

H. V. Dalling,
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN,
Woodstock, N. B.
False Economy of Cheap Spectacles.

Sight is too precious to trifle with.
When buying spectacles buy a good pair.
We use perfect lenses.
They cost a little more than the commoner kinds, but the difference in comfort is worth many times the difference in price.
Eyes examined free.

HELLO!
IF YOU WANT ANYTHING IN WATCHES, CLOCKS,
JEWELRY OR SILVERWARE,
or your eyes tested and fitted to glasses in a scientific manner, just give us a call.
We guarantee your satisfaction.
All Repairing done promptly and promptly.
Mail orders promptly attended to.
Don't forget the place—
H. V. Dalling's Blue Front Jewelry Store,
No. 53, Main St., Woodstock, N. B.

ROYAL HOTEL,
41, 43 and 45 KING STREET
ST. JOHN, N. B.
RAYMOND & DORRIS, Proprietors.
W. E. RAYMOND. (10) H. A. DORRIS.

BARKER HOUSE,
Queen Street, - Fredericton, N. B.
All modern improvements in the several services and conveniences.
FRED. B. COLEMAN, Prop.
Feb. 15, 1908-1909.

QUEEN HOTEL,
FREDERICTON, N. B.
J. EDWARDS, - - - Proprietor.
First-Class Livery Stable in Connection.

EATING HOUSE.
McAdam Junction.
The subscriber having become proprietor of the McAdam Junction Restaurant will maintain and improve upon the reputation it has heretofore enjoyed.
Meals served on arrival of all trains and plenty of time given to enjoy them. The bill of fare includes every luxury in season and is served by competent and attentive waiters.
A well provided lunch counter for those desiring lunch.

U. S. BRANNAN,
Proprietor.
Sept. 16, 1908 - 1909.

JUNCTION HOUSE,
Newburg Junction.
R. B. OWENS, - - Proprietor.
Meals on arrival of trains. First-Class Fare.

DR. S. PUGSLEY,
DENTIST,
Office, over Collins' Book Store.
44 MAIN ST., WOODSTOCK, N. B.
P. O. Box 200. 12-9-07

W. D. CAMBER,
DENTIST.
NITROGEN OXIDE GAS used for the PAINLESS EXTRACTION OF TEETH.
OFFICE—In Connell's Wooden Block, 12 Main St.

J. J. GALLAGHER,
Barrister-at-Law,
NOTARY, SOLICITOR, &c.
OFFICE—Upstairs Payson's Building, Corner
Main and Connell Streets, Woodstock, N. B.

CHARLES COMBEN,
Barrister, Solicitor,
CONVEYANCER, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Accounts Collected and Loans Negotiated.

T. J. CARTER, LL.B.,
Barrister, Notary Public,
Conveyancer, &c.
ANDOVER, VICTORIA COUNTY, N. B.

THOS. LAWSON,
BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
NOTARY PUBLIC.
ANDOVER, VICTORIA COUNTY.
COLLECTIONS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

W. FRED. KERTSON,
BARRISTER, NOTARY PUBLIC, &c.
Grand Falls, N. B.
Judge of Probate, Clerk of the Circuit and County Courts, Victoria County.

IRA G. HERSEY,
Attorney & Counselor at Law
AND
NOTARY PUBLIC.
Will Practice in all the Courts of the State.
Prompt attention given to Collections. Return to any bank or leading Merchant in Montreal.
Office—No. 40 Main Street.
Residence—No. 3 Winter Street.
Burlington, Maine.

I. W. N. BAKER, M.D.,
SPECIALIST
IN DISEASES OF THE Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a.m.; 2 to 5 p.m., or by appointment.
Office—Chapel Street, opposite the Bank,
Woodstock, N. B. (12-4)

DR. W. N. HAND,
Office and Residence. : : : :
Next Door South P. Moanna,
ROADWAY, WOODSTOCK, N. B.

T. F. SPRAGUE, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
CORNER MAIN AND ALBERT STREETS,
Woodstock, N. B.

W. W. HAY,
AUCTIONEER,
AND ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Office—"Glasgow House," Woodstock, N. B.
There's no use minding matters, my dear. The fact is, you are not an expert cook.
She—I think the trouble is that you do not know what good cooking is.
He—And evidently you do not intend I shall ever become any wiser.

The Carleton Sentinel

Gay, Queen and Constitution.

Vol. LII.—50

WOODSTOCK, N. B., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1900

WHOLE NO.—2863.

NOTICE!

