The Carleton Sentinel.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1901.

Published by THE CARLETON SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO., at their Office, in VANWART'S BUILDING, King Street, Woodstock, N. B.

SUBSCRIBERS in arrears to THE CARLETON SENTINEL are requested to make payment at their earliest convenience. In each individual case the amount is small, and consequently overlooked or not deemed important, but these small amounts, in the case of the SENTINEL, aggregate a large sum. There is a heavy outlay connected with the running of a newspaper, a large portion of which has to be met with "spot cash." We confidently expect a ready response will be made to this call, and thus very greatly oblige and accommodate us.

"We receive the SENTINEL regularly and value it very much in its enlarged form and new dress." The above is given merely as a "sample" of the many complimentary words the SENTINEL is frequently receiving from subscribers.

FREDERICKTON Herald.—Very general regret will be felt at the comparatively sudden death of Dr. McLearn, who during his residence in Fredericton made many warm friends. He was proficient in his profession, a gentleman of kind heart and genial manners, and his death will be very sincerely mourned.

Hon. A. R. McClellan's term as Lieut-Governor of New Brunswick expires next Monday and there is considerable speculation as to who is likely to succeed him. It does not appear that the Cabinet has yet made any choice, although the names of certain gentlemen have been mentioned in connection with the appointment. Senator Snowball is one of those spoken of.

Correspondents Thanked.

MORE CORRESPONDENTS WANTED.

The SENTINEL is proud of its list of correspondents who so frequently furnish it with interesting "items," from their several localities. It embraces the opportunity of saying to such that their kindness is duly appreciated and their contributions greatly valued. It trusts they may continue their favors along this line.

There are a number of other points in this and the neighboring counties, at which the SENTINEL has no correspondent, but from which it would be glad to receive a record of the local doings. We would like a correspondent from every community in this, Victoria and York counties, where we have none at present. To anyone who will promise to send us items of news, we will furnish stationery and stamps and a copy of the SENTINEL to any address desired. Let us hear from you, friends; you will thus oblige us and advertise your own locality.

HEAVY SNOW STORM.

The heaviest snow storm for many years, visited this section the present week. Snow began falling about 10 o'clock Tuesday night and when Wednesday morning came it witnessed the already heavily laden snow covered earth, burdened with an additional foot of the beautiful. The wind was blowing a gale and the snow was being piled up in places to the height of ten feet. The storm of snow and wind continued with unabated fury until late Wednesday afternoon, when the fall of snow was variously estimated at from 1 1/2 to 2 feet. There was no moving about and business was dead; those living in the suburbs of the town found it hard work getting to their homes on Wednesday evening; the snow plow was useless amid the blinding storm, and travelling was almost impossible. The Express due here at noon Wednesday did not arrive until about 4 p. m.

Last week there was a foot of snow fell which greatly blocked some of the country roads, especially the one leading from this town to Houlton, and with the added quantity the present week, will render them entirely impassable until shovelled out. Thursday was fine and clear; the snow plow was actively at work, the shovel and broom brigade turned out in force, and the streets and sidewalks of the town were made comfortably passable.

You are probably beginning to think of purchasing your fall clothing. Whether it be a suit for a gentleman or a dress for a lady, go to Carr's, Hartland. He keeps the largest stock in the village and prices are right.

THE NEW C. P. R. BRIDGE.

The crew of ten men, who have been working on the abutments of the C. P. R. bridge across the Meduxnakik, having finished the three piers, on which they were employed, left town on Tuesday morning for Moore's Mills, Charlotte Co., where Joseph McVay, the contractor, has some work to do. Mr. McVay will return to Woodstock in the spring to build the remaining pier and two abutments on the bridge. As Mr. Caudle, the foreman, will return in a few weeks, his wife remains at the Riverside Hotel, where the crew boarded while in this town, and where they met with most hospitable treatment by their host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell.

The following has been handed to the SENTINEL for publication:—
To Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell of the Riverside Hotel.

We, the undersigned, who have been your guests for some months, feel that we cannot depart for our homes without expressing our thanks for the many kindnesses shown us during our stay in Woodstock. You have done everything in your power to make the hotel as home-like for us as the happy homes we are returning to, and the Thanksgiving dinner, prepared for us, will long be remembered as a happy function.

Joseph McVay, Mr. Caudle, Mrs. Caudle, Mr. Hall, R. J. Porter, D. R. Campbell, D. Thurston, H. Mingo.

Woman's Missionary Society.

The Thanksgiving service in the Methodist church, on Thursday, last week, was under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. Corbett, the president, occupied the chair. After the singing of a hymn, and prayer offered by the Pastor, the president gave a brief but excellent address. Mrs. George Gibson sang a solo with great sweetness and expression. Mrs. R. B. Jones read a letter from Japan telling of the good work accomplished by a Bible woman who was supported by Mrs. Jones some years ago. This letter was deeply impressive and cheering to all workers in the missionary cause. Mrs. Kirkpatrick sang a solo in her usual good voice and charming style. Mrs. S. J. Baker gave a reading, "What hast thou?" This was very practical, instructive and well read. A letter from Mrs. J. D. Chipman was read. Mrs. F. B. Carvell gave an excellent reading. A trio of great beauty, and rendered with effectiveness was sung by Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. George Gibson and Mrs. J. Hull. The offering, a handsome one, was taken, the Doxology sung and the Benediction given. Those who did not attend missed a great treat.

THE SMALLPOX.

Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts being now made by the health authorities of St. John, new cases of smallpox are developing, showing that the utmost caution is still to be observed. The new cases, we believe, without exception, of persons who have not been vaccinated.

In other places, especially at Quebec, Boston, Philadelphia, etc., the disease is spreading rapidly.

Quebec, Nov. 28.—During last month 130 cases of smallpox have been reported here. Forty-one cases are still under treatment. Physicians state that more cases exist than have been reported or located by the health authorities.

Says the Portland Press:—"Boston confesses that it has on hand a serious epidemic of smallpox. The surrounding cities and towns are also affected. All the city employees are ordered to be vaccinated forthwith and the Boston and Maine Railroad company has also directed the vaccination of its employees. This is a time of year when the disease is likely to spread so that it looks as if Boston were in for a serious time."

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30.—Smallpox is steadily on the increase in Philadelphia. During the week ending at noon to-day 113 new cases were reported to the Health Department. This is an increase of 67 cases over the figures for last week, when 46 were reported, and a greater number than in any week since 1876. Thus far this year there have been
