OUR EXHIBITION.

As will be noticed by the advertisement in another column of this paper the managing committee, while preserving intact the distinctive characteristics of an agricultural exhibition, are adding other lines which will serve to render the show more attractive to the general public then would otherwise be the case. Of course the presence of Governor Snowball will add eclat to the occasion, while the amusement features are such as to please the great body of visitors expected to be present. The balloon ascension is assured, so of the town. The various committees are working with a will, and the prospect is that in magnitude and character this Exhibition will surpass any of its predecessors. Of course the races on the second and third days of the show, will be the choice attraction to many.

While the farmers of the County will, we doubt not, make an exhibit which will do justice to themselves and the County, still the manufacturers should not fail to avail themselves of the opportunity presented, to advertise the product of their list, XXX White Wine, XXX Cider, skill and labor, proving them capable Apple Cider, Extra Pickling Cider, of turning out articles in their several lines equal, if not superior, to Malt, Pickling Spices in abundance, imported articles of the same kind. at R. E. Holyoke's.

And, too, we venture to suggest to our merchants, in all the several branches, that they would not only add very materially to the interesting character of the exhibition, but as well benefit themselves, by making a tasty show of their several lines of goods.
