AFTER THREE YEARS

Mr. Joseph Rochette Released from Rheumatism.

SUFFERED MUCH AGONY, HIS APETITE FAILED AND HIS STRENGTH LEFT HIM—HOPE FOR SIMILAR SUFFERERS.

Only those who have suffered from the pangs of rheumatism know how much agony the sufferer has at times to endure. The symptoms often vary but among them will be found acute pains in the muscles and joints, the latter sometimes much swollen. At times the patient is unable to dress himself, and the slightest jarring sound aggravates the pain. Liniments and outward applications cannot possibly cure rheumatism; it must be treated through the blood, and for this purpose there is no medicine yet discovered can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When given a fair trial, these pills never fail to cure even the most stubborn cases of rheumatism. Mr. Joseph Rochette, a well known resident of St. Jerome, Que., in an interview with a reporter of L'Avenir du Nord, offers strong proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mr. Rochette says: "For nearly three years I was a great sufferer from rheumatism. The pains seemed at times to affect every joint, and the agony I endured was terrible. Sometimes I could scarcely move about, and was unfitted for work. The trouble affected my appetite, and in this way my weakness increased and my condition became more deplorable. I tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until I was advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and then relief came. Gradually the pains left me, my appetite improved and I became greatly strengthened. Before I had taken a dozen boxes my health and vigor was such that I felt better than I did before the trouble began. I have not since had an ache or pain and I feel convinced that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine in the world for rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in every civilized land, and their enormous sale is due entirely to their great merit as a medicine. They cure all such troubles as rheumatism, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, nervous headache, kidney ailments, neuralgia and the weaknesses that afflict so many women. Do not let any dealer persuade you to try something else which he may say is "just as good." See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is on the wrapper around every box. If in doubt send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid, at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"I suffered dreadfully from rheumatism, but have been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, for which I am deeply grateful." Miss FRANCES SMITH, Prescott, Ont.

"I had an attack of the grip which left me weak and helpless and suffering from rheumatism. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and this medicine has entirely cured me. I have no hesitation in saying it saved my life." M. J. McDONALD, Trenton, Ont.

November Canadian Magazine.

The fiction in the November Canadian Magazine is exceptionally strong. There are good short stories by Jean Blewett, Albert E. King and F. De Bertrand Lugin, and the first instalment of Virna Sheard's new serial, entitled 'Fortune's Hill.' This latter is a story of student life, and describes the use of education in a country such as ours, in enabling a young man to rise to higher and better things. Among the illustrated articles, Julia W. Henshaw describes the beauties in and about Field, a little village in the Rockies; Charles Lewis Shaw gives an impressionistic sketch of "The Fire-Fighters of Toronto," which is accompanied by some striking pictures; while O W Nash, the Ontario naturalist, writes most engagingly of "The Ways of the Woodcock," illuminated by his own drawings. For those interested in "home study," there is an article on Shakespeare's use of Birds and another on Astronomy, both of which are quite readable. Norman Patterson reviews the situation of the Alaskan Boundary Question, and F Blake Crofton, the Halifax librarian and litterateur, deals with some "Imperial Bugbears." The departments are as interesting as usual.

FATE OF HINDOO GIRLS.

NEPAUL RAJPOOTS CAUSE THEIR DAUGHTERS TO BE MURDERED.

A Capuchin monk engaged in missionary work in Nepal, writing of Hindoo family life, remarks that it is very difficult for parents to make advantageous matches for their daughters. The Hindoos therefore find a means of ridding themselves of too many daughters by murdering them. It is a well known fact that Hindoos of high birth, those who are called rajpoots, caused their daughters to be put to death after their birth by men specially engaged to do so. This criminal custom had become so general that in 1840 in the seventy-three villages of the Allahabad district there were only three girls under twelve years of age, and three years later in the town of Agra there was not one to be found under that age. All had been put to death.

The English government has very naturally passed severe laws against this abominable crime, but to evade them the Hindoos allow their girls to live until the age of twelve, after which they do away with them by administering poison in small doses. Orientalists are past masters in the art of poisoning, and after some minute inquiries it transpires that in many districts twenty-five out of every hundred girls have been got rid of in this manner. Those girls who have been spared they marry very early, generally between fourteen and fifteen years, and that not according to their own choice, but by the will of their parents, which is decisive.

An Indian family of good rank could not keep an unmarried daughter. It would not only be a public shame, but also a crime against religion. To procure husbands for those who have not already found them there are a number of Brahmins, old and decrepit, called Kulin Brahmins, who go about with the one object of going through the ceremony of the "seven steps" with as many young girls as they can upon receipt of a large sum of money, but who afterward leave the country and perhaps never see them again.

MISERABLE NIGHTS.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BABY IS FRETFUL AND SLEEPLESS.

It is wrong to take up a wakeful baby from the cradle and walk it up and down the floor all night. It demoralizes the infant and enslaves the parents. Baby does not cry for the fun of the thing; it cries because it is not well—generally because its stomach is sour, its little bowels congested, its skin hot and feverish. Relieve it and it will sleep all night, every night growing stronger in proportion. Just what mothers need is told in a letter from Mrs E. J. Flanders, Marlinton, Que., who says:—"I cannot say too much in favor of Baby's Own Tablets. They have worked like a charm with my baby, who was very restless at night, but Baby's Own Tablets soon brought quiet sleep and rest. I shall never be without a box while I have a baby." Baby's Own Tablets cure all minor ailments of little ones, and are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug. They are sold at 25 cents a box by all dealers, or you can get them by mail, post paid, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

Individuality in Children.

In their measure, according to their understanding of it, children can be in touch with all the living social ideas around them. The parent should, as it were, take the child by the hand and lead him to the place whence he can see how full of life, and work, and hope, and courage this great world is, that the child's mind may go out to it with wonder and interest, and the aspiration that he, too, one day shall play his part in it.

And no less in small things than in great things should interest be cultivated. Kindness to animals, interest in natural objects, curiosity about the wonders of science and art—these are all elements in an individuality well compounded for a happy and useful life. Thus there is always something of interest to see, hear, or do, and interests of these sort are seldom of an anti-social character. The mind of a child thus trained to act freely in accordance with social interests will naturally form, or tend to form, some idea of a plan of life for itself. Some honorable ambition early formed, even though it be changed later, is a part of the normal process of the good life. It belongs to the dignity of man that he should have an aim—not drift contentedly in the mere enjoyment of life from day to day. Parent and teacher can forward the formation of some purpose, temporary or permanent, and it would be well that the purpose should be of such a kind as to require some effort for its attainment. The value of persistence becomes obvious to the child himself when he has a purpose. Training to persistence in a task forms a most important element in moral training. The lesson must be taught that tasks begun should be finished, that the unfinished task voluntarily begun is a disgrace to the beginner.—Dr Sophie Bryant.

When it Hurts To Cough

The cough that hurts, the cough that gets tight in the chest is doubly distressing and deeper into the bronchial tubes and is making directly for the lungs, to become pneumonia, inflammation of the lungs or consumption.

Such coughs are sometimes referred to as "graveyard coughs," because they usually bring their victim to that last resting place.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has long been known as mother's favorite remedy for croup, bronchitis, coughs and colds. It gains in popularity every day and now has by far the largest sale of any similar preparation.

It loosens the tightness in the chest, allays the inflammation, cures the cold and prevents pneumonia, consumption and other lung troubles. 25 cents, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.
