THE TOURIST QUESTION.

of no mean elevation, and with crests always graceful and in some instances striking; with two little islands in its midst, the glad retreat of the mosquito bitten traveller, with no sign of life unless it be the canoe of a voyager, the smoke of a distant camp fire, or possibly a moose or a caribou wandering along the shore or swimming from side to side, the scene from whatever point of view is of singular beauty, and makes one wish that there should be no delay, before it is too late in having this and the surrounding region, including Nepisiquit Lakes, set aside, as first proposed and urgently advocated by Prof. Ganong, as a Provincial Forest Preserve. And if this feeling is uppermost when floating upon the surface of these charming sylvan waters, it is greatly intensified when, from the top of such a hill as Sagamook or Teneriffe (the latter a few miles down the Nepisiquit) one takes in at one glance the entire area of the proposed reservation. On every side one sees ridge beyond ridge of ever varying outline but alike always in the fact of being covered with unbroken forest, until one is forced to admit that no comparison so well suits the case as that of waves upon a storm-tossed ocean. So extensive is the view that it includes a large part of northern New Brunswick, and it is stated that from Bald or sagamook mountain it is, under favorable conditions, possible to see at once Katahdin in Maine and the distant hills of Gaspé. Among these hills is the natural home of the moose and caribou, whose tracks meet one at every turn even to the tops of the highest hills; here one may still see the beaver industriously preparing or transporting material for his amphibious home; in the streams and lakes which lie between the hills like silver threads, trout up to four or five lbs. weight are to be had for the asking. Is it to be wondered at that the region is a sportsman's paradise, and that, as its attractions become known, the number of those appreciating such scenes and coming even from afar to enjoy them, should be so rapidly upon the increase? Hunting and fishing camps by the dozen are already to be found there, and are abundantly patronized. How long will it be before these are followed by the summer hotel? How different the bill of the latter when it comes from the following as actually presented, without further explanation to the writer, by the proprietor of the hotel at Kiley Brook—"Three sports and grub seven dollars—!" Will not the Governor General of Canada open his eyes when that bill is reviewed?

There are other changes in the Tobique Valley, which are not without interest. Some of these are the result of natural operations, as in the case of the "Wapske," one of the principal tributaries, whose mouth has shifted its position for nearly a quarter of a mile, while others are the work of man, as in the case of the Narrows near the mouth, and the Falls, so called, on the Little Tobique, in each of which cases considerable quantities of rock have been removed to facilitate the passage of lumber, making localities which were formerly somewhat dangerous now easily to be traversed. Again forty years ago trout were abundant along the whole length of the stream; now good trout fishing can hardly be had below the Forks, and even above is greatly inferior to that of the Nepisiquit. Formerly salmon and white-fish were nightly speared in large numbers; now the watchful eyes of numerous wardens restrict the capture of these fish to the lessees of the river and these only with the fly, though the loss thus sustained by the residents is compensated by the protection thus afforded, as well as by the large sums of money left in the region by those who are willing to pay for the fishing privileges. Formerly the work of the beaver, an animal most shy of civilization, was not of uncommon occurrence even close to the main river; now it is only to be found about the more remote tributaries. Big game, upon the other hand, is rapidly increasing, as is also the number of those who seek for trophies of the chase, and during the last few seasons many very fine heads have been obtained in the Blue Mountain and Serpentine country.

The King's Health Completely Restored.

London, Sept. 13.—With the arrival of King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Balmoral His Majesty's convalescence is officially declared to be complete. The fact that the King has already indulged in deer stalking and is now busy with grouse driving, coupled with the departure of the Queen for Copenhagen next week indicates the confidence of those in attendance upon His Majesty that his health is fully restored. Indeed the King is enjoying better health than for years. The yachting cruise of their majesties around the English and Scotch coasts was a lazy, drifting cruise, stopping at many spots hitherto unvisited by them. Their reception everywhere demonstrated the personal popularity of the royal pair. This was especially noticeable in regard to Queen Alexandra. Scarcely a day passed without recording a pleasing incident of the Queen's womanly tact.

Sixteen buildings, about one-third of the town of Labelle, Que., has been destroyed by fire; loss, $90,000; insurance, about $50,000.

An Increasing Revenue. PROSPEROUS CANADA.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The trade statement given out to-day by the customs department shows an increase in all the domestic exports of the country with the exception of the produce of the mines.

There was a substantial increase in every other branch. Last month there was a decrease of $3,000,000 in the produce of the mines. For two months, July and August, the decrease was about $2,000,000.

