BRIEFLETS.

The United Kingdom produces 75 million bushels of wheat, 78 millions of barley and 150 millions of oats in a year.

The most magnificent tomb in the world is deemed to be the palace temple of Karnak, occupying an area of nine acres.

Six hundred and fifty-two houses, including 199 shops, have been destroyed by fire at Brest, in the province of Warsaw, Russia. The loss is given at 11,000,000 roubles.

Eighteen divorces were granted at the April term of the court at Houlton. Among the number Horatio N. Grant secured a divorce from Hopie E. Grant for cruel treatment.

An English paper notes that if all the people in the British Empire had attended the Queen's funeral it would have taken twenty years' continuous marching for them to have passed a given point, even if formed in pairs. This gives some hazy notion of what four hundred millions amounts to.

Paris is about to experiment with a pavement, which is the product of crushed glass, subjected to great heat and heavy pressure. If at the end of five years the trial patches have worn well, the municipality will adopt it.

The town of Hartland, Maine, has been visited by a swarm of bugs, millions of them, about the size of squash bugs, which have denuded every tree and shrub of its foliage. After eating their fill they collected on the branches of the trees like swarms of bees and sometimes broke them down with their weight. And still it is presumed that my lady of Hartland wears a bird on her hat, a bird that had it not been slaughtered, might have devoured hundreds of these pests.

There are 72,000 people in Iceland, and only two police officers, who are needed only when drunken sailors come ashore. There are no jails or asylums. In thirty-seven years there has been only one murder. Every man is self supporting and owns a home. There are no illiterates, and there is a college for higher education.

The body of R. A. Bridges, the Bangor travelling man, who disappeared from Fort Kent on Saturday night, May 11th, was found in the St. John river at Grand Isle, a short distance below Edmundston, on Saturday last, a week after Bridges' disappearance. The body was found at the exact spot where that of Mr. Shea, who was drowned through the ice four years ago, came ashore.

New Brunswick Full of Mineral Resources.

A GREAT FUTURE FOR CANADA.

Montreal Star, May 20.—An interesting personality at the Windsor Hotel to-day is Colonel John C. Calhoun, a grandson of the famous Calhoun of the days of Clay and Webster of glorious memory in American politics.

Colonel Calhoun resides in New York and is at present in Canada in connection with the development of an immense oilite property at Hillsboro, about twenty miles from Moncton, New Brunswick. This oilite, which is the name given by Prof. Shaler, of Harvard University to a clay strongly impregnated with oil and gas, covers a tract of 15,000 acres and is, with the exception of a district in Kentucky, the only known deposit on the continent. The material is used as a gas enriching substance with most satisfactory results. It sells for $9 a ton on the London market.

The company which Colonel Calhoun represents is known as the Baltimore Coal Mining and Railway Company, and it purchased these oilite tracts in New Brunswick some two years ago. Operations along the line of development will be vigorously pushed forward. The company is organized under a special act of the New Brunswick Legislature. Colonel Calhoun expects to presently mine between 500 and 1,000 tons of ore per day, and when things are running smoothly, to get out 1,000,000 tons every year. The supply of oilite on the property is said to be practically inexhaustible.

In an interview with a representative of the Star to-day, Colonel Calhoun said:

"There is a great future for Canada. The mineral wealth is perfectly marvellous. With the introduction of capital the results must prove most gratifying. New Brunswick is full of mineral resources."

It has been a great source of pleasure to me to see the friendly relations between England and the United States strengthened and preserved. This is as it should be. The interests of these two great nations are identical. I trust that we shall never see any friction arise to destroy the harmonious relations at present existing.

"Development at Hillsboro will be pushed steadily forward. In a short time we shall be exporting very large quantities of oilite."

Houlton Pioneer.

A sad accident happened this forenoon to Hon. Ira G. Hersey and Mrs. Hersey. They had started for Woodstock, and when on top of Cook's hill, just east of this village, Mr. Hersey opened an umbrella, which scared the horse, and they were thrown out of the carriage. Mr. Hersey had three ribs broken and Mrs. Hersey received a fracture of one arm. They were conveyed to their residence on Winter Street, and are being attended by Drs. Mann and Dickinson.

The Bangor and Aroostook's Railroad's shipments of potatoes are ahead of last year's figures and more bushels are being sent over the road than ever before at this season of the year. In April, 1900, 355,774 bushels were shipped, and this year in April the shipments amounted to 36,066 bushels.

The two young ladies from Woodstock who visited Houlton yesterday have doubtless by this time discovered that they drove home with the wrong horse. The mistake was noticed by the hostler after the ladies had been gone an hour. Too bad. Next time they will probably tag their animal.

South Africa.

LONDON, May 20.—Lord Kitchener reports to the war office under date of Pretoria, May 18, as follows: "An armored train has been dynamited south of American Siding. Major Heath of the South Lancashires was killed."

