JOTTINGS.

E. S. Milbury, New York, sends the SENTINEL a package of late papers. Thanks.

Now is a good time to subscribe for the SENTINEL, the favorite family paper.

Francis Gallagher, formerly of this county, died at Providence, R. I., on Thursday of last week.

Lily White Floating Soap a luxury for the Bath 10c. per cake at Garden Bros, Drug Store, Queen St.

Another lot of that superior Butter Paper, for bricks or lining tubs, printed or plain, lowest price, at this office.

Don't forget the dramatic and humorous recital by George B. Williams, in the Opera House, Monday evening next.

Add to your telephone card the residences of Harry Noble and William Lilly, in which telephones were placed last week.

We can furnish that popular Magazine, Lippincott's, with the SENTINEL, for $1.67; the price of the Magazine alone is $2.50.

T. W. Baker has purchased and taken possession of the residence on St. John street, belonging to the late James Fisher estate.

R. S. Douglass, has disposed of his jewelry establishment of Sackville and is now in charge of W. B. Jewett's store, this town.

Here's a smoke that will please you—The Col Steele Cigar, a 5 cent cigar that beats them all. Sold by Garden Bros, Druggists, Queen St.

Remember the annual meeting of the Carleton County Agricultural Society on Tuesday afternoon next, at the Record office, 2.30 p. m.

Neil McKinnon slipped and had an ugly fall on the bridge, one day last week. He has been confined to the house under the care of Dr. Hand.

Fresh oysters arrive at the Royal Cafe, Thursdays and Fridays of each week. Will be delivered to any part of the town. Call and leave your orders.—tf-37.

Kirkpatrick's orchestra furnished delightful music for the Halloween dance in the Opera House. There were some twenty couples present, and all enjoyed a pleasant time.

The Richmond Agricultural Society will hold their annual meeting at Debec, on Tuesday afternoon, the 11th inst., for Election of officers, and any other business that may come up.

"Do you know that a barrel of 'Snow White' Flour will make twenty per cent. more bread than a barrel of ordinary flour. It is true economy to use it, and then you have the best."

It is the intention of Hose Co. No. 1, to hold a ball on New Years Eve. This Company has a reputation for doing things up brown and we have no doubt that this ball will be no exception. First class music will be provided.

Hunting parties should call at C B Snow's for anything in the line of canned tongue, corn beef, potted ham, veal and canned fish of all kinds, also canned fruit and vegetables of every description, constantly on hand.

Workmen are digging a trench from Main street to the new power house of H. A. Connell, so that connection can be made with the main water pipe, and an abundance of water available in case of fire in or near the power house.

The season for storm doors and windows is at hand. Leave your orders for same with the Woodstock Woodworking Company and have them promptly filled. When required, measurements will be taken and doors and windows fitted.

On Thursday of last week the sheriff and deputy sheriff arrested a man here, on suspicion of being implicated in the Florenceville bank robbery, but on the statement of his employer that he was an English immigrant and an innocent man, he was promptly released.

There was not the usual amount of pranks indulged in by the boys on Halloween night. Some few fences suffered, and gates were torn from their hinges. At the upper end of Main street some obstructions were placed over the sidewalk, but "then you know, such things must be" etc.

The Fredericton Herald truthfully says:—It is a matter of congratulation, not only to the Methodist denomination but to the whole province, that Rev. G. M. Campbell has declined the flattering calls extended to him from prominent churches in western Canada. Mr. Campbell is a very talented clergyman, and an energetic man in other departments of the public life of this province, and we cannot afford to lose the services of such as he.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At the regular monthly meeting, on Monday evening, His Worship Mayor Belyea and all the councillors were present.

Town Treasurer Bourne reported that for the month of October the receipts were $1073.46, expenditures $2592.57, bank debit balance $6526. Report referred to audit committee.

Town Marshal Gibson reported that during the month he had collected the largest amount ever collected in one month, $610.74; in licenses he had collected $17.50. An order for $1.75, commission on licenses, was drawn in favor of marshal, and his report was referred to the usual committee.

Coun Lindsay—I notice that there has been no report from the school board, which body is supposed to report to the Council. I suggest that the clerk ask the secretary of the board, A. B. Connell, for the report. The police magistrate has informed me that he will have his report for Friday's meeting.