There was an increase of about $4,000,000 in the export of animal produce, an increase in agricultural produce and also an increase in manufactures.

The aggregate trade of the two months shows an increase of nearly $2,000,000.

The domestic exports for the two months were $36,746,854, an increase of $3,912,000 over the same time last year. There was a drop of about $2,000,000 in the foreign exports.

The imports for the two months, not including coin and bullion, were $32,451,830, an increase of $1,000,000 as compared with the same time in 1901, so that the domestic exports and the imports for consumption show a combined increase of about $5,000,000.

The duty collected for the two months was $5,626,140, an increase of $620,000 over the same two months in 1901.

The trade statement as well as the financial figures issued to-day show that the business of the country is highly satisfactory and that nothing should be done to impede the prosperity which is so marked in all the industries.

The statement of revenue and expenditure of the dominion for the two months ending with August, was issued to-day. The revenue was $9,758,947, compared with $8,817,032 for the two months last year, an increase of $941,895, and the ordinary expenditure was $5,554,115, an increase of $191,133.

The capital expenditure was $765,814, a decrease of $1,726,000 over the same period in 1901.

The revenue for the month shows an increase of more than $400,000 and the expenditures a decrease of more than $60,000.

BRITISH WOOD MARKET.

(Farnworth & Jardine's Circular)

Liverpool, Sept. 1.—The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been 51,198 tons register, against 38,169 tons register during the corresponding month last year, and the aggregate tonnage to this date, from all places, during the years 1900, 1901 and 1902, has been 350,741, 304,368 and 314,067 tons respectively.

The business of the past month has been rather quiet, though of a steady character. The arrivals on the whole have been about an average for the time of year, and the deliveries fair. Stocks of some articles have increased, but all round are not excessive, and values, as a rule, are very firm, whilst for some of the leading articles an improvement has been established.

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Spruce and Pine Deals.—The import during the past month has been heavy and largely exceeds the moderate import of the corresponding month last year, viz., 25,000 standards, against 13,800 standards, but less than that of 1900, viz., 27,700 standards; the deliveries have been fairly satisfactory, and latest sales have shown improvement; stocks, though large, are not excessive. Pine deals have been imported sparingly; the demand is fair and stocks moderate.

Birch.—Of logs the arrivals have been moderate, and have gone largely direct into consumption; stocks are fairly light; values firm. Planks have again been imported freely; the deliveries, however, have been fair, but prices rule low, and stocks are too large.

A Bluff Game that did Not Work.

Fort Fairfield, Sept. 12.—A raid was made on the Exchange which resulted in the finding of 15 bottles of liquor. When the officers put in an appearance Mr. Haley, the proprietor, undertook a bluff game. He said they would not find anything, but if they had come in the morning they would have been successful. He was a little crestfallen when they found out one of the hiding places and secured the goods. Without a word he rushed to the street, jumped into a carriage and has not been seen on this side of the line since. Wednesday another search was instituted and a barrel of liquor was found buried in the cellar. Mr. Haley had hanging over him cases amounting to about $300 in fines. At this time several different cases of single sales and the search and seizure would have added fines that he could never pay. Worse yet Mr. Haley is in demand in New Brunswick.

SHE PATIENTLY BORE DISGRACE

A Sad Letter from a lady whose Husband was Dissipated.

How She Cured Him with a Secret Remedy.

"I had for years patiently borne the disgrace, suffering, misery and privations due to my husband's drinking habits. Hearing of your marvelous remedy for the cure of drunkenness, which I could give my husband secretly, I decided to try it. I procured a package and mixed it in his food and coffee, and as the remedy was odorless and tasteless, he did not know what it was that so quickly relieved his craving for liquor. He soon began to pick up flesh, his appetite for solid food returned, he stuck to his work regularly, and we now have a happy home. After he was completely cured I told him what I had done, when he acknowledged that it had been his saving, as he had not the resolution to break off of his own accord. I heartily advise all women afflicted as I was to give your remedy a trial."

Recital by the Boy Organist.

