DEATH OF SAMUEL WATTS.

After confinement to his house for eight weeks, from the effects of a severe cold, peacefully and quietiy, at 10 o'clock Sunday evening, the vital spark was extinguished, and over the river of death passed the spirit of Samuel Watts, who, for some 45 years had so efficiently filled the position of editor-in-chief of this journal. He was a native of Fredericton, but when quite a young man came to Woodstock and for some time carried on the business of cabinet maker. During this period he became an active member of the Woodstock Mechanic's Institute, where by his lectures and prominent part taken in discussions he forced a knowledge of his literary abilities upon the public; and he was frequently induced to lend the strength of his pen, to the advancement, of local enterprises or the furtherance of those progressive and
