It is said that the Hon Hugh John Macdonald has decided to go out of politics, at least for the present.

It is impossible as yet to say what the exact majority of the Liberal party is. But the presumption is justified that the Government will have, when the first vote is taken in the next session of parliament, a majority of at least fifty.

PERSONAL—If this meets the eyes of Henry Montoth, formerly in the milling business in Woodstock, will he please address the undersigned. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by his nephew, Geo Montoth, 6625 Lyric street, B. E. Pittsburg, Pa.

THE Tory papers are taking great pains to publish an alleged statement of a Mr. Wilson, of Montreal, to the effect that over one hundred thousand liquor ballots were registered for the Government. No doubt liquor votes were registered for both parties, and we would advise our Tory contemporaries, who published the article referred to in the issue of this week, to make a list of the liquor dealers of this county and give the public the benefit of their political affiliations and thus show who got the liquor vote in Carleton.

THE Press editorials this week, on the recent elections, are headed as follows: "Anglo-Saxon Progress," "The Home Coming," and "United Front." No doubt, its readers will get some valuable pointers from these weighty articles, and will therein find plenty of value for their wounded feelings.

We wonder what they would have been like had the elections been won by the Conservatives to power? We advise our contemporaries to cheer up, as, no doubt, the grandchildren of the present management may yet live to see a Conservative government in Canada.

THE friends of Mr. John Burpee will remember that his address is 1068, Barnaby street, Vancouver, B. C.

Writing to us on the 8th inst, Mr. Burpee says: "I like this place very much. This p.m., while I am writing, the sun is brightly shining in my room, like it might be on one of our finest days in September in N. B. This is a very busy place. There must be one hundred or more buildings in different stages of construction. Everywhere I go I hear the carpenter's hammer or the mason's trowel. House plants are blooming out doors now as they do in N. B. in August or September. The mills and factories are all running and everybody appears to be busy."

We have derived a good deal of pleasure from perusing a complete set of 192 cards, entitled "Our B. E. Under Fire—Canadians in South Africa." It describes the career of the First Canadian Contingent, special and marked references being devoted to the Tommies from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The author of this brochure is Miss Annie E. Melish of Charlottetown, P. E. I., whose brother, Lieut. A. J. B. Melish, was a member of Company G, who assisted her by his private letters. It is written in pleasant style; the book is neatly printed, on heavy paper, and its pages are adorned by 42 illustrations, among these being the familiar faces of Capt. W. C. Good, R. S. Walsh, J. A. Hayden, H. Gray, of Woodstock, and H. B. Dymally, Harland.

THE veteran leader, Sir Charles Tupper, has announced his determination to retire from public life. Sir Charles has not given an opinion as to whom he would like to succeed him in the leadership of the party, one of the prominent Conservatives are considering the name of R. L. Borden of Halifax as Sir Charles' successor.

To some of his friends Sir Charles stated that the verdict in Cape Breton had given him a good opportunity for retiring, and that his decision to do so was final. The Conservative party, Sir Charles thought, was in a great deal better position than at the end of the electoral struggle of 1896. "In the quiet of my home life," he said, "I will not be an indifferent spectator of public events. I will take the greatest pleasure in seeing the Conservative party, now united to a man, taking its place in the House, and before the country, waging their battle by younger men, full of vigor, hope and endurance, and having behind them a good cause, the securing of the people of Canada wise legislation, righteous laws and fair play to all creeds and nationalities."

Declaration.
The proceedings on Saturday at the Court House, when the Sheriff opened the boxes, announced the names of the candidates, declared H. H. Hale elected, were of a quiet and unadventurous nature. The official count showed the result somewhat different from that given by us last week. Instead of Mr. Hale's majority being, as then stated, it was reduced down to 259. So that it will be seen that Mr. Hale's majority of 408 at the '96 election was reduced by 147 votes.

Under all the well known existing circumstances the vote for Mr. Carvell may be regarded as a handsome one, and as being evidence of his personal popularity and political strength in the County. The attendance at the Court House was not large; both gentlemen had a good hearing when they made their addresses.

The Warpage Coming.
The citizens of Woodstock will be delighted to learn that the Edison Warpage Co. will present their excellent film motion picture on Monday evening, November 19, at 8 o'clock. These pictures were secured by special Staff Photographers sent to South Africa expressly for this purpose and are claimed by the Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal press to be the finest and most realistic ever exhibited in Canada and have attracted immense crowds in our leading cities, every picture being accompanied by wonderful mechanical sounds, which are very exciting and interesting indeed.