Notice is hereby given that in virtue of The Act of the Dominion Parliament, 63 and 64 Victoria, Chapter 103 and Chapter 104, the name of THE MERCHANTS BANK OF HALIFAX will be changed to

"The Royal Bank of Canada,"
from and after the second day of January, 1901.

E. L. PEASE,
General Manager.
Halifax, 1st November, 1900.—3m45

Poetry.

December.

Where hath the summer fled? 'Tis but a Sigh, 'tis but a warm mantle lay upon the hill.
Her mellow song,
Like blue-toned sweet and long,
Still answered to the tarrying woodbird's trill.

But now the dying leaves drop still down
Through scarred spaces to their lowly rest,
Or, watering, lie
About the foot of the sky,
'Till earth compels them to her wooing brest.

Where hath the summer fled? This way
she passed,
Nor one reluctant look backward cast.
I heard her sigh,
But never one high
For you and me, who loved her to the last.

Here, while the glowing embers smoulder
low,
From all the busy, troublous world apart,
D or God above,
I pray that the rich love
Make one perpetual summer in my heart.

Select Tale.

THE BLESSING OF JIM ROBBINS.

Spencer Gifford was quite ready to admit that he was just an average sort of fellow. That was really all he could say to be. What he could do he did fairly well, but he did just as little as was decently possible. At college he had done in a little for athletics, and made a very creditable record, but he shrank from anything really brilliant.
He was a good scholar, too, but was quite willing to rank with the intellectual second raters. When he left college, he went abroad and dived into an innumerable way, and came home with few impressions that he cared to mention.
Then he went in for society, and there seemed to be reasonably contented.
Society amused him and wasn't too exacting. Society called him Jim; he was young, handsome, clever and rich.

And yet he would admit that he felt a little conscience-stricken when Anna Goldie gravely asked him one day about his future hopes. There was a look in her eyes that he didn't like when he laughed off the query. It set him to thinking, and thinking was an occupation he rarely indulged in. Thinking almost dismayed him. He avoided Anna Goldie for a time, and found that still more disquieting. And then just as he was thinking he would invent another tale with her on the original disquieting subject she suddenly went away. She went, they told him, to visit an invalid aunt in the interior of the state. She might be gone some time. It was more a visit of duty than of pleasure, and she would be back in a few days, and then the matter of the legislature or something. He saw Jim's name in the papers occasionally. Jim was a rising man.

At the days were along the desire to visit Jim grew upon him. He had a standing invitation to come down at any time. There was a pressing note in his desk of quite recent date in which was told of the treat he was up on the West hill. He's a great hunter, Jim is.
He was going to the state senate next fall. Friend of yours?

'Yes,' said Spencer, 'an old friend.
Come down to visit him.'
'Tell you what you do,' said the clerk.
'Jim is the chairman, toastmaster, whatever you call it, of the big banquet at Raymond hall to-night. It's a complementary feed given in honor of Colonel Jack Speed, who is home for a brief
visit, and everybody pretty much, is going. Colonel Speed is our congressman, you know, and he's in high favor
in Palmyra. Hon. Dwight Perkins from somewhere out west, one of the big national lions of the house, is to be the speaker of the occasion, and they'll have plenty to eat and good music. Better go over.'

A half hour later Spencer ascended the stairway of Raymond hall. He noticed a number of ladies in the crowd that steadily marched into the hall, and he was rather glad to find that the banquet was not to be of the usual political for men only character. At the head of the stairs he noticed a door standing open, and looking through into the brightly lighted anteroom he saw his old friend. The impulse was too strong to resist, and he passed in the doorway and held out his hand.

'What's the matter with Jim Robbins?'
he laughingly asked.
'What mischief are you up to?' he cried. 'But here, I'm in the way. Don't let me bother you. I'll see you in the morning.' And he drew back and half turned to the door.

'Hold on,' cried Jim, with a plunge at him, 'you don't get away from me tonight. You stay right here until I can properly dispose of you.'

Hon. Jack Speed was seated at Jim's right and Spencer at his left, much to the latter's increased uneasiness. Then the banquet commenced, and for an hour the clatter and chatter continued
without a break. Jim was as delig-ent as of yore, dividing his attention
very equally between the guest of the evening and Spencer, but he was heartily welcomed back. Hon. Mr.
Speed to Palmyra. Then Hon. Mr.
Speed responded in a brisk speech,
testifying to his delight in returning home to such friends and such a welcome, a sentiment which was greeted with loud applause. Then he rose again, with a crumpled telegram in his hand. He much regretted, he said,
to be obliged to announce that Hon.
Dwight Perkins could not be with them.
A telegram he had just received announced a railway accident that had killed the road and held back Mr. Perkins, 60 miles away.