The following flattering notice, in the Grantham (Eng.) Journal, concerns the son of Alfred Letts, formerly of this town:—

"Master Ralph Letts, the 15 year old son of Mr Alfred Letts, 21 Manthorpe road, gave an organ recital in the Congregational church, on Thursday evening, in the presence of a large and interested congregation. Master Letts commenced pianoforte playing seven years ago, and showed so much natural ability that he was led to take up the study of the organ. For a youth of his years, he is a remarkably clever performer on the instrument. Having won an open scholarship at the London Organ School, he is now going through a course of training at this institution and at the International College of Music. That he is making highly satisfactory progress was proved at the recital on Thursday evening. Already his mastery of technique is very considerable, and farther study will fit him, we have no doubt, for a successful musical career. His performance certainly gave exceeding great pleasure to the congregation, and he was warmly congratulated at the close of the service. His programme was as follows:—'Prelude and Fugue,' in C, No. 1, Vol. II., (J. S. Bach); Sonata, No. 4 (Mendelssohn); 'Concert Overture,' in C Minor (A. Hollins); 'Benediction Nuptiale,' (C. Saint Sams); 'Allegrito,' in B Minor (A. Guilman); 'Pastoral—Sonata,' (Rheinberger); voluntary, 'Coronation March,' (Meyerbeer). The organ selections were agreeably interspersed with songs by local singers. Mrs. Morton gave a very acceptable rendering of 'The Weaver's Dream' (F. L. Moir), Mr. Woolmer tunefully sang 'The Lost Chord,' and Miss Golding contributed with much expression Handel's 'Waft her, Angels.'"

FILLING THE WEST.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—The report of the Dominion Immigration Department for the month of August was completed on Saturday. It shows that, during the month, 5639 new settlers registered at the Immigration Hall and the various other agencies of the department. These figures do not, however, show the total arrivals, as it is estimated that fully 25 per cent. of the immigrants to Western Canada are either coming out to friends or are of the independent class who do not require advice or assistance from Government officials. These never register, and the officials have no trace of them. The number of immigrants to arrive during August, therefore, be considerably over 10,000. Of the number who registered, 2520 were from the United States, 957 from England, and about 2900 from Eastern Canada. The others were from various European countries. Commissioner Smith, in reply to an inquiry, said that the arrivals of last month were of an excellent class, and nearly all farmers. The total registered arrivals from January 1st to the end of August was 53,100, or 85 per cent. more than arrived during the corresponding period of 1901. If 25 per cent. were added to include the unregistered arrivals, it would show an increase to the population of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, by immigration, of over 66,375 souls. Of the harvesters who arrived from Eastern Canada during September, about 2,000 have intimated to the officials their intention of remaining in the country, and after the work of harvesting and threshing is over they will select homesteads and settle up on them.

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady who cures her husband of his Drinking Habits writes of her struggle to save her home

A PATHETIC LETTER

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid I would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very unwell and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more and also at supper. He never suspected a thing and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peace of mind, a happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comforts and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whiskey was vile stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot, to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from a previous relapse. He never has and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I heartily believe it will cure the worst case."

HER FATHER WAS A DRUNKARD

A Plucky Young Lady takes on Herself to Cure her Father of the Liquor Habit.

STORY OF HER SUCCESS.

A portion of her letter reads as follows:— "My father had often promised mother to stop drinking, and would do so for a time but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day after a terrible spree, he said to us: 'It's no use, I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee, or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he says it is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are also wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send me one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

A RICH FIND.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Advices received to-day by the North American Transportation and Trading Company from Dawson City its headquarters in the Yukon territory, say an astonishing discovery of a gold filled sub-stratum has been made by boring many feet below what has been previously considered to be bedrock in the stream bottoms. This discovery was made by two miners owning all fractional claims at the junction of Bonanza and Eldorado creeks, who not only found an abundance of pay dirt forty-eight feet below the usual mining level, but also the horns of a moose. Encouraged by this evidence that they were not too low to find gold, they kept on digging. At a depth of one hundred and forty feet they found another pay streak and the trunk of a tree imbedded in clay.

FIRE AT MILLTOWN.

NARROW ESCAPE OF THE INMATES.

A despatch to the Globe from St. Stephen, N. B., dated the 16th inst, says:—

St. Stephen, N. B., Sept. 16.—The corporation boarding house belonging to the St. Croix cotton mills, Milltown, was burned this morning.

There were about thirty boarders in the house when the fire was discovered, some of whom escaped with difficulty. Herman Welock, groping his way through the smoke, had his arm badly cut by broken glass.

Several persons were taken from the upper windows by the firemen.

The fire caught from a furnace in the cellar, near which were some twenty cords of dry wood and a barrel of kerosene. The oil exploded and filled the house with a stifling smoke that made it impossible to save much of the contents.

The loss is probably covered by insurance.