Good For Carleton.
OF F. Rogers, Northampton, has received official notification from Paris, that the "International Day at the Paris Universal Exhibition has awarded the Dominion of Canada for a collective exhibit of horticultural, of which your exhibit of apples formed an important part, a Grand Prix Diploma, and you will be entitled to receive a copy of the award."

The Country Safe.

Now that the din of battle has been hushed, and the smoke of the battle field cleared away, it is seen what a sweeping victory has been gained by the government and Liberal party throughout the Dominion. Not only does the government remain intact, with a much larger following than before, but the Liberal Conservative party has been routed upon "horse foot and artillery," its leaders slain, its ranks become a disorganized mass, and confusion and destroyed hopes as all that is left to the party who, before the election, professed to see a bright and glorious future before it, on account of their being restored to power.

Under ordinary circumstances, the country might be disposed to fear that the government majority was too large, that its very members might become arrogant, but when it is remembered that the same men who for four years have so easily factually wielded the sceptre of power and, with an impregnable majority at its back, so governed fostered an insatiable desire for power as to secure the progress and prosperity of the entire commonwealth, the country rests satisfied that the government will not only continue to legislate in the best interests of the Dominion, but that the Liberal Conservative party, upon whom, then, inspired and encouraged by the trust reposed in them by the electorate, will feel impelled the more considerably and conscientiously to initiate and carry through only such measures as shall tend to the further development of the country along all those lines which tend to its upbuilding as a great nation.

A Wicked Canvass—A Just Punishment.

We had supposed that the Tory party, after their terrible defeat on Wednesday of last week, would have been willing to take over one hundred thousand liquor ballots were registered for the Government. No doubt liquor votes were registered for both parties, and we would advise our Tory contemporaries, who published the article referred to in the issue of this week, to make a list of the liquor dealers of this county and give the public the benefit of their political affiliations and thus show who got the liquor vote in Carleton.

False Prophets.

Below are a number of telegrams sent to the Montreal Star and signed by prominent Conservatives, and published in the paper on the eve of the general election, Nov. 6th, 1900—

"The most insignificant election uttered yet delivered was that of Hon Joseph E. Tarte yesterday."

From two separate, but equally reliable, sources the statement came that the Minister of Public Works, on his own admission, expected to be beaten in St. Mary's, Montreal, and Mr. Tarte is reported to have added: "And I'm not sure of the result all over Canada."

FROM SIR CHARLES TUPPER.
Bellevue, C. B., November 6.—You can rely upon a majority of twenty from the Maritime Provinces, and victory all along the line, leaving for the West this morning."

FROM MR. GEO. FOSTER.
St. John, N. B., November 6.—African from Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick point clearly to a substantial majority for Liberal-Conservative party."

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.
Victoria, B. C., November 6.—Carrying confidence in the Conservative Government, Yale, Cariboo and Burrard Dredging's chance in New Westminster is splendid, and Mr. Wolley, such large in the field, a certain winner in Vancouver. Enormous amounts of Grit money everywhere."

IN NORTH WEST AND MANITOBA.
Winnipeg, November 6.—The Conservatives will carry all but two seats in the Territories and Manitoba."

MR. BERGERON'S PREDICTION.
Montreal, November 6.—Unless the Grit "Machine" works hard against us, we will take thirty counties in Quebec."

IN THE FACE OF SUCH PROPHECIES AS THESE
we are forced to one of two conclusions, either that the above statements were made with the express purpose of intentional deception, or that such conclusions were arrived at by men whose minds were so biased by partisan motives and feelings, that their opinions were not worth the paper they were written on.

The result of the elections throughout the Dominion shows the positive proof of the latter statement, since the majority of these false prophets were not only themselves defeated but left in ignominious defeat.

The intelligent electors of Canada saw the utter folly of these statements, and on election day cast out just retribution to these false prophets by voting them out of the political arena. Is it any wonder that the majority of intelligent electors were unwilling to entrust the affairs of state in the hands of men whose judgment in regard to the real condition of affairs was so utterly worthless?

Sir Chas. Tupper and Mr. G. E. Foster would attribute the above libellous statement taken from the Montreal Star to the mouth of Hon. Joseph E. Tarte and his only real practical effect was to destroy the confidence of the constituency which he represented in 1891.

