

Two weeks ago, I caught cold and now have pleurisy of the right lung. Since I had a blister on, I find nothing relieves the pain and soreness better than MINARD'S LINIMENT. I have gotten up in the night when I could not rest and, after applying the Liniment, it would soothe me so much that I would always soon fall asleep. I never used it on myself before and, to tell you the truth, had no more faith in it than any other liniment, but there is something in it that really acts wonderfully.

Dr Gaudet has been attending me and I told him how it acted and he was much surprised.

This is no humbug but a genuine expression of my experience and you can make what use you like of it.

GEO. BELL, M. D.

Meteghan, N S.

'Say, uncle, what do you call your dog by such an outlandish name as 'Tonic'? Queer, isn't it?'

'Well, I have a reason, of course. I call him 'Tonic,' because he is such a fearful mixture of bark, steal and whine.'

Dr Chase Cures Catarrh After Operations Fail.

Toronto, March 16th, 1897.

My boy, aged fourteen, has been a sufferer from Catarrh, and lately we submitted him to an operation at the General Hospital. Since then we have resorted to Dr Chase's Catarrh Cure, and one box of this medicine has made a prompt and complete cure.

H G FORD,

She—What did you think of the ministers expression of the belief that the world would soon come to an end?

He—I was rather inclined to think it would before he got through with his sermon.—

A Substantial Gain.

"I was very weak and hardly able to walk. My blood was thin and I was as pale as death. Being told about Hood's Sarsaparilla I began taking it and, in a few months, I had gained twenty pounds in weight. I kept on with it until I was as well as ever." ARTHUR MILLS, Dresden, Ontario

'Paddy, do you know how to drive?' said a traveler to the owner of a jaunting car.

Oxford Triple Heater, For Wood.

THIS HEATER solves the problem—with a minimum of fuel it produces a maximum of heat. It uses no more fuel than a box stove, but it circulates the air of the whole house. Without the expense of the hot air furnace, it provides conditions exactly similar. The air may be taken from out of doors and circulated through the tubular linings of the stove and thrown fresh into the house, or the air of the house itself may be circulated at the will of the operator.

The work done by this stove is incredible to any one who has not seen it operate. Will heat three times as much space as the ordinary stove, with less consumption of fuel than any stove in the market. As to construction, the heater is made to last. Although seemingly a modern sized stove, it weighs over 400 lbs. We have sold several of these stoves and they are giving perfect satisfaction. We are now heating our store with one of these stoves. Call and see it work.

We also have a full line of Cook and Parlor Franklins. Our prices are as low as the lowest, and every stove we sell we guarantee. We would be pleased to have the public call and look our line over which we now have on exhibition, as we are sure we can please you in style, quality and price.
