OBITUARIES.

MRS. HIRAM KIMBALL.

Died at South Bridgewater, Me., Oct. 10th, 1902, of consumption, Millie E., beloved wife of Hiram Kimball. Deceased was born Feb. 1st, 1872, at Carlisle, Carleton county. She was the oldest daughter of the Rev. C. H. and P. E. Orser. She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband, one little girl 5 years old, father, mother, four brothers and three sisters, and very many relatives and friends, who deeply feel the loss of so kind a neighbor and friend.

Deceased moved to Mars Hill with her father and family in March, 1889, and in June, 1892, married and moved to Bridgewater to the home of her husband, where she died. Deceased professed religion in 1895 and was baptized by the Rev. G. A. Giberson, and united to the P. B. church, near her home. She was much interested in church work and in her class in the Sabbath school; she was a staunch member of the W. C. T. U. and Grange of Bridgewater Centre, being its secretary for the year 1901. Many of the friends who attended the P. B. quarterly meetings, at Bridgewater, remember her kindness and hospitality in her home. In her sickness, which began in January and ended in this month, the many tedious hours of that very flattering disease, she had the constant care of her sisters and mother and repeated visits of many friends and relatives, and all that medicine and care could do to alleviate her great sufferings, but the approaching end was looked for by her with joy long before it came to further enhance her joy and end her pain of body. Good bye, Millie, good bye, till we meet in the better land.

Her funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. D. E. Brooks from Luke 24: 26: Ought not Christ to suffer these things and to enter into His glory. The funeral director and conductor was the senior deacon of her church, Brother J. H. Slipp. The very many attending the funeral bespeak the esteem in which the deceased was held by them. The remains repose and rest in the cemetery at Bridgewater, where we gently laid her beside Erma, there to rest in the city of the dead.

DAVID E. BROOKS, Bristol, C. C.

REV. S. E. SPRAGUE.

At the annual meeting of the Primitive Baptists in July last, a committee was appointed to write for publication in the CARLETON SENTINEL an obituary on the death of the Rev. S. E. Sprague, who died September the 18th, 1901.

The deceased leaves to mourn their loss a loving companion, three daughters and one son. Brother Sprague was born in Kings county, Feb. 16th 1846, he was the son of Reuben Sprague; his mother was a Miss Downey, sister of the late Elder William Downey of the F. B. denomination. He moved to Carleton Co. with his parents when he was seven years old. He was married July 6th 1874 to Miss Mary Chapman, daughter of Israel Chapman of Ludlow, Maine.

He professed religion in November 1874 and was baptized by Elder Seely of Woodstock, and taken into the F. C. B. church by Elder Harris, and given a license to preach soon after uniting with that church. In 1876 he united with the now Primitive Baptists and in July at Upper Kent 1876 he was ordained to the regular ministry by the Revs. G. W. M. P., G. E., and C. H. Orser, claiming the principles of our denomination as taught by us to be the most congenial to his religious views and in his judgment the faith and practice of the early Christians. Brother Sprague was not what we call a great preacher, but he was a good preacher, and as near the mark of being a living Epistle read and known of all men as any man we can find in these modern days.

We do not attempt to eulogize him after death, but, so far as his acquaintance reached, he had very many friends, and possibly some enemies. He was a man reserved in his nature, very strong in his convictions of right and wrong, and, when he spoke for God as his servant, sometimes very feelingly and powerfully, showed forth the willingness of Christ to save sinners. His ministry of twenty five years was fraught with many blessings and many of the additions to the Primitive Baptist body, stand firm to-day to witness for God in His church, pointing to our dear brother as the means of bringing them into the Kingdom of Christ here below, for he really believed in the Kingdom of Grace.

In behalf of our beloved P. B. denomination we tender to our dear bereaved sister and family our greatest sympathy and prayers, that the God of their husband and father may sustain and provide for them in their lonely hours, and pray God that they may meet in that bright and glorious morning on the Heavenly shore the much loved one, who will be looking for wife and children among the hosts going on from earth.

The Christian World, commenting on the Black Knight's lecture, says: His inimitable drollery, mixed with the truest wisdom, completely took the gathering by storm.

OFF FOR CALIFORNIA

PLEASANT GATHERING AT WAKEFIELD CENTRE.

