The Carleton Sentinel.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1901.

Published by THE CARLETON SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO., at their Office, in VANWART'S BRICK BUILDING, King Street, Woodstock, up stairs.

WALTER E. H. MASSEY, president of the Massey-Harris Manufacturing Company, died of typhoid fever, on the 28th ult., in the thirty-eighth year of his age.

HON. MR. FARQUHARSON, Premier of Prince Edward Island, has been nominated by the Liberals as their candidate for the seat made vacant in the Dominion Commons by the retirement of Sir Louis Davies.

PREMIER LAURIER has received a formal invitation to attend the coronation of His Majesty, King Edward, June next. All colonial premiers have been invited to be present at the coronation, in order to give it impressiveness and make it representative of every portion of British territory.

Woodstock & Centreville Railway.

In the past the SENTINEL has had much to say in reference to the contemplated line of railway between Woodstock and Centreville. Its importance to the whole section of country embraced within the points which such a road would touch, the amount of traffic which will become a feeder to the line, and the vast possibilities connected with the establishment of such a work has been frequently dilated upon in the columns of this paper. And sometimes the SENTINEL has thought the project was near becoming a reality. But time after time hope in that direction has been frustrated, until at last, the press and people fell in to that state of despondency which caused the belief that the bottom had dropped entirely out of the movement.

But once more the matter has been opened up, hope in the enterprise has been awakened, and with brighter prospects of fulfillment than ever before.

The SENTINEL has been informed on excellent authority that a contract was signed in St. John on Tuesday last with a New York company for the building of this railway. Work is to commence not later than April next, and the whole to be completed within eighteen months thereafter.

We are also informed that all the outstanding liabilities of the company and former contractors will be paid within a short time.

CIRCUIT COURT.

(Concluded.)

On Thursday morning the judge sentenced Coley A. Craig, found guilty of an assault, to a fine of $50, and made him give bonds to keep the peace for two years. W. P. Jones for defendant.

The case of the King vs Albert W. Brown, before the court when we went to press last week, resulted in a verdict of guilty of common assault. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, and enter into a recognizance to keep the peace for one year. F. B. Carvell for defendant.

In the case of the King vs Sadie Aboud, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. F. B. Carvell for deft.

In the libel case of the King vs Fred. H. Stevens, after the crown had called witnesses to prove the utter falsity of the libel, the judge suggested that as Mr. Freeman's character had been fully vindicated, perhaps if Mr. Stevens would publish a retraction in his own paper and other provincial papers, the Crown Attorney might be disposed to enter a nolle prosequi. Mr. Appleby said the prosecutor did not seek revenge, but simply the vindication of his character and now that that had been established so fully, he would take the suggestion of his honor the judge into consideration. In the morning, Mr. Appleby stated that Mr. Stevens had written and signed a satisfactory retraction of the libel, which he would publish, and in consideration thereof he would enter a nolle prosequi. Thane M. Jones for defendant.

The only civil cause on the docket, that of Clarence Kirkpatrick vs The Canadian Pacific Railway Co., for damages received in the Grand Falls bridge accident, was then taken up. The amount sued for was $5,000. In opening the case, Mr. Connell said the defendant was prepared to admit liability, to pay something, but they contested the amount claimed. The case was commenced on Saturday morning and was before the court until Tuesday evening, when the jury brought in their verdict, assessing the damages at $5,500. Chas. Comben, attorney for plaintiff; Dr. A. A. Stockton, K. C., counsel. H. H. McLean, K. C. and A. B. Connell, K. C., for deft.

Text Book of Chemistry.

"Elementary Experimental Chemistry," illustrated, is the title of a work of some 320 pages, just issued from the publishing house of A. S. Barnes & Co., New York, and of which our young friend, Prof. W. F. Watson, A. M., of Furman University, South Carolina, is the author. The object of the work is thus tersely stated: To present the fundamental principles of elementary chemistry in a brief, clear and logical manner, illustrating all important points as far as consistent by appropriate experiments. While it is intended chiefly as a text book for those students especially who are only able to take one course, still it is equally valuable as a preliminary for more advanced work.

So far as we can judge the work shows a great deal of care in its preparation and compilation, and will prove, we should think, a valuable addition to the already existing text books on chemistry.

Snow wishes to call attention to the fact that he is prepared to attend to the wants of picnickers and can supply them with anything in the line of Pickles, Cheese, Fancy Biscuits, Fruit Syrups, Canned Salmon, Lunch Tongue, Devilled Ham, Chicken or Ham Loaf, Lobsters, Corn Beef or Potted Tongue, also a good variety of Fresh Fruit, always on hand.

The world is looking for more light. So are we. Of late, we have been buying our kerosene of a peddling concern, resulting in a shower of complaints of the oil, from our customers. We sincerely regret having had this poor quality of oil, which we were disappointed in. But we are pleased to state that we have 20 bbls. very best Pennsylvania Oil due to arrive, from the Sun Oil Refining Co., Limited, St. John. We had the same oil last year and it gave universal satisfaction. C. M. Sherwood.

