JOTTINGS.

Any person who fails to receive his paper regularly will oblige the management by promptly notifying the office of the fact.

R. V. Dimock has this week been looking after the fittings and other property of the Royal Bank Agency, soon to be opened in Edmundston.

CM Sherwood, Centerville, guarantees the high standard of excellence of the "Electric Light" brand of Kerosene from the Sun Oil Co. Ltd.

The Store on Main street until recently occupied by Mrs. Wm. Loane, is undergoing extensive repairs. Hardwood floor, steel ceiling and other improvements are being added.

There is a movement on foot tending towards the formation in town of a branch of the Booklover's Library. Subscription lists have been opened, and particulars will be furnished later on.

There will be a debate this Evening in the Methodist Church under the Auspices of the Epworth League. The subject is "Resolved that capital Punishment should be abolished." C. Herb Smith and R. J. Fleming are the leaders. Many young men will take part in the discussion.

At the SENTINEL office you may procure deeds, mortgages, bills of sale, tax notices, district assessment lists, county court forms and all ordinary legal blanks at low prices. Mail orders carefully filled.

J. J. Gallagher, formerly of Woodstock, now a prominent barrister at Grand Falls, met with a bad accident the other day. While alighting from the train he fell, breaking his leg at the hip. Medical attendance was not promptly secured and it is feared that blood poisoning may result from the accident.

The young man Booker who was tried for arson in the Circuit Court, was declared not guilty on Wednesday. As we go to press the suit of McKenzie vs. Loane is before the jury. Some of the other cases have been settled out of court, but it is probable that a number will have to go over until the next term.

The present time is a good opportunity to send along your subscription or renewal to the SENTINEL. We will give you the paper free until the first of the year, dating all new subscriptions paid up to Jan. 1st, 1905.

Mr. D. Arnold Fox of the Stone church, St. John, N. B., has consented to give an organ recital in St. Luke's church on Tuesday, November 3rd. Lovers of music should not miss this opportunity of hearing one of the foremost organists in the Dominion of Canada. He received his musical education from Dr. Torrington of Canterbury Cathedral, England, and was for some time organist of the English Church at St. Remo Riviera, Italy, at which time he opened the grand organ presented to that church by Lord Gochen.

"Thelma" will be seen at Opera House on next Tuesday evening Oct. 27. This play is now well advanced in its third successful season, and has lost none of its powers to attract by repeated presentation. It is a play of many strongly drawn scenes, among the most dramatic and telling being the "tomb scene." Correll is noted for her conception of weird characters and is adept in surrounding them with atmosphere suitable to the theme on which she builds and suitable to the type she draws. We are given all the assurance of the management of the attraction that the several players to be seen shall fully meet all of the exacting requirements of the play, and the cast is said to be much superior to that of former years.

Morit Backed By Enterprise.

One of the surest signs of approaching winter has come to hand in the shape of "Dodd's Almanac" published by The Dodds Medicine Co., of Toronto. For thirteen years this useful little book has made an annual appearance and there are few more familiar or welcome visitors to the homes of Canada. Its data and statistics are carefully prepared by the best known authorities and have been found uniformly correct.

In addition to this Dodd's Almanac contains much that is of interest to the Canadian reader. It gives in condensed form the record for the year of the well known Dodd's Remedies that, first prepared in Canada, have come to be a household word in the homes of the civilized world.

It shows the growth of an industry founded on merit and cultivated by enterprise. It shows the appreciation of the public for a remedy that they have tried themselves and not found wanting. It shows the health hundreds of sufferers have found in Dodd's Kidney Pills when in their misery they thought death was their only relief.

And Dodd's Almanac has become one of Canada's national advertisements. Published in many countries and languages it has made Canada a familiar word in those lands where the great Dominion has heretofore stood for a dreary waste of forest and snow. And wherever it has gone it has been followed by Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. No one in Canada needs to be told of their work. It is familiar to every household. Suffice it to say it has done honor to The Dodds Medicine Co. and the proud name of Canada.

Ethel Brandon as Thelma, a Strong Attraction.

Among the many books that have been dramatized in recent years, no one has met with more approval from a discriminating public than this one, which is now in its third successive year, and for which a cast has been secured that is by far the best yet seen in the play. The company as now constituted, is headed by Miss Ethel Brandon, recognized as among the best of our young leading ladies, who will be seen in the title role of this charming play which is a romantic drama taken from Marie Corelli's story. The first, second and fourth acts take place in Norway, third in London. The scenic features are out of the ordinary, and the play follows the book closely enough to satisfy the readers of the Corelli story. After marrying Thelma, Errington takes her to his London home, where Lady Winsleigh proceeds to destroy her faith in her husband. It takes a good deal of persistence on her ladyship's part and she has to stand the disapproving hisses of the audience, but she finally succeeds in driving Thelma back to Norway by means of a letter Errington had written to a burlesque actress. Lady Winsleigh's efforts are entirely in behalf of her own affection for Errington, and are altogether wasted. Errington is innocent of anything like unfaithfulness to Thelma, but appearances are against him.

and the designing woman readily makes them appear to convict him. Errington follows Thelma to Norway and the last act is the most spectacular of the four. It shows the Alten Fjord and the rainbow bridge in midwinter. The snow avalanche is another well handled effect in the last act, which is the most interesting of them all.

"Thelma" is said to be a play of heart interest; enlivened by plenty of true, wholesome comedy and a drama well worthy of the attention of the most critical. The scenery is claimed to be beautiful, and many very elegant costumes are worn.

Thelma is announced for presentation here next Tuesday evening at Opera House, Oct. 27th.

Outrages in Macedonia.

The most horrible accounts of outrages in Macedonia, in which Turkish rulers and Bulgarian insurgents seem to be equally guilty, have as yet failed to bring about the intervention of the European powers. Bulgaria has been notified that if it should interfere for the relief of the Bulgarian population of the Turkish provinces, it cannot expect the help of other nations. This attitude of the powers is more readily understood if we remember that the Bulgars are the outlanders of Macedonia, and are separated by strong religious differences from the Greek Christians, who form a majority of the population, as well as from the Jews and the Mohammedans. Both Jews and Greeks prefer the rule of the Turk to that of the Bulgarian minority, and no nation of Europe outside of the Balkan States will wish to support either the Turks or the brigands. The atrocities must go on, unless a third party comes in to subdue both, which is not to be expected.

The insurrection in Morocco is not suppressed; but one of its avowed objects seems to have been attained. The Sultan has dismissed his foreign advisers, or given them leave of absence. It has been reported and denied that France, with the approval of Great Britain, would take possession of Morocco.