Coun Lindsay said, in reference to the supposed encroachment on the streets by Albert Hayden, that the committee had visited the place, could find no street line, and it was not possible to find if Mr Hayden was encroaching. That gentleman told him (Lindsay) that he was occupying his own land and he would continue piling lumber there until he got "Good and tired" doing so. As for defining the town land, near the water works, he had spoken to the surveyor, Mr Stone, and that gentleman promised to show him the lines, but he had not done so as yet.

Mayor Belyea had a conversation with Mr Hayden. That gentleman thought he was not encroaching, and he did not wish to encroach, on the town lands. He needed the land for piling lumber, and the latter was less objectionable, he thought than making the land a dumping ground, for which it had been used in former years.

Coun. Balmain said the reason the committee was unable to find the iron post was because it was covered over by boards. The post could be found opposite James Watts' residence. He (Balmain) had known Hayden to have boards piled with the ends over the gutter of the streets. The town should look after its own property and not allow Hayden or any other man to use the town property. If the committee had looked over the former survey, in the clerk's office, it would have been in a better position to report. The committee, however, had done better than a former road commissioner, who was instructed to look after these encroachments, for it had reported and he never did.

On motion Coun Balmain, seconded Coun. R. B. Jones, the report was referred back to the committee for further report, and the committee was empowered to hire Surveyor Stone if necessary.

Coun. R. B. Jones said if the iron post was where Coun. Balmain said it was, the committee would have no difficulty in locating it with the help of the surveyor.

Coun. Lindsay did not think that the survey, in the clerk's office, would help materially, as no distances were given. The simplest way would be to instruct the street committee to have the lumber removed and he (Lindsay) would see that it was done.

Coun. A. E. Jones thought the street committee should go ahead and find the iron post first, and then the motion, to have the lumber removed, would be in order.

Coun. Dibble said years ago the Council had the street lines run out by Surveyor Stone and Superintendent Munro, and their report came before the board. He thought Mr Munro could throw some light on the subject.

Supt. Munro said that he had the exact location of the streets. The survey made at that time was a thorough one. The start was made by he and Surveyor Stone, at McLaughlan's corner, the street line was run out to the Duncan line and iron stakes were driven in the roads at different points, which could be easily located. The report then made gave the correct survey and the names of people encroaching on both sides of Main street. All the information came before the Council at the town. The late James Hayden claimed that the deed of his land went through the highway road. He (Munro) did not think the house of W. P. Jones was on the road, but it was very close to it.

Coun. Lindsay said the street committee would have the survey referred to as being in the clerk's office before the board on Friday evening.

Coun. R. B. Jones said the town would make a good financial showing this year, considering the fact that large sums had been paid on the smallpox account, for which no appropriation had been made. The collections this year to date from the water works were $1700, while last year, for the same time, the collections were $1600. There is now due, all of which can be collected, in water rates $3800, and from sewers $400. These collections are generally made during November. In regard to the $100 owed by the Dominion government for entrance to sewers, he waited upon F. B. Carvell, who said he had written to the government concerning this and other claims; he (Carvell) knew the other parties had obtained their money and he supposed the town had received that which was owing it. While he (Jones) was present, Carvell dictated a letter to the government explaining the matter, and the money, no doubt, would be forthcoming immediately.

The usual monthly accounts were read and referred to audit committee.

On motion Coun. Dibbles, seconded Coun Lindsay, Supt. Munro was instructed to extend the water pipe 300 feet on Elm street.

Coun. Dibbles said last spring in the estimates a sum of $300 was placed for the extension of the water service on Elm street. Since the pipe was laid there, new buildings have been erected and the pipe is too small to accommodate the water takers and a good deal of inconvenience arises if more than one tries to draw water at the same time from the faucets. Supt. Munro thought a six-inch pipe should be put in. The appropriation for the work was placed at $300. Probably the water committee should be censured for not attending to the work before this late time, but there was a misunderstanding between Supt. Munro and himself; the work, however, could be done before the ground froze to any extent.

Council adjourned till Friday evening.

Evangelistic Services.

THE UNITED CHURCHES WITH EVANGELIST GALE AS LEADER.

On Sunday, Nov 16th, a series of Union Evangelistic services will be begun in this town, under the leadership of Evangelist Gale. From all indications it would look as though these services would be inaugurated under most promising conditions.