'Our regret, however,' said Jim, 'is somewhat mitigated by the fact that we
fortunately have with us as an honored
guest one of the most prominent of New York's political and social leaders, Mr.
Spencer Gifford, who will talk to us on the question of the hour.'

As Jim sat down a patter of applause
ran round the hall and the long lines
of faces assumed an expectant expression.
'Remember your old debating Jim-
mies,' whispered the perfidious Jim,
and sat still.

Spencer gave him a horrible scowl as he rose to his feet. Then he turned to the audience with a pleasant smile. He put his teeth together with a pleasant smile. He would not be bluffed. And deep down in his soul he felt gratified that Jim, despite his consummate meanness, had confided in him. Jim knew he would not be bluffed. He would say a word or two and retire as gracefully as possible.

When Spencer, after an eloquent wind up, finally took his seat the applause was vigorous and loud drawn out, and Jim,
his face flushed and his eyes sparkling,
grabbed Spencer's hand under the table
and squeezed it hard and said, 'Great,
my boy, great! You ought to get down on your knees to me for bringing you
out.'

'When it was all over Jim said, 'We must get our coats and hunt up Minnie.
Minnie is Mrs. Jim. She's a little jail-
bird.'

He arrived at Palmyra early in the evening. He had meant to reach there this afternoon, but the train was delayed. He hadn't told Jim just what day he would start, and so his old friend was thithering over his non-appearance.
Spencer concluded he would look Jim up in the morning. He went to the hotel and had his supper. After supper he strolled up to the clerk's desk and inquired about his friend.

'Oh, Jim Robbins?' cried the clerk.
'Yes, yes. Jim is one of our leading citizens. He's a great hunter, Jim is.
He's going to the state senate next fall. Friend of yours?'

'Yes,' said Spencer, 'an old friend.
Come down to visit him.'

'Tell you what you do,' said the clerk.
'Jim is the chairman, toastmaster, whatever you call it, of the big banquet at Raymond hall to-night. It's a complementary feed given in honor of Colonel
Jack Speed, who is home for a brief
visit, and everybody pretty much, is going. Colonel Speed is our congressman, you know, and he's in high favor
in Palmyra. Hon. Dwight Perkins from somewhere out west, one of the big
national lions of the house, is to be the speaker of the occasion, and they'll have plenty to eat and good music. Better

go over.'

A half hour later Spencer ascended
the stairway of Raymond hall. He
noticed a number of ladies in the crowd
that steadily marched into the hall, and he was rather glad to find that the banquet was not to be of the usual political
for men only character. At the head of the stairs he noticed a door standing
open, and looking through into the
brightly lighted anteroom he saw his old friend. The impulse was too strong to resist, and he passed in the doorway and
held out his hand.

'What's the matter with Jim Robbins?'
he laughingly asked.
'What mischief are you up to?' he cried. 'But here, I'm in the way. Don't let me bother you. I'll see you in the morning.' And he drew back and half
turned to the door.

'Hold on,' cried Jim, with a plunge at him, 'you don't get away from me tonight. You stay right here until I can properly dispose of you.'

Hon. Jack Speed was seated at Jim's
right and Spencer at his left, much to
the latter's increased uneasiness. Then
the banquet commenced, and for an
hour the clatter and chatter continued
without a break. Jim was as delig-
ent as of yore, dividing his attention
very equally between the guest of the evening and Spencer, but he was
heartily welcomed back. Hon. Mr.
Speed to Palmyra. Then Hon. Mr.
Speed responded in a brisk speech,
testifying to his delight in returning
home to such friends and such a welcome, a sentiment which was greeted with loud applause. Then he rose
again, with a crumpled telegram in his hand. He much regretted, he said,
to be obliged to announce that Hon.
Dwight Perkins could not be with them.
A telegram he had just received announced a railway accident that had killed the road and held back Mr. Perkins, 60 miles away.

'Our regret, however,' said Jim, 'is
somewhat mitigated by the fact that we
fortunately have with us as an honored
guest one of the most prominent of New York's political and social leaders, Mr.
Spencer Gifford, who will talk to us on
the question of the hour.'

As Jim sat down a patter of applause
ran round the hall and the long lines
of faces assumed an expectant expression.
'Remember your old debating Jim-
mies,' whispered the perfidious Jim,
and sat still.

