

Pandora Range

SMOOTH, HARD CASTINGS—EASILY POLISHED

Every woman who prides herself on a well-appointed kitchen wants her range to be well polished, look clean and have a new, elegant appearance. This is not possible if the castings are not right—all castings in the "Pandora" range are made from the highest grade of pig-iron (no scrap of any kind is used) the best skilled moulders in the land do the moulding, the utmost care and latest machinery is used in the cleaning, and when finished every part has a smooth, hard, black surface which takes a beautiful, rich polish and never has that grey effect always seen in poor castings. Special fine construction in the "Pandora" forces the heat around the oven twice and directly under every pot-hole—is a perfect baker and a perfect cooker at the same time.

News from the Country.

Williamstown.

November 2nd, 1903.
Well our snow is all gone and we are having Indian Summer now. The farmers say it is too dry for ploughing yet, rain is very much needed. Wm Page is using his new sulky plow.

The threshing machines are kept pretty busy now.
Some have been chasing deer but have failed to get any, although they are often seen in the fields.

We hear to-day of another death in this vicinity. Mrs Dunlap (nee Miss Maggie Doherty) after a long illness of consumption, passed away. Her funeral will be at Avondale tomorrow.

Mrs Andy Page was the guest of her daughter, Mrs Thos Corbett, last week.

Miss Emma Carvell was a guest at Handford Lindsay's last Saturday.

Mr Antworth, Greenfield, was the guest of John A Waters last Sunday. Enoch Savage returned to Fort Fairfield, Me, for the winter, after spending a few days at home.

Mrs Jane Gillis and Mrs Robert Gillis were the guests of Mrs Wm Page, one afternoon last week.

Miss Helen McLeod has returned to Woodstock after spending a week with her sister Mrs Wm McWald, who has been on the sick list, but we are glad to know is some better.

Miss Mary Page spent Sunday night at her brother's Mr Wm Page. Misses Maggie and Annie Lindsay spent an evening lately at Mr Andy Jameson's.

Mrs Howells Corbett has gone to Montreal for treatment in the Hospital. We hope to see her return completely cured.

Mrs John Porter has callers from Waterville this evening.

WIND COLIC.

'In my opinion,' writes Mrs Philip Collins of Martindale, Que., there is no medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets. Before I began the use of the Tablets my baby cried all the time with wind colic and got little or no sleep, and I was nearly worn out myself. Soon after giving baby the Tablets the trouble disappeared, and sound natural sleep returned. I have also proved the Tablets a cure for hives, and a great relief when baby is teething. I would not feel that my children were safe if I did not have a box of Tablets in the house.'

All mothers who have used Baby's Own Tablets speak just as highly of them as does Mrs Collins. The Tablets cure all the little ills from which infants and young children suffer, and the mother has a solemn assurance that this medicine contains neither opiate nor any harmful drug. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25c a box by writing the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sir John Cope—Poor Johnnie, the object of so much satire and ridicule was by no means either a coward or a bad soldier, or even a contemptible general on ordinary occasions. He was a pudding-headed, thick brained sort of person, who could act well enough in circumstances with which he was conversant; especially as he was perfectly acquainted with the routine of his profession, and had been often engaged in action, without ever, until the fatal fight of Preston, having shown sense enough to run away. On that occasion, however, he was, as sportsmen say, at fault.—Sir W. Scott.

Nature bids me love myself and hate all that hurts me; reason bids me love my friend, and hate those that envy me; religion bids me love all and hate none, and overcome evil with good.

Don't forget the old man with the fish on his back.

For nearly thirty years he has been traveling around the world, and is still traveling, bringing health and comfort wherever he goes.

To the consumptive he brings the strength and flesh he so much needs.

To all weak and sickly children he gives rich and strengthening food.

To thin and pale persons he gives new firm flesh and rich red blood.

Children who first saw the old man with the fish are now grown up and have children of their own.

He stands for Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil—a delightful food and a natural tonic for children, for old folks and for all who need flesh and strength.

AN AMERICAN VIEW.

