

Coal Bills

are now a serious item. Then why burn coals for the weekly wash? Some Soaps won't wash linen without boiling, but SUNLIGHT SOAP will. It's a wise economy to buy the best of all Soaps, when by doing so the quantity of coal used on washing day can be

Reduced
50 per cent.

Burning coal to help inferior and low-priced Soaps to wash is like spending a 5 cent tram fare to purchase a 10 cent article for 9 cents.

By using

SUNLIGHT SOAP you save its cost in the cost of the coals used, not to mention the longer life of the articles washed. A tablet of will do more work without coals, and do it infinitely better, than two tablets of common, cheap soap will do with coals. The majority of the public soon find out the lines of true economy. That's why SUNLIGHT SOAP is asked for by three people to one asking for any other soap in the world.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co., in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc. This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

The new Croton dam is to be the largest dam ever built by man. Its main wall is 200 feet thick at the bottom and 1000 feet long, and the spillway connected with it is 1000 feet in length, making a total length of masonry of 2,000 feet. The main wall goes 150 feet underground.

What is Life to You?

If you are a victim of piles, as one person in every four, you suffer keenly from one of the most torturing ailments known to man, and may well wonder if life is really worth living. Certain relief and ultimate cure is awaiting you by means of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never failed to cure piles. Painlessly and naturally it allays the inflammation, heals the ulcers and thoroughly cures this wretched disease.

Pain in the Joints

may be muscular or rheumatic. The joints are hard to get at, and it requires a powerful, penetrating remedy to reach the affected parts. Polson's Nervine exactly meets the requirements, for it is both powerful and penetrating. The pain is expelled as if by magic, for one drop of Nervine equals in strength five drops of other remedies. You won't often call the doctor if Nervine is in the house. Price 25 cents.

A Whole Congregation Pledged.

Some weeks ago it was reported that the whole congregation of a Roman Catholic church at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in blocks of 100 to the number of 1,000 people, at a special service held for the purpose of saving the people from the prevalent tendencies to drink, solemnly pledged themselves to abstain from the use of liquor. The priest in charge of the congregation is president of the Catholic Temperance Union of the Scranton Diocese.

The power of priests over the rank and file of the Roman Catholic Church is great. They study and control their people by units and not by masses, but the units when assembled together under the sanction of the sanctuary are often more powerfully affected by appeals from their priests, and others like him, than they would be if they had not been individualized through the confessional, and the contact of the priest in marriage, christenings, the administration of the sacraments in the sick room, and the burial of their dead. Where priests therefore neglect to exercise their powers and influence in this direction they are much to blame.

Protestant churches are managed under different principles, yet even the ordinary minister of the Gospel can do much more in this way than many suppose. Pastors frequently shrink from an earnest conversation with important members of their children, even when they know that they are trifling with that which at last "biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." One such pastor heard from a dying drunkard this reproach: "You knew it, but never warned me." Another heard a more cutting reproach than that: "You drank with me."

Three things the white ribbon must always mean. It may mean many other things to the individual wearer, as we emphasize this or that department or principal of our many-sided work, but no one has a right to wear it unless it stands for her mind and in her life for these three: Total Abstinence on the part of the individual from all that can intoxicate; a belief in and an effort towards the ultimate Prohibition and annihilation of the liquor traffic, and the single standard of purity in individual lives and in homes throughout the world—the 'white life for two.' Wherever our badge may be seen, whether it gleam upon the costly garments of the rich or upon the modest dress of the poor woman, upon young or old, in church, on the street, in the railway train, at home in the common round of daily tasks, everywhere it speaks with a voice which cannot be gainsaid, it proclaims an unswerving allegiance to these three foundation principles for the establishment of the kingdom of heaven upon earth. Who would not gladly and proudly wear a badge which allies her with all this! Is it any wonder that the liquor dealers fear while they scoff, an organization which thus bravely and publicly announces its belief in and work for the ultimate triumph of righteousness?—Union Signal.

Rum and Mob.

Referring to the frequent lynchings in the South, the editor of the Baptist Standard says: "Let it be known everywhere that the Southern mob and Southern barroom are as much akin as were the twins of Siam. I have never known of a sober mob. First comes the hell-born thirst for human blood, and after that the insatiable thirst for rum. Spell the word 'murder' backward, and you have 'red rum!' Spell red rum in any way, and you have murder!" This is as true of mobs and lynchings in the North as it is of the same bloody crimes in the South. But for red rum and the saloon, there would be no lynchings, North, South, East or West.

'Temperance ships' is the name by which the vessels owned by Messrs. Carlisle & Co., of London are known. Not only are no malt or spirituous liquors allowed on board, but their masters, before being given command by the owners, are required to sign documents pledging themselves not to partake of any intoxicants. As a guarantee of good faith they must deposit with the owners a bond of £100, which is forfeited in case of any breach of this rule.

Forty-seven saloons at Lamberts Point, near Norfolk, Va., have been closed by special police. Lamberts Point is a town of 5,000 people, situated five miles from Norfolk and where the great coal piers are located.
