'She seems to have abandoned her moral suasion ideas relative to the training of children.'

'How did it happen?'

'Well, I was largely instrumental in bringing about the change. You see, she has no children of her own, and I grew weary of her constant preaching and theorizing, so I loaned her our Willie.'

'Loaned her your boy.' 'Precisely. She was to have him week on her solemn promise to confine herself entirely to moral suaion.

'Did she keep her promise?' 'She did, but at the expiration of the week she came to me with tears in her eyes and pleaded for permission to whale him just once.'

Our boy of five had been promised trousers, and a dog, to be given him in the autumn, if he were good all summer. One day I said to his father, 'Henry has been very good all this week.' Then in an aside, I added, 'I think it is partially physical.' This did not escape him; for he added quickly, ,No tishn't, ith partly puppy and partly panth.'

"BE A GOOD MAN, PAPA."

Mary's father was going on a journey that would keep him away from home for a week, at least. The children hated to have him go, for they would miss him sadly. He was all ready to start, and the horse and waggon were at the door. Mary, always eager for the last word and the last kiss, followed him, and gave him a loving hug before he drove off. "Mind, now, and be a good girl, Mary," said he. "Yes, papa, I will; and you must be a good man," answered Mary. Looking back at a turn in the road he saw Mary still standing by the gate, waving her good-by.

Her last words, "Be a good man, papa," went with him. Did he not need the counsel as well as she? He felt that he was only a child of larger growth; men and women have their temptations to do wrong, as well as boys and girls. For the sake of his little girl and his family he would "be a good man" in every sense of the word; he would be honest in business, strictly conscientious, and keep his heart pure, and his lips sweet and clean for their kisses. If every man would do the same, what a happy world ours might be! Spain has increased by only 3,000,-000 inhabitants in the last 15 years.

Dyspepsia and Heart Trouble

Mr. George Webber, St. George Street, Chatham, Ont., states: - 'I was very nervous, troubled some with my heart and suffered a great deal from nervous dyspepsia and indigestion. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven a thorough cure in my case. After having used it for some time I am pleased to say that I am entirely restored to health. The indigestion does not trouble me, my nerves are strong and vigorous and the action of my heart is regular."

Dyspepsia and heart trouble frequently go hand in hand. When the blood is thin and watery and the nerves are weak and exhausted, every organ in the body is liable to get slow and uncertain in action. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most powerful blood-builder and nerve restorative that medical science has ever devised. It cures thoroughly and permanently by restoring the whole system to health and vigor. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
