

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It's about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when there is a dull, sluggish feeling, with nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness. Every day that these symptoms are neglected increases the liability to physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness by curing the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Quebec. "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach and such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman today. Dr. Pierce's medicine also cured a mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of postage and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Physician (lunatic asylum)—Mrs. Sharp tongue was here to-day, and wanted her husband sent home and placed under her care.

Superintendent—Did you let him go?

Physician—No. He said he would rather stay here.

Superintendent—Hum! The man must be sane.

"I flatter myself you will like this article," said the would-be contributor, "That's a fact" said the editor, after glancing over it. "You like it, then?" "No; I mean it's a fact that you flatter yourself."

Mother (to little boy who she discovered in the pantry eating jam)—Oh, Johnny, Johnny! I don't like that. Johnny (unabashed)—Well, mamma, I guess you don't know what's good, then.

Uncle Wayback—I declare, Elvira, this knife tastes soapy, same as the other one.

Shrewd Niece—It's too bad, uncle, but city servants are so careless. Try eating with your fork. May be that's clean.

"Do you think people in the next world will follow the same occupations they do here?" asked the gossiping lady.

"No," said the churchman, "everybody will attend to his own business there."

He (rather different)—Er—now that we are engaged. I suppose you—er—won't object to my kissing you? She (much less so)—Certainly not; help yourself. And when mamma comes in I want you to kiss her also.

He—S—say, let's b-break the engagement.

Dear Sirs,—I was for seven years a sufferer from Bronchial trouble, and would be so hoarse at times that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I got no relief from anything till I tried your MINARD'S HONEY BALM. Two bottles gave relief and six bottles made a complete cure. I would heartily recommend it to any one suffering from throat and lung trouble.

Deafness is Curable!

Sufferers from impaired hearing will be glad to know that their affliction is probably not due to any organic defect in the ear, but results probably from a thickening of the lining of the middle ear caused by catarrhal inflammation. Hundreds of perfect recoveries as a result of the inhalation of Catarrhazone are reported, and on the highest authority we recommend this treatment to our readers. Catarrhazone quickly restores lost hearing, and its efficiency is placed beyond dispute by the case of Mr. Foxall of St. Thomas, who recovered perfect hearing by using Catarrhazone, after years of deafness. Price $1. At Druggists or by mail, from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

"Was your son Josiah a leader of any of his classes?"

"I reckon," answered Farmer Corn-tassel. "I have been told that a good many of the young men who 'tended Josiah's school b'longed to the leisure class, an' from what I have seen of Josiah during harvest time I should guess that he'd be right up clus to the top."

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful diseases as no other preparation was known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

"What is the nature of the newfangled malady which they call the 'golfing spine'?"

"That," responded, Cynicus, is easy. 'Golfing spine' is what the old man used to have after a hard day's plowing, but he called it the back-ache.

Facts for Catarrhal Sufferers.

The mucous membrane lines all passages and cavities communicating with the exterior.

Catarrh is an excessive secretion, accompanied with chronic inflammation, from the mucous membrane.

Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, reduces inflammation, establishes healthy action, and radically cures all cases of catarrh.

"Mrs. Knox," said the hostess at dinner, "your little boy doesn't seem to have much appetite."

"No, he doesn't, that's a fact."

"Don't be bashful, Willie," the hostess urged. "Won't you have some more of anything?"

"No, ma'am," Willie replied, "I filled up on cookies before I came, 'cause I heard ma tell pa we wouldn't get much here."

"The male sex," she exclaimed in strident tones, "is all alike wherever you find it. Look at the rooster. When the hen lays an egg, he crows louder than the hen does."

"Perhaps, my dear," timidly spoke Mr. Meeker, "he does it to show how proud he is of the hen."

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WISLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. It is distributed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Wislow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Wislow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Wislow's Soothing Syrup."

"Darwin's theory must be correct," remarked Mrs. Ennepek as she stopped in front of the monkey cage. "These little fellows certainly have many actions in common with human beings."

"Pshaw!" exclaimed Ennepek. "A monkey, my dear, is no more human than I am."

An English Author Wrote:

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves—November!" Many Americans would add no FREEDOM FROM CATARRH, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this record, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

OPEN BRANCHES IN ENGLAND.

Slater Shoe Company Decides on Expansion.

MR. CHAS. E. SLATER OUTLINES THE PLAN TO INVADE GREAT BRITAIN.

"They don't appreciate Canadians sufficiently in England, we are all Americans," said Mr. Chas. E. Slater, president and general manager of the Slater Shoe Co. yesterday, as he chatted freely about his business trip to European centres. He has only lately returned from a trip to London and Paris, made with the object of extending the Company's foreign business, with the result that he is convinced that the only way to permanently secure a share of the British trade is to open a series of Slater Shoe Stores, on the same special system of selling and advertising to the consumer direct, as has made the Slater Shoe so well known and popular in Canada.