We have the best of authority for believing that in the last days of the world's history there shall be heard false gods and false prophets. Have we not under existing circumstances the very best of political authority for believing that the last days of the once flourishing Conservative party have come, for surely the false political gods and prophets are in our midst.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Howard Sawyer, of Bonham, Texas, has been visiting his home here, during the summer months, and arranging for the sale of the old homestead at Upper Woodstock. He had just concluded all his business and was to have left on Monday for his western home, on the Santa Fe, when he was taken a slight pain in the chest, but did not consider it as anything serious. However, on Monday, the pain continued and Mr. Sawyer concluded not to start for home until Tuesday. Monday evening the pain was so severe that a doctor was called, who pronounced it but a trifling ailment, thought he would be all right by the following day, and prescribed some simple medicine. Mr. Sawyer slept but quite early after taking the medicine, and when he awoke on Tuesday morning he found that he was unable to breathe. He was taken to his room and inquired how he was feeling, when he answered that he was all right, and that he would be up in 15 minutes. It will bring your medicine to you. The door between Mr. Sawyer's bedroom and the sitting room, in which the family were, was open, and in 15 minutes Mrs. Dugan went to the deceased's bedside to give him his medicine when she was shocked to find him dead. The deceased was 63 years of age, born in this county, but for many years had been a resident of Bonham, Texas, where he married and has a wife and one child.

He was a man of noble parts, had travelled extensively, and had the happy faculty of making friends for himself with people who came into contact with him. In his death the world has lost a good citizen.

The body was embalmed and on Wednesday afternoon, after a short service at the house, followed by Rev. J. W. Clarke, the funeral was held by a large number of friends, including a delegation from Woodstock Lodge Free Masons, where it was shipped to the home of the deceased, Bonham, Texas. The brother of the deceased, Eli Sawyer, and H. N. Rayson accompanied the remains, the latter intending to return after reaching St. Louis.

Death of John G. Frapp.

"A touch of nature makes the world akin." It was with an almost paralyzing shock that the community heard on Saturday evening that John G. Frapp, who was seen on our streets of Wednesday, and full of young life, the very ideal of health and strength, had been suddenly called to give up that life and sleep the sleep of death. He came here Wednesday to vote at the election, and returned to his home the following morning. He is a commercial traveller for D. Mage & Sons, St. John, and on Friday morning left that city on the steamer Monticello, to resume his work in Nova Scotia. As is well known an unprecedented fog occurred during the coast during the night of Thursday, and on Friday morning the fog was so thick that the steamer did not leave until 11 o'clock Friday morning. The steamer was from St. John to Halifax, touching at Yarmouth, where it was when opposite Cranberry head a large leak and began filling rapidly, and soon it became apparent that the vessel was doomed, and the passengers were forced to take to the life boats, out of which only four were saved, the rest, only four of its occupants reaching the land. In this boat was John G. Frapp who was lost. Out of the thirty-seven souls aboard the Monticello only four were saved. The news reached here on Saturday evening, and next day the finding of Frapp's body was confirmed.

The deceased was the oldest son of John M. Frapp, the well-known miller of this town. He had been for some years in the employment of Hugh Hay & Son, as well as for some time head clerk in B. B. Manzer's Dry goods store. And for some months previous to his death he had been representing D. Mage & Sons as their commercial traveller. His age was a little over 28 years. He leaves, in Woodstock, a father, mother and sister, and one brother, Geo M. Frapp, who is manager of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, Grand Forks, B. C. The deceased was engaged to a young lady of this town for whom, as well as for the members of the heart broken family the deepest sympathy is felt.

On Monday E. B. Manzer went to St. John and accompanied the remains of the deceased, reaching here Monday night. Many friends met the remains at the station and followed them to his home. On Tuesday, interment took place at the Methodist cemetery. The pall bearers were George W. Gibson, E. B. Manzer, Arthur H. M. Hay, Arch. C. C. Clark, Rev. H. D. Marr, conductor of the service, assisted by Revs. J. W. Clark and W. B. Wiggins, and the attendance was very large. Some handsome wreaths of flowers covered the casket, and among these very prominent was the one from the Upsilon chapter of the Order of the Omega, one from the lady friends of the deceased, and one from the employees of D. Mage & Sons, St. John.

Mr. Frapp was a general favorite with all classes of the community; as a young man, a fair young man, one whose example was over for that which is right, his sad and sudden death has brought deep regrets to the hearts of his many friends.