Mr. Alfred Scott, with his wife and four sons, leave Wakefield Centre, Carleton county, this evening, for Riverside, California, where they intend to make their home. Mr. Scott was a prominent farmer of the parish of Wakefield, and he and the family were much respected in the locality in which they resided. On Monday evening a farewell reception was tendered Mr. Scott and family by Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson. The farm house of Mr. Wilson could hardly contain the number of persons who assembled some of them driving ten miles to wish bon voyage to the guests of the evening. It was an ideal reception. The old folks gathered in groups and told many a quaint story of the pioneer work of farming in Carleton county, as well as hunting. Mr. Wilgoly, a veteran Nimrod, and although far past man's allotted time, still seeks the haunts of the mink, the beaver, the fox and the larger game was an entertainment in himself, as he told of his early exploits with game before the ploughshare turned up the fertile soil of Carleton county. The young folks, who are now used to modern farming implements, however were not much interested in the early struggles of the settlers, but were bound to have a good time, notwithstanding there was regret at the going away of the guests. The fiddler took his place, the bow was rosined, the strings tightened and fingered until they satisfied the musician's ear; the floors were cleared and the master of ceremonies called for couples. The fiddle struck up. The floor leader called out "bow to partners" and "corners," and then lightly tripped lads and lasses through the different figures, while the fiddler also, kept time with his foot. He was there to play, and he did it well. The tables were next set, and here Mrs. Wilson's abilities showed to great advantage. No city caterer could out rival the number of fancy and tempting bits of pastry that were there. After supper more dancing, followed by different kinds of games and music, made the time pass all too quickly. The night was far spent and the clarion notes of the domestic fowl were wafted out in the morning air before the reception was brought to a close and the final leave-taking and the wishing of Godspeed to the guests to their new homes among the flowers and oranges in California. Mr. Alfred Scott, will go out with them and spend the winter in California. Globe.

New Use for Electricity.

ENTIRE RESTAURANT SERVICE SUPPLIED IN A NOVEL MANNER.

Niagara Falls has a restaurant in which the service is supplied by electricity, and the description as given in the Great Round World is very interesting: "The scheme was installed in the restaurant at a cost of about $50,000 by a natural food company. There are 500 tables. Five hundred little electric cars serve the dinner to each table in a silent and satisfactory manner. Each table is equipped with an electric car, a menu and a small desk. Lying on each desk is an order pad. The guest fills out the order and places it on the car. When a button is pressed the electric servant glides away to the kitchen. After the meal is prepared the car comes flying back with the dinner aboard. By means of a mechanical arrangement on the bottom of the cars, each throws its own switch and leaves the main track for the hundreds of other trains. The entire restaurant is run by one young man at a switchboard. It would almost seem as if the testy servant problem might be solved by Niagara Falls and the lightning."

Riley Brook.

Oct. 27, 1902.

Cold, stormy, windy weather, order of the day the past week.

Cheap sales at B. Doohan's store the past few days; every one should take advantage of the same.

J. Hall has been in this place since the 21st; has made some good sales.

Business is hustling at Loafer's Corner; one would think it a seaport town, two stores and two blacksmith shops. Every man at his post. Some boating and some portaging and some stepping around with a pen behind their ears.

Charles Simmons has given the stage line from Riley Brook to Nictan to E. P. Ross for the winter, as J. J. Hale has honored him with his most important hauling.

Mr. E. McCollum made a very pleasant call at the Harmony on the 21th.

Teacher Manzer, Mrs. R. H. Ross and Miss R. Ross were guests of Miss Barker Sunday afternoon and evening. Report a very pleasant time; some fine music given by Charlie Barker on his gramophone.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Merritt passed through here yesterday, en route to Depot camp, where Mrs. Merritt intends to remain for the winter, Miss Brown of Sisson Ridge accompanied her.

Mrs. Vanderbeck's supper that was to have been on the 25th, was put off for reasons not known.

Some of the farmers here have potatoes in the ground yet and some have buckwheat out.

Mr. Ward Holmes and Willis E. Swift returned a few days ago from Boston, where they went on business.

Since word was received here that the coal strike were soon to end, every body seems to feel better, still there were a few who had plenty of dry hard wood that they were holding for fancy prices that they did not get. Many who had good rift wood, was asking as high as $9. per cord for it. However we now look for coal in this city by Nov. 20th.

Probably it will stagger many readers of the SENTINEL if I should tell them that in Kennebec County has been collected from liquor fines $42,000. Seems strange right here under the shadow of the State House, there are over thirty dives where liquor is sold. Only a few days ago the best people of this city asked the city marshal to close the rum holes. Even that failed to go through, and still the open shop continues to dim what might be one of the most beautiful cities in the State of Maine.

Bad Coughs

"I had a bad cough for six weeks and could find no relief until I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Only one-fourth of the bottle cured me."

L. Hawn, Newington, Ont.

Neglected colds always lead to something serious. They run into chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or consumption.

Don't wait, but take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral just as soon as your cough begins. A few doses will cure you then.

Three sizes: 25c., enough for an ordinary cold; 50c., just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard colds, etc.; $1., most economical for chronic cases and to keep on hand.