Spencer gave him a horrible scowl as
he rose to his feet. Then he turned to the audience with a pleasant smile. He put his teeth together with a pleasant
smile. He would not be bluffed. And deep down in his soul he felt gratified that Jim, despite
his consummate meanness, had confided in him. Jim knew he would not be bluffed. He would say a word or two
and retire as gracefully as possible.

When Spencer, after an eloquent wind
up, finally took his seat the applause was
vigorous and loud drawn out, and Jim,
his face flushed and his eyes sparkling,
grabbed Spencer's hand under the table
and squeezed it hard and said, 'Great,
my boy, great! You ought to get down
on your knees to me for bringing you
out.'

'When it was all over Jim said, 'We must get our coats and hunt up Minnie.
Minnie is Mrs. Jim. She's a little jail-
bird.'

Now is the time to leave your order for one of our Celebrated

LITTLE GIANT THRESHERS

Before the Rush Commences.

All the Latest Improvements, with Steel Lag Rods, Chilled Trucks and Malleable Lag Links. Our long experience in the manufacture of Machines, together with the personal inspection that is given to every department of the construction justifies us in saying that our "LITTLE GIANT" has no superior either for workmanship, durability, or any other respect.

SMALL & FISHER CO.

Slater Shoe Leathers
The output of "Slater Shoes" is so large that the makers are able to control their own fashions in most leathers.
"Canuck Calf," made from the best selected calfskins, in black, light and medium tan and seal brown.
"Kiduck" in black and seal brown, from selected Patna goatskins.
Both leathers are wear and tear resisting, porous and therefore sanitary.
There are also "Best French Patent," "French Enamel," "Peerless Russia" and "American Wax Calf."

BAILEY BROS., Sole Local Agents.

SCHOOL BOOKS!

We have a Full Supply of all the SCHOOL BOOKS to be used. Our Stock of Scribblers, Slates, Exercise Books,

Pens, Holders, Ink and Pencils,
School Bags, Spellers, Readers, Histories, IS COMPLETE, AT BEST PRICES.

Everett's Book Store

No. 6 Main Street, - - Near Bridge.

After Typhoid

GO TO
JACOB VANWART'S
FOR YOUR
Linoleums
AND Oil Cloths.

Best Goods and Latest
Patterns in the market.
Largest Assortment to choose from ever shown in this city.

Furniture of all Kinds.
Undertaking a Specialty.
Funerals Personally Attended.
Call at our Warerooms and inspect our handsome line of Furniture.

JACOB VANWART,
Hate's Building, King Street
South Side Bridge, Main St.

A. HENDERSON.
Woodstock, Dec. 5, 1900.

SPECIAL SALE
OF
CARPETS.
Great Closing Out of Carpets.

All Wool Carpets,
Cotton and Wool Carpets,
Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Straw Matting and
Oil Cloths.

These must be cleared out away below the regular prices.

Call and see what we have got and what we offer.

SAUNDERS BROS.

Local & Foreign Items.

The yield of oats in the Province of Ontario this year was 86,893,327 bushels.

In Holland no landlord has the power of raising the rent nor of evicting the tenant.
The year's output of timber from the Ottawa valley will be about 400,000,000 feet.

More than 50,000 tons of merchant shipping were built in the State of Maine this year.

Oscar Wilde, whose illness was recorded some time since, died in abject poverty in Paris last week.

According to the American Lawyer there are in the United States no fewer than 250,000 habitual criminals.

Scott's Emulsion amounting to $1,394.25
has been collected in Montreal since the 1st
May to November 1st of this year.

Forty applications have been sent in by Canadian who are desirous of serving in Hedge-Powell's Transatlantic Constabulary.

In the last fifty years a hundred thousand Methodists have left the shores of Ireland for other countries, yet there is a steady increase in the membership.

The population of Sydney is now, at the lowest estimate, 12,000, but some say that the census will show a population of from 16,000 to 20,000.

In case of a severe frost the Sarapawille hails the times, builds up the system, expels impurities from the blood and cures.

In Norway before a girl is allowed to marry she must have a state certificate that she can cook.

If the care of the hair were made a part of a lady's education, we should not see so many gray heads, and the use of Hall's Hair Restorer would be unnecessary.

A special despatch from Naples says that the steamer St. Marco, trading between Naples and Marseilles, has been wrecked and lost 45 passengers and a part of her crew are lost.

Minard's Limestone Cures Diphtheria.
The town of Nashville, Ark., had a $100, 000 fire, Dec. 6th, which originated in the Opera House, located in a block of frame buildings.