An exchange has among other things the following to say concerning Evangelist Gale and the beginning of his work, in the city of Manchester, N. H.: "The first impressions of the evangelist seem to have been the correct ones, his entire bearing, his calm dispassionate but forceful manner, and the ring of genuineness which stamps his utterances have already made for him a host of friends in this city. Not for many years has an evangelist come to Manchester who had so quickly found his way into the hearts of his hearers. While a well known man, he did not have the prestige of some whose names are household words. That he is already immensely popular among clergy and laity, is due to his obvious ingenuousness and the high tone of his pulpit utterances. He eschews frivolity and the excessive story telling, which has become so characteristic of a certain class of evangelistic work, that it is a byword. Every sentence works toward the climax of his address. His illustrations are apt and useful. There is no waste of words and what he has to say is well worth listening to, no matter what one's religious views may be."

Referring to a passage in one of his opening addresses in which the Evangelist traced the comparatively small number of conversions in the churches to the laxity and inconsistency of many professed christian disciples, our exchange says:—

"Mr Gale rose to his strong and sweeping charge by easy degrees, and its effect was not spoiled by undue severity of manner. This was really the objective of all that had preceded, and the remainder of the discourse was a fine and forceful plea for religious living among those who bear the name of Christ. Without any play upon the emotions, and without using any of the hypnotic influences too often relied upon by evangelistic workers to bring their hearers to a point of decision. Mr Gale held the big audience under the spell of his manly practical appeal."

In distance the moon is 240,000 miles away from our earth, around which she gravitates like a satellite. Her diameter is about 2,433 miles. She has a solid surface of 14,600,000 miles and a solid continent of about 10,000 cubic miles.

NOTES FROM WANDERER.

St. Andrews, Nov. 1st, 1902.

To the Editor of Carleton Sentinel:

DEAR SIR—I make bold to address you. I see in your paper from time to time letters inviting you to take a trip for the good of your health. I believe you like to have a drive over a good road so this is the place to come to in order to have it. Since the introduction of the road machine it is hard to find a real, good piece of road to drive over in the upper counties, because they smooth up the roads with these machines, filling up the holes and bad places with the mud the machine scrapes into them. Down this way they use the machine some, but in a different way; they often scrape off the mud and soft material and then haul gravel, and fill up all the bad places. In Waweig Settlement they have had the same road master for four years, and every year he has had all the teams that he can handle, hauling gravel, the result is they have just beautiful roads. They do not generally have large farms like those in Carleton and Victoria Counties, but they have far better roads; they can drive along any of the roads and never need to be on the outlook for fear of getting upset in some terrible hole; and when going to market they take almost as much with one horse as they can with two where the roads are soft and full of holes.

I suppose you had better take the train to St. Stephen. I thought once that I would advise you to take the train to Fredericton, but I remember that there are some rather poor roads between Fredericton and Lawrence Station; of course it is a beautiful country the most of the way, if they had not lost the art of road making it would be just a splendid drive from the Capital up through the Hanwell Settlement, hence to Action, then through Harvey and on to Tweed-side. You would admire the beautiful Oromocto lake, it is just about the size of the sea of Galilee, about nine miles long by three wide. Brockway settlement lies beyond and should you drive that way, you can put up at Mr Vail's or Mr Davis's, both would take good care of you and your horse. After you go through the Brockway settlement the road is very bad for four or five miles; of course you could drive over it. I have heard of you getting over much worse. But I think the better way will be for you to go to St. Stephen, you can hire a team from Whitlock, Stewart or Lawlor, any of the above will supply you with a good horse and rig at a reasonable figure. Their horses are all used to the electric cars so you need not be afraid of them running away. You could drive up to Milltown and see the large cotton mill, but you better have your dinner in St. Stephen because I cannot tell you of a public house in the whole town where you could get your dinner for money, but it is a nice place to drive through. You will then turn to the left and then to the right, down through Union street, with large, substantial buildings. When you reach King street, turn to the left, then you can drive just as fast as you like, because the road is just as near perfect as it can be made; drive out to Oak Bay. I hope you will call on Rev Mr Spargo there; he is an old acquaintance of yours from Centreville; he will entertain you and your horse and be just as clannish with you as any Scotchman would be, because you come from Carleton county. From there you will drive round the bay on a splendid road. From Mr Spargo's to St. Andrews it is about 16 miles. You can drive over it in one hour and a half should you feel like it, but you better take at least two hours because there are many places and persons of note and importance; the bay itself you will admire; very likely you will see at least a dozen of small ships three and four masted, and several tug boats towing some of the largest sized vessels out to sea. On your left hand you will see McLaughlan's mountain. If it was summer I would advise you to put up for at least half a day and go up to the top of that mountain, because from it you can see away out to sea and the islands, also the towns around, but as it is rather late in the season you had better drive on, but I would advise you to call on Mr Mowat who has one of the finest houses and farms, he will take great pleasure in showing you his fine stock and instruct you in the art of raising fine turkeys for the Boston market, a half mile farther on you will come to Mr Came's stock farm and butter factory; I think you will need to call here, because you will be amply repaid, you tell Mr McClay the manager that you are acquainted with me, and that you come from the best agricultural county in the province, that you are also interested in the advancement of agriculture, and he will show you all threw the barns and point out to you the good points of the stock; in particular he will show you the finest lot of Southdown and Shropshire sheep in America, because so far they have taken all the first prizes at the principal shows throughout Canada and the United States; he will also show you a fine lot that he is preparing for the Chicago stock show that it to be held this winter; I know you could enjoy and profitably spend two or three days with Mr. McClay; he is a practical farmer from Scotland and thoroughly understands his business. You will then drive on to St. Andrews, of course the greater number of the summer visitors are gone, but the streets are beautiful for driving though. You can then drive out to Chamecock and along though Boca-bee, then on to St. George, there you will be interested in the great Granite works. All though this county you will find good roads made up with gravel and shingle from the beach; drive round to Blacks and Beaver harbours, hence to Pennfield and along to Waweig and then back to St. Stephens.