He spent about six weeks in investigating the shoe trade and noted the tremendous trade of the London Shoe Co., and of dozens of others who have as many as from 75 to 300 retail branches in different parts of the Kingdom. The English companies do their boot and shoe business largely on the multiple system; that is, a firm like Manfield, or Lilley & Skinner own many branches, but selling all kinds of boots instead of one special make or kind. There are no English manufacturers specializing like The Slater Shoe Company, making Goodyear welted goods alone, which are bound to replace the hand made shoe, as soon as their merits become properly known to the public.

"It is hard to realize the possibilities of the immense business there is to be done over there," said Mr. Slater, "and we would be foolish not to take advantage of the opportunity. We can land goods in England in less time, and for considerably less cost for transportation than we can in British Columbia, and just think for a moment of the difference in population." The Canadian field is limited, as is well shown by the export leather business. The tanners of Canada shipped nine million pounds of sole leather to England last year. The English manufacturer is fast losing ground in his own country. There is no duty on boots and shoes going into England, and this, coupled with the Government rebate to manufacturers in Canada, of 99 per cent on foreign material used in manufacture for export, made it plain sailing for his company. This rebate applies to Bermuda and Australia as well as in other countries with which Mr. Slater arranged for agencies while in London, which is, of course, the centre of the shipping trade of the world.

Trade conditions, in boots and shoes especially, were very different from those in Canada. As a rule the stores were smaller, as also were the stocks carried. There the retailers carry a mass of all kinds of stuff, packed into one shop, as well as displaying so many different kinds of goods in the windows (using almost every inch of space), that it is bewildering to purchasers. No extensive advertising was done by the retailers. Asked if a factory might be successfully operated in England on a basis similar to the one here, Mr. Slater said, the conditions were such, that in his opinion it would be out of the question for a good many years to come.

The labor unions work to the disadvantage of the English manufacturer when taking into consideration the increase in imports. For instance, the workmen are prohibited from making more than a specified number of boots per day, and are very arbitrary on the question of the introduction of new and improved machinery. Plenty of workmen were idle, and he believed that general decadence had set in throughout the manufacturing industries. To use his own words, "there are rafts of American and German goods of all kinds elbowing the English-made goods out of business." He was compelled to smile at the utter lack of appreciation of Canadian industry, brains and enterprise, in England. Whatever prestige American business men had gained in the English market reflected to the credit of Canadians, because the average Britisher did not discriminate at all between Canadians and Americans.

In Paris, too, he saw an opening for Canadian shoes, but all that and the many elements of the opening of branches were details that would follow in due course.

The nucleus was formed; the initiatory stages were completed for the Slater branches in England, and he felt confident of a great success awaiting their efforts.

Nebuchadnezzar's Throne Room Discovered.

The German Oriental Society confirms the reports to the effect that Dr. Koldewey has succeeded in discovering Nebuchadnezzar's Throne Room at Babylon. It is a gigantic building about 60 ft wide by 160 feet long. Exactly opposite the door is the niche in which once the Royal Throne stood, and on both sides and on the northern front of the hall are richly covered ornaments, in good preservation, which will doubtless prove of the highest historical and artistic importance. The German expedition has also begun excavation in the city of Babylon, near the present village of Jumjuma, and has already discovered a goodly number of inscribed clay tablets, which, according to the testimony of Dr. Weissbach, the Assyriologist, of the expedition, contains letters, psalms, and vocabularies. They are, therefore, all documents of the deepest interest, and are especially calculated to further the study of the Old Testament. With the help of new railway material, the work on the hill of Amranibuh is shortly to be resumed, and the excavation of this unique pantheon of the Babylonian metropolis, hidden deep in the earth, promise rich and varied discoveries. The German Oriental Society does not confine its activity to Babylon. It has secured two other hills, named Fara and Abu Hatab, which are believed to contain particularly fine monuments dating from 4000 years B. C. The two hills are not far from Naffar, where the American excavations are being made, and the Sultan has already issued an irade permitting the excavations.

"It is hard to realize the possibilities of the immense business there is to be done over there," said Mr. Slater, "and we would be foolish not to take advantage of the opportunity. We can land goods in England in less time, and for considerably less cost for transportation than we can in British Columbia, and just think for a moment of the difference in population." Sydney is Orange Mart.

Australia has one of the most suitable orange-growing districts of the world. What apple culture is in England that of the orange is in New South Wales, the Parramatta district, near Sydney, being to Australia what Kent, with its countless luxuriant orchards, is to the United Kingdom. The scenery of the Parramatta River is not unlike that of the Thames above Richmond, only more romantic and beautiful, especially during springtime, when the wonderful profusion of wild flowers imparts an additional charm to the picture. Even the masses of rock, which in many places rise boldly from the edges of the stream, are decked with bright-colored clusters of Australian native flowers of the most lovely and varied description.

The trees also claim a large share of admiration not only from the lover of the beautiful in nature, but also from the utilitarian, for they include the orange, with its bright green foliage, and dainty white flowers or rich golden fruit, both often seen on the tree at one and the same time. The orange is not only a picturesque adjunct to the garden, but also more than repays the trouble and cost of cultivation. In the Parramatta district rich and luscious oranges are as plentiful as blackberries in an English country lane during the autumn time.