Lord Alverstone's stand on the Alaskan Boundary dispute comes in for a great deal of adverse comment, not only in this country, but by some of the most impartial observers in the United States. The Scottish American Journal prints the following:—

As we stated last week, we sympathise entirely with Canada in her disappointment at the Alaska boundary decision; and if the members of the Tribunal had had any sense of justice we do not see how such a decision could ever have been given against the Dominion. It is evident, however, that Lord Alverstone had such a very exalted idea of his own importance that he considered the two Canadian Commissioners, Sir Louis Jetté and Mr A Bylesworth, of no account whatever and unworthy of being consulted even in any manner of way. So long as the great Lord Alverstone, presently Lord Chief Justice of England, was satisfied all others were of no account whatever. The United States Commissioners had only to pamper that inordinate vain, self-conceit, in order to carry everything their own way, right or wrong; and undoubtedly they did it. At the first meeting of Lord Alverstone with these two Canadian Commissioners, the former admitted and said that the Canadian regarding the Portland Canal was absolutely unanswerable, yet without consulting his two colleagues any more about it Lord Alverstone practically abandoned that claim and gave two (Kannaghunut and Sitikan) of four islands to the United States; and that "without either rhyme or reason," except to please this country. Not only were the views of the Canadian Commissioners on that matter entirely ignored, but certain decisions were submitted for their signature concerning which they had never even been consulted!

At their first meeting after the hearing of counsel on both sides was concluded the whole six members of the Tribunal unanimously agreed to give to Canada all the four islands referred to in the Portland Canal, and yet Lord Alverstone afterwards revoked this, and further not only gave (virtually then unasked) two of the islands to the United States, but also some territory, near Dyea, Canada right to which had never been disputed. Alverstone's conduct is truly beyond comprehension, and no wonder the Canadians have protested. The decision, however, in the Alabama case was equally unjust, and Britain then made a protest, but all to no purpose. And now, as we said, Canada can only "grin and bear it."

HIS CARD.

Mr Newrich, the dust contractor, having made a fortune, part of which he had invested in house property in the east of London, wished to rise, like a phoenix, from his ashes into some sort of society. His golden key applied to the coffers of an impecunious aristocrat opened the way. His new friend among other things advised him that visiting cards were a necessity, and as a guide to drawing up one ready for the printer, handed him one of his own, which read:

HAROLD DE VERE,
Iona House,
Portsmouth Square, W.

Two days later, as De Vere was sitting in his dressing gown at breakfast, a servant brought in on a salver a visiting card bearing the following:

EPHRAIM NEWRICH,
I own 23 houses,
London, E.
—London Fun.

The Automobile and The Cart Horse.

A swift Automobile once swept proudly past a Tired Cart Horse. "Hello, Old Stick-in-the-Mud!" it called, tauntingly. "Back to the Boneyard, you Dead One!" So saying, it disappeared in a Cloud of Steam.

A little farther down the Pike, the Tired Cart Horse came upon the Swift Automobile, now Busted.

"Aha!" said the Steed, with a Horse Laugh, "who is Stick-in-the-Mud now? You are indeed far from your Happy Home."

While the Cart Horse was thinking up other Biting Sarcasms of this Nature, they hitted him up to the Damaged Vehicle, and he was compelled to yank it laboriously to the stable, fourteen miles away on an Up Grade.

This fable teaches us that it is Wrong to gloat over the Downfall of our Enemies, until we are sure they can no longer injure us.—Exchange.

The Earl of Dunraven is to become chairman of the London Constitutional Club, the biggest club in the world. There are 6500 members, of whom a third are town residents, the prescribed area being a range of twenty miles from Charing Cross. On the candidates' book there are over 200 names. Catering for a club of this size is no easy task, more especially when it is remembered that last year 178,000 meals were provided.

Deafness is Curable!
Sufferers from impaired hearing will be glad to know that their affliction is probably not due to any organic defect in the ear, but results probably from a thickening of the lining of the middle ear caused by catarrhal inflammation. Hundreds of perfect recoveries as a result of the inhalation of Catarrhazone are reported, and on the highest authority we recommend this treatment to our leaders. Catarrhazone quickly restores lost hearing, and its efficiency is placed beyond dispute by the case of Mr. Warren of Toronto, who recovered perfect hearing by using Catarrhazone, after years of deafness. Price $1. At Druggists or by mail, from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.