WANTED—ACTIVE MAN OF GOOD CHARacter to deliver and collect in New Brunswick for old established manufacturing, wholesale house. $800 a year, euro pay. Honestly managed experience required. Own references any bank in any city. Enclose self addressed stamp, envelope, name, address.

Most encouraging reports of the Ovario-condition are given out, and there seems to be a good prospect of his recovery.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure.
25c. E. W. Grove's Quinine is on each box.

The lambskins predict, in spite of the present mildness, that this will be a winter of unusual severity. They base their predictions on the fact that the squirrels are laying in an unusual store of nuts, and the fur of some of the animals is much thicker than usual.

One Minute Cure for Toothache.
Not only for Toothache, but any severe pain caused instantly by Nervine. One drop equals in pain-relieving power five drops of any other remedy. Thousands say so. Powerful, penetrating, pain-relieving Nervine. Marvelous in action for internal and external use.
The standard challenge for its equal. Druggists sell it.

Your money back if it is not so.
During the month of October 13,000 pounds of salts were imported into Sydney from Australia, and over 10,000 from Toronto and St. John's. The farmers were paid $1.15 per cwt., and expect $1.25 during the winter.

Almost Consumption.
Mr. J. J. Dods, of Pleasant Ave., Deer Park, Ont., writes:—'I have suffered in my head and throat and all over my body since last summer from a very heavy cold, which I could not get rid of. I have tried several of what are considered good remedies, but none seemed to do any avail. I began to think that my cold was developing into consumption, as very many have to my knowledge. I then thought of the fact that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limestone and Turpentine has worked a complete cure, as I am entirely free from the cold.'

M. E. Keel, ex-mayor of Halifax, has been nominated by the Liberals of Halifax County to contest the seat, reduced vacant in that county by the resignation of W. B. Wallace.
A. E. Crosby has been nominated by the Conservatives to oppose him.

Minard's Limestone Cures Colds, etc.
Mackenzie and Mann, the railway magnates, have decided to erect an immense pulp mill at Fort Francis, west of the mouth of the St. Lawrence. The capacity of the mill will be greater than any now operating in Canada. Pulp wood for fifty years to come is abundant in the neighborhood.

Free to Inventors.
The experience of J. O. Saw & Co. in obtaining more than 200 patents for inventions has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of inventions. This pamphlet, which they have distributed, is a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, inventions, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to J. O. Saw & Co., Washington, D. C.
One hundred and eighty dollars of freight was at point St. Charles, Montreal, last Friday for points on the Intercolonial. Thirty nine of the cars were loaded with grain for St. John.

Catarrh and Colds Relieved in 10 to 60 Minutes.—One short puff of the breath through the blowers supplied with each box of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passage. Painful and distressing to use. It relieves instantly, and permanently cures catarrh, hayfever, colds, sore throat, tonsillitis and diphtheria. 50c. per box.
Sold by Garden Bros.

The Chinese have a horror of debt. With them bankruptcy is disgrace. They pay their bills, settling all accounts at New Year's. They especially dislike debts to foreigners. It is the national policy to keep out of debt.

Saves Time and Temper.

The look of pain herein depicted,
The ragged collar that is inflamed,
Reveals a story oftentimes told
Of collar new made to look old.

Now, if this man our laundry tried,
His collar all would be his pride;
No jagged edge would pierce his neck
And leave his nerves a shattered wreck.

Call us by phone. Give us a trial.

Telephone 31-2 or 31-3.

QUEEN STEAM LAUNDRY.

S. HARRISON CLARK, - - Prof.

24 and 26 Connell Street,
WOODSTOCK.

W. C. T. U. Corner.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. is held in GRAMER'S HALL, each Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

OUR MOTTO.

If God be for us, who can be against us?

OUR PERSUASION.

That temperance is the surest use of all things helpful, and that substance from all things harmful.

OUR FAITH.

That as God lives, right the day shall win.

Which Shall It Be?

Which shall it be, lads? Which shall it be?

God, or the devil, bond or free?

Will you boldly and cheerfully take your stand

With the chosen few, with the noble band

Who are steadfastly doing all they can
For God and the right and the fallen
man.

Or will you sink, debased and blind,
To herd with the truck of humankind?

God, or the devil, bond or free—
Which shall it be, lads? Which shall it
be?

Which shall it be? The home-life sweet,
Gay with the patter of tiny feet;

Or the equal tap room grimy and grim?
The drunkard's curse, or the children's hymn?

Wrecked lives, or the strength that never flags,
Peace and plenty, or ruin and rage?

Which shall it be, lads? Which shall it
be?

Which shall it be? Two paths lie here—
The right and the wrong, the left and where?