THE news of the death of our noble Queen, as soon as it reached Woodstock, was made known to the publie by the tolling of the church and fire bells, and in brief space the Union Jack was flying at half mas from the various flag staffs, public and private, in Woodstock. As we go to press many of the public offices, stores and residences are being draped in mourning.

The New Town Council.

The ratepayers of the town were so well pleased with the work, during the year, of the old town councillors that no opposition developed, and four of them were returned by acclamation, Thursday of last week, viz., J. T. Allen Dibblee, James Carr, Albert E. Jones and John A. Lindsay. The other two gentlemen returned by acclamation at the same time were R.B. Jones and George Balmain taking the places of John Graham who is ill, and Hugh E. Gallagher who was a candidate for mayor. Mr. Jones has been a councillor for past, and has always been a pains-bafternoon, it found appropriate Wellingtons, the puck being she taking and competent representative with good business ability. This is the first time Mr. Balmain has had a seat in the Council Chamber but as he is a good business man he will, no doubt, make a good councillor.

The mayors election took place of Monday, the candidates being Hugh E. Gallagher and W. B. Belyea. M Gallagher, who would have made ar excellent mayor with his experience of eight years as a councillor, made a hard fight, but he was defeated. Mr. Belyea who has been a councillor at the board, must be pleased with the large vote he polled, and wil give his whole attention to the duties of the office.

Mr. Gallagher received 215 votes, and Mr. Belyea 379, giving the latter a majority of 164 votes.

The New Century Ice Rink.

As a place for innocent amusement and healthful recreation there is probably nothing more desirable han an ice rink, in fact there is demand for such a place in all towns and cities, and to meet this demand here the Century Rink Company have opened one of the best and argest rinks in the lower provinces. At first glance, immense structure with its well constructed trestle work is assuring in strength and closer examination shows that every possible care has been taken by the architect to make the building stand any test that may be required. Some are of the opinion that it is stronger than is necessary for any weight of snow that may lay on the roof, but that is a good fault, as it s very important that any building where people congregate in large numbers should be absolutely safe. The rink is well situated on Chapel street near the Post Office. Spacious walks run entirely around the ice. The Ladies rooms and Gent's room are large, very comfortable, and vell finished, and spectators may sit comfortably in these rooms and watch the skaters through large windows. Over these rooms are two comfortable Hockey rooms and band room with large balcony for band when playing. The building is well lighted with several electric lamps. Mr. Calby Henderson was the architect and Henry Post the
