The Healthiest Light-

When electric light comes into general ANADA'S use it is likely that at least 40 000 fewer people will die every year in the United Kingdom. This seems a large number, but it is really only a lowering of the death-rate by one per 1000. One of the causes why the winter death-rate is so high is the unbealthiness of gas lamps and candles.

A single gas jet consumes as much air as four or five people, and, as it always gives off a lot of sulphurous fumes and poisonous carbonic acid, it is easy to understand why we feel sleepy in a gas-lit room The sleepiness is really a symptom of partial poisoning. But oil lamps and candles are quite as bad, seriously injuring the lungs, and predisposing us to consumption and bron-
