Wonders of the Heart.
All the blood in the human body passes through the heart in about three minutes. The heart beats 70 times a second, 4,200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day, throwing out 21 ounces of blood a second, 656 lbs. an hour, 7 tons a day. It is only when supplied with pure, rich blood that the heart, an organ 6 inches long by 4 inches wide can accomplish this enormous amount of work, and rebuild its own wasted tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective treatment available for heart affections because it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood and gives to it that life sustaining quality which is necessary to the health of every organ.

TOBACCO AND EYESIGHT.

Dr. Francis Dowling lately read a paper before the Mississippi Valley Medical Association, showing, as the careful result of investigations by himself and others, that impaired vision is the common result of the habitual use of tobacco either chewing or smoking, rather more by the former method, on account of the absorption of nicotine. He conducted a personal examination of 150 male employees in a large tobacco factory, all of whom used tobacco in one or both of these ways. Of these he found that in 45 cases the normal acuteness of vision was diminished to a greater or less degree. In 30 cases the impairment was very serious, the subjects mistaking red for brown or black, green for blue or orange and sometimes black when the tests were made. They were also unable to make out the white spot in the centre of a black card. More than half the 150 showed persistent contraction of both pupils, and this was the invariable accompaniment of some form of defective vision. In most cases the failure of vision is very slow, and becomes well advanced before the patient discovers it.—Scotch Paper.

We note with satisfaction the growth of the movement for the suppression of the cigarette. Chicago school teachers have commenced a vigorous crusade against this evil which a leading city daily declares is "sweeping through the schools like a scourge and leaving a wake of havoc and incipient wreckage." When the two great educators of American citizens—the public school and the daily newspaper—unite forces for the extermination of the cigarette, the cigarette will go. It is not enough to have laws prohibiting its sale to minors, for the difficulty of obtaining conclusive evidence against violators of the law makes this method of attack comparatively ineffective. The law must be supplemented by watchfulness on the part of parents and by teaching in the schools which shall demonstrate to pupils the effect of the cigarette habit upon the human organism. The goal to be aimed at is the prohibition of the manufacture of the deadly cigarette.—Union Signal.

What the boy is to the future man, the cigarette is to the formation and growth of all vile and destructive habits, the victim being led on from the weaker to the stronger forms of the "Vile Weed," onward and still onward till other forms of dissipation are formed, leading to a miserable life and a deplorable and ignoble death, after having been completely useless, so far as the protection of the public welfare is concerned.—Dr. J. H. Hanford.

ONE CIGAR A DAY.

"How can you afford all these books?" asked a young man, calling upon a friend: "I can't seem to find spare change for even the leading magazines."

"Oh, that library is only my one cigar a day," was the reply.

"What do you mean?" inquired the visitor.

"Mean? Just this: when you advised me to indulge in an occasional cigar several years ago, I had been reading about a young fellow who brought books with money that others would have burned in cigars, and I thought I would try to do the same. You may remember that I said I should allow myself one cigar a day?"

"Yes, I recall the conversation, but don't quite see the connection."

"Well, I never smoked, but I put by the price of a five-cent cigar every day; and as the money accumulated I bought books—the very books you see."

"You don't mean to say that your books cost no more than that? Why, there are dollars' worth of them!"

"Yes, I know there are. I had six years more of my apprenticeship to serve when you advised me to be a man. I put by the money, which at five cents a day, amounted to $18.52 a year, or $109.50 in six years. I keep those books by themselves as the result of my apprenticeship cigar money; and if you had done as I did, you would by this time have saved many, many more dollars than I have, and would have been better off in health and self-respect besides."

—Success.
The world now consumes 6,300,000,000 pounds of tobacco yearly or 2,812,500 tons, $200,000,000. In other words, the world's smoke bill is just $5,000,000 a week.

Communications.

The Carleton Creamery Company Again.

To the Editor of Carleton Sentinel:

Our attention has been called to two communications in the SENTINEL of a week ago, one from C. W. Betts and the other from "Fair Play." We commend Mr Betts for writing over his own name. We are glad to know that he helped to start the skimming station, that he is satisfied with the returns, and would like to see the industry succeed. We can assure Mr Betts that in saying that some days there were less than 1000 pounds of milk at Pembroke station, we did not intend to convey the idea that the average of the season was that amount. The average daily take of milk at Pembroke was 2664 pounds for the season. The highest average for one month, June, was 4133 pounds, while the lowest day's take in September was 886 lbs.

The reference to the straw fed cows did not refer to Pembroke in particular, as we all know that the practice of selling hay and feeding straw is a general one, all over our county. We do not know how many thousands of tons of hay were sold this year, to go out of the county, but it must have been enormous. The farms are certainly much poorer than if it had been fed to stock and the manure put back on the land, and we doubt if the sellers of hay are any better off financially.

"Fair Play" makes two statements which need a little correction. He intimates he has seen the Creamery Co. sell skim milk. He is greatly in error—the Company never sold a cent's worth of skim milk. If one of the skimmers did such a thing without our knowledge we would be obliged to "Fair Play" to tell us. We will give him $10 to produce proof that a pint of skim milk has ever been sold by the Company.

On making careful inquiries I find that one of our patrons, Mr Thomas Stephenson, instructed the skimmer at Woodstock to give part of his skim milk to a Stephenson boy in Woodstock, which was done as Mr S. directed. Perhaps "Fair Play" saw the boy get the milk and then without learning the facts of the case publishes the statement that he saw the Company do what they distinctly stated they did not do. Again he said "we understand the Company petitioned the government to appoint as tester a relative of the manager. There is no truth in the statement. The Company did not ask the government to appoint any person selected by us—our preference was Mr Frank Tilly. The reply of the government was "If we do this for Carleton Creamery Co., we shall have to for all the others and we cannot do it."

If "Fair Play" would deserve the name he writes over, he would do well not to repeat mere rumors.

We trust this letter may not be considered uncalled for, as it is unpleasant to allow such statements to go unnoticed.

We are glad to add, Mr Editor, that many of our patrons have expressed themselves much pleased with the last year's results. Many have told us that they never before received so much cash from their cows before, or had such good satisfaction in marketing the product of the dairy. There seems to be a most hopeful indication that our dairymen will try and secure an increase of butterfat per cow.

Better feed, better care, warmer stables, a culling out of poor milkers, more care in breeding for good milkers, and a more accurate knowledge of the result of each cow, will surely bring success to our dairymen, and also to their best friends and well wishers.

ST. JOHN LETTER.

The city man is often grieved by "news" that is heard by the country man with a derisive smile, for the latter knows his own business and the value of reports relating thereto, especially if they refer to the disastrous effects of early or late frosts, droughts or floods. A despatch from St. Catharines, Ont., of a few days since brought intelligence that the heavy frosts of last Saturday and Sunday had almost ruined the peach, grape and strawberry crops in the Niagara district. Every newspaper in the country ought to have a paragraph to this effect stereotyped for they have occasion to use it every Spring. Such a despatch has come with the regularity of Christmas for a quarter of a century, not only from Niagara but from every fruit growing section of the country. Every year a despatch of similar tenor comes from California, Florida and New Jersey, from the cotton and tobacco growing districts of the south and the wheat and corn growing districts of the west and north-west. And yet the yield of these crops, from year to year is almost identical, has been for a hundred years and will be for a hundred years to come. Let the news vendor give