When you arrive in Woodstock again you will be much refreshed and will have lots of news that will be of much interest to the farmers and others in Carleton County.

I remain yours truly,
WANDERER.

AN INTERESTING DEBATE.

There was a fair attendance at the Epworth League meeting in the Methodist church, Friday evening, when the literary entertainment consisted of a debate on "Resolved that the world has grown better, morally and religiously during the past century."

Rev. Geo. A. Ross, was appointed Critic, and very satisfactorily discharged his duties.

The question was ably discussed, the various speakers upholding their respective sides with force and shrewdness, and the debate proved of great interest to the listeners.

The affirmative side was ably opened by R. E. Holyoke, while his arguments were met and combatted with the skill of a general by N. Foster Thorne.

The affirmative was further advanced by a good speech from C. L. Smith, while Wm. Balmain followed with strong arguments in favor of the negative. Howard D. Stevens maintained the interest in the discussion while he upheld the affirmative. Andrew Myles then sustained the negative in a pointed and able speech. H. P. Baird being called upon, added to the interest by a grand speech, in which he inclined to favor the affirmative of the question.

The opening debate was of such an interesting character, that the next one will be looked forward to anxiously, and will be marked by an increased attendance.

OBITUARIES.

MRS CLARA BELYEA.

On October 21, Clara, widow of the late James Belyea of Lower Windsor, died in the seventy-first year of her age, leaving two sons and four daughters, two brothers, one sister and a large circle of relatives and friends. She was the daughter of the late William Hayward Esq., of Rockland and sister of Rev A. H. and William Hayward, Sheriff of Carleton County. She was a good woman; professed religion when young united with Free Baptist church at Rockland, lived a worthy member, and died as she lived. Her funeral was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev John Perry, assisted by Revs G. W. Foster and J. D. Wetmore, (Baptist).

MRS. NELLIE McLAUGHLAN.

Mrs Nellie McLaughlan, Bloomfield, widow of the late Michael McLaughlan, died very suddenly in Woodstock, on Friday night of last week, in the 60th year of her age. She arrived in town apparently in good health, from her home, on that day, and, after calling at the post office, she entered the millinery store of Miss McCafferty to make a purchase. While conversing with Miss McCafferty, she suddenly became faint and fell to the floor. She was helped to a sofa, and Dr. Prescott was hurriedly called, and he found that one side of her body was paralyzed, and that death would ensue in a few hours. The afflicted woman was then removed to the hospital where she died at 9 o'clock. The remains were taken to the home of Mrs Caldwell, thence, on Sunday afternoon, to St. Gertrude's church, where Rev. W. F. Chapman read the burial service; the burial was in the Catholic Cemetery; the pall bearers were James Brown, James S. McManus, Alex Beaton, and Daniel Reardon. The deceased, who was held in respect and esteem by a large circle of acquaintances, was Miss Nellie Sharkey. Four brothers, Neil, Michael, Nicholas and George Sharkey, and two sisters, survive. Undertaker Kelly had charge of the funeral, which was largely attended.
