Don't Buy
a Cheap
Piano or Organ.

It is a homely saying, but especially applicable to Piano buying, that "the best is always the cheapest." To buy a cheap Piano is the worst kind of false economy. A low priced piano may have, when new, a showy exterior and somewhat agreeable tone, but it is not cheap when neither its appearance nor tone will last, though bolstered up for the sake of profit by ever so strong assertions as to quality. When you can buy a high class Piano such as the Newcombe, Mason & Risch, Gerhard Heintzman and Mendelssohn from us at a reasonable price, why accept a third or fourth grade article. We are also agents for Mason & Hamlin and other Organs.

HAVE WOMEN INTUITION?

Literature is the final expression of human thought. If women can lay claim to a special faculty of intuition, why do they not manifest it in their writings? Intuition, if it means anything, means the faculty that gets down to the germ of actions and characteristics and focuses external traits into a central verity recognizable to the general public. Now, there are more female writers than male. No woman poet has ever written an inevitable line, a line that flashes spontaneously out of the unknown and casts an illuminating light upon the abyss. Woman has added practically nothing to our stock of familiar quotations. Take down your Bartlett or your anthology, and you may be surprised to find that from Mrs. Browning to Mrs. Meynell women have never coined a phrase which has passed into the common currency of speech. Mrs. Browning has indeed written fine lines, but nothing of hers can be said to have become a household word.

Nor has any woman novelist created any character that is generally recognized as typical. George Eliot has come closest with her Tito Melema and Mrs. Poyser. You would appeal only to the educated few if you described a person as a Tito or a Poyser. But call a man a Don Quixote, a Micawber, a Dogberry, a Falstaff, a Colonel Newcome, a Billili, a Parson Adams, or Bob Acres, call a woman a Mrs. Malaprop, a Becky Sharp, a Beatrice, a Diana Vernon, a Meg Merrilies, and even the illiterate will mentally classify the individual as you wish him or her to be classified.

"Ah, but," you say, "in real life women are the true intuitions. They size up a man or a woman at a glance. They are never mistaken when they trust to their instincts."

I can only testify to my own experience. I have not found that women's snap judgment of character are imbued with any special verity. They form likes or dislikes quicker than a man does because they are quicker on the trigger of conjecture.

They can only be one of two things, right or wrong. If time proves that they are right, as they must be in 50 per cent of cases, the right guess is remembered and treasured up by the slower minded man as an extraordinary instance of intuition. The wrong guess is forgotten.—William S. Walsh in Era.

EXCUSES.

The following are some "excuses" for absence from school, collected by a school teacher.

"Kind Maddum:—Excuse me jains for not being there on yistidny. We have a pette gote and it et up his (jainnes) pants and his pa could not git him no others until las nite, So pieze excoose."

"p. s. we will keep the gote tied up hereafter so pieze excoose him this time."

"Respected Miss:—Please to excuse Willy for absenz. He fell down starye just before school time and we feared his internal insides was hurt at first, but we find they aint. The doctor says that no part of his anatomy was hurt but the brewing of his oppdpermis of the outside hide and also his hip hurt some. But he narrowly escaped fatal deth. So kindly excoose."

HIS MOTHER.

"Dear Miss W.:—The non-appearance of Evelina Louise at school yesterday was an unavoidable necessary occasioned by indisposition superinduced, I fear me by my own lack of forethought in permitting her to partake of innutritious and indigestible concomitants beyond her capacity to assimilate. Hence the resultant indisposition and indigestion necessitating the absence of Evelina from school. Kindly pardon an overfond mother's lack of judgment and excuse my daughter's absence for which I am in a measure if not altogether responsible for, I should have made my will power superior to hers and thus saved her from the matification of injurious concomitants. I beg to assure you that it will not occur again."

ALMOST IN DESPAIR

The Condition of Mrs. John Shott, of Orangeville.

SUFFERED FROM A BURNING IN THE STOMACH—FOOD BECAME DISTASTEFUL AND SHE GREW WEAK AND DESPONDENT.

From the Sun, Orangeville, Ont.

The Sun is enabled this week through the courtesy of Mrs. John Shott, a lady well known and much esteemed by many of the residents of Orangeville, to give the particulars of another to those cures that have made Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a household remedy throughout the civilized world. Mrs. Shott, a sufferer from dyspepsia. The trouble first began with severe headaches, dizziness and sometimes vomiting. Next I suffered continually from a burning sensation in my stomach; food distressed me; I did not sleep well at night; lost flesh and became very weak. I was continually doctored but it did me no good. In fact I was gradually growing worse and despaired of ever being well again. One day a friend who called to see me strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She spoke so highly of them that I decided to take her advice, and I soon discovered that they were not like the other medicines I had been taking and that I had at last found something to help me. I continued using the pills for perhaps a couple of months, when I found myself fully restored to health. I have always since enjoyed my meals with relish and have had no return of the trouble. With my experience I feel certain that if other sufferers will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial they will find a certain cure."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich and nourish the blood and strengthen the nerves. It is thus that they cure such troubles as dyspepsia, kidney ailments, rheumatism, partial paralysis, heart troubles, St. Vitus' dance and the ailments that make the lives of so many women a source of misery. These Pills never fail to drive away pain, bring a glow of health to the whole body and make despondent men and women bright, active and strong. Do not take any pills without the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around the box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE APPENDIX—WHAT IT IS.

People as a rule know nothing regarding the appendix. They talk about appendicitis, but the organ affected is to them a profound mystery. Let me endeavor to make plain the nature of this curious vestige in human anatomical history.

The digestive system of man, and that of all other animals, is a canal or tube, whereof the stomach is simply a dilated part. Now, beyond the stomach (bowel), which in man averages twenty-six feet in length. It is divided into the small intestine measuring about twenty feet, and into the large intestine, which makes up about six feet of the total length.

Where the small intestine—which is part that immediately succeeds the stomach—joins the large we find the caecum. This, as its name indicates, is a cul de sac, a kind of blind alley, lying below the point of junction. Attached to the caecum we find the appendix, which is a little three inches in length, and of the diameter of a goose quill. If the caecum is a blind alley the appendix is a kind of trap, lying as it does to the back of the caecum. When indigestible things find their way into the appendix—cherry stones, grape seeds and even the hairs of tooth brushes—they cause irritation, and when this irritation goes the length of inflammation we get the ailment known as "appendicitis." The removal of the appendix is an operation of modern surgery which, under ordinary conditions, is both safe and successful.