LONDON, May 20.—Lord Kitchener also reports that last week 19 Boers were killed, 14 were wounded, 238 were made prisoners and 71 surrendered, and that 212 rifles and 105,000 pounds of ammunition were captured.

Carry Town, May 20.—Eight hundred Boers have crossed the Orange River from the northwest and have reinforced the commandos in the eastern district.

The latest reliable report locates De Wet near Phillips, in Orange River Colony, and not far from the Cape line with forty horsemen. All the commandos in the Orange River Colony have instructions to cross the Orange River. Several British patrols have been ambushed.

Canary, May 21.—The total Boer casualties in April were 11 killed, 118 wounded, and captured 2,193. The Official Gazette gives the total number of Boer prisoners as 19,449.

A BOOK FOR MOTHERS.

Containing Much Information as to the Care of Children, and the Treatment of Ills that Commonly Afflict Little Ones—Given Free.

"Baby's Battles; A Message for Mothers" is the title of a very handsome little pamphlet just issued by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. It is devoted entirely to the care of infants and small children and tells the mother how to aid her little ones in the emergencies of every day life. It describes the ills that commonly afflict children and tells how to treat them. This little book is one that should be in every home where there are infants or small children. All mothers who send their name and address on a post card to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., will receive a copy of this book free of charge. Mention the SENTINEL when writing.

Several cows were killed by a severe storm which passed over Orangeville, Pa., on Wednesday. The hail stones were as large as hickory nuts, and were piled to a depth of six inches on the level. Farmers report the root crop badly damaged. The storm was confined to a narrow area, and towns within a few miles of Orangeville were untouched.

KING EDWARD VII.

Narrowly Escapes Death On Board Shamrock II.

SOUTHAMPTON, May 22.—The interest shown in the event by King Edward added special enthusiasm to the trial of the Shamrock. His Majesty, who was accompanied only by his personal attendants, was met at the pier by Sir Thomas Lipton and W. J. Jamieson. They entered a launch and proceeded to the Erin. The visit was quite informal, a few additional policemen on the pier being the only evidence of anything unusual. Although it was originally intended that the King should sail on board the challenger, it was pointed out that there was a considered element of danger when a lightly built racer was hard driven, so the programme was changed, and it was decided that His Majesty should witness the race from the Erin. Immediately after the King boarded the Erin she started in the wake of the yacht, which were already en route for the starting line.

LONDON, May 22, 3.26 p. m.—A despatch to the Evening News says a sudden squall struck the Shamrock II. in the Solent to-day and her rigging went by the board. No one was hurt.

The masts and sails of the cup challenger were carried away and she appeared to be a wreck. The Shamrock I. lost her topsail in the squall.

LATER.

LONDON, May 22, 4.13 p. m.—King Edward went out on the challenger after all prior to the start and had a miraculous escape from being killed.

SOUTHAMPTON, May 22.—The Shamrock II. with King Edward and a party on board was totally dismasted to-day by a squall off Cowes, Isle of Wight. The King, who was on deck, had a miraculous escape. The topmast, mainmast and bowsprit were broken short off.

Value of Fruit.

The value of fruit is being appreciated more and more by the people. It is a common custom to use fruit in the mornings. The London Family Doctor says:

"Fruits are the natural correctives for disordered digestion, but the way in which many persons eat them converts them into a curse rather than a blessing. Instead of being taken on an empty stomach, or in combination with simple grain preparation such as bread, they are frequently eaten with oily foods, or they are taken at the end of the meal, after the stomach is already full, and perhaps the whole mass of food washed down with tea, coffee, or other liquid. Fruits, to do their best work, should be eaten either on empty stomach or simply with bread—never with vegetables. In the morning, before the fast of the night has been broken, they are not only exceedingly refreshing, but they serve as a natural stimulus to the digestive organs. And to produce their fullest, finest effect, they should be ripe, sound, and of good quality. The good effects that would follow the abundant use of fruits are often more than counterbalanced by the saturating them with sugar. Very few fruits, if thoroughly ripe and at their best, require any sugar, but if unfortunately in a raw state, and if unfortunately it is a fact that what is intended and prepared for us as a great good in the matter of diet should be transformed into exactly the reverse."

Wants Clergy to Marry.

LONDON, May 20.—The Archbishop of Canterbury would like to see all the clergy of the Church of England married. Preaching in the Hampstead Parish Church, in aid of the Queen Victoria fund, he remarked that the clergy with an unmarried ministry had lasted in this country long enough to make people generally dislike it. They preferred a married clergy, for a clergyman's family often did as much good as he did. The public must, however, be prepared to pay more for a married man than for an unmarried ministry.

In enforcing the insufficiency of many clerical incomes, the primate declared the poverty of the clergy not only rendered the proper performance of their duty impossible at times, but also prevented many men from entering the ministry because of the poor prospect afforded by the profession.