The corporation drive is making its way down river at a slow gate. It is expected it will reach Woodstock this week. The water is falling and the prospect for getting the lumber to the boom before the river freezes is not very encouraging.

Noble & Trafton have decided to bring their grocery business to a cash basis on the first day of November. After an experience of seven years in business, they have decided that they can give their customers better satisfaction in the way of prices on a cash basis than under the present credit system. By selling for cash they can buy for cash and get much closer prices, the benefit of which they can give their customers. The expense of book keeping is a large item, which can be done away with in a cash store, and the customers of Noble & Trafton will reap the benefit of this in reduced prices. The members of the firm would like to talk the matter over with their patrons and explain to them the manner in which they propose to effect the change. Now is the time to select your quinces. Noble & Trafton have them, together with very fine Cape Cod cranberries.

The "At Home," given by Mrs. Tappan Adney, on Monday evening, was the social event of the season. A large number of invitations had been extended and very generally accepted and, in consequence, the spacious parlors were crowded with a host of happy guests. To the attractions of solos rendered by Mrs. Adney and Miss Ross, and a dainty supper, was added the opportunity of inspecting specimens of the handiwork of Mr. Adney, in producing drawings from nature, in oils, water and India ink. These were neatly arranged around the walls and in convenient position for inspection. The exhibit was closely criticized and much admired; they all gave evidence of being the production of the touch and taste of an artist's brush and an artist's brain. The mechanical and inventive ability of Mr. Adney was further shown in some chairs and a music cabinet made by him from native woods. The ladies and gentlemen present voted Mr. and Mrs. Adney model hosts and their "At Home" one long to be remembered for its pleasurable associations.

Charles Derrah, of Gordonsville, aged 17 years, was struck on the side of the head by a skid, while working in the Tobique lumber woods for J. J. Hale. The accident happened on Friday and he appeared to be recovering until Sunday morning when he passed away. His remains were taken to Gordonsville for burial.

You are probably beginning to think of purchasing your fall clothing. Whether it be a suit for a gentleman or a dress for a lady, go to Carr's, Hartland. He keeps the largest stock in the village and prices are right.

PAN-AM. MODEL DAIRY NOTES.

Jerseys and Holsteins Tip and Tip.

The Model Dairy is now going along on the lines that were laid down when the warm weather came to an end. The Jerseys and Holsteins are making the best showing, more especially as they are holding well together, while the Guernseys are, week after week, dropping more and more apart; they are now holding fourth place with the French Canadians in fairly good fifth, and that with one miniature cow that has never earned or eaten nearly as much as the average of the herd. When they were brought into the Dairy they were a new element in the list and were considered much of a curiosity, but they have very well established their claim to good dairy qualities. They are of course something of a northern animal and suffered more from the midsummer heat than some others did, as did also the Ayrshires, which had not all been imported long enough to become fully acclimated. It is probable that the Canadian Shorthorns will make up a total that is larger in proportion to the others than was expected. The standing of the herds for the week ending October 15th, is as follows: Jerseys, $7.69; Holsteins, $7.31; Ayrshires, $7.02; Guernseys, $6.93; French Canadians, $6.01; Red Polls, $5.75; Polled Jerseys, $5.39; Shorthorns, $5.38; Brown Swiss, $5.18; Dutch Belted, $4.01.

MURDER OF A BOY.

FOR THE SAKE OF A FEW CENTS.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Tobie Hanson, a Dane, 34 years old, is locked up for a brutal murder committed last night. Hanson met Samuel Marotte, aged 12, son of Samuel Marotte, a well known citizen of Montreal, on the street near his father's home, Westmount. Hanson deliberately knocked the boy down, cut his throat and threw the body on a high pile of stones where it was found some hours afterwards.

Hanson walked into police headquarters this morning and gave himself up. His explanation is that he wanted money, but got only a few cents which the poor lad had on him. Hanson has been in Canada only a few months and had worked for some time on the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec.

Erasing Memories of John Brown.

The colossal statue of John Brown which the late Queen placed in a prominent position in the Balmoral grounds, has been removed to Balmachol, near Craithie, the residence of his brother, Mr. William Brown. The Queen kept John Brown's rooms in the various palaces shut up, and his occupation was commemorated by brass plates erected on the walls. These rooms at Windsor Castle, at Osborne, and at Balmoral have all been cleared out, and converted to other purposes.—London Truth.

Among the many changes that are taking place at Balmoral Castle in view of the coming visit of the King is the disappearance of cairns and all reminders of the late John Brown. Only the stone in the churchyard of Craithie remains to keep the memory of the Queen's faithful retainer at Balmoral alive.—Westminster Gazette.

A GRAND CLUBBING OFFER.

Artificial Asphalt.

One of the chemical papers report an experiment by which an artificial asphalt was produced, which closely resembles the natural substance. Fresh herring and oily pine wood were distilled in an iron retort and the produce was condensed in a Liebig condenser. The experiment seems to confirm the theory that asphalt and petroleum are the products of a natural distillation, by which the remains of early forms of animal and vegetable life have been transformed in the heated crust of the earth.
