

WE BELIEVE IN DOCTORS.

We believe that every man when he is sick ought to call a doctor, and not try to "doctor" himself. We believe that there would be far less sickness—far better health—if everybody would do everything possible to co-operate with doctors in taking better care of the health. We believe that the best way, always, is to have a doctor see what the matter is, and write a prescription for it, and then have a reliable druggist prepare the medicine according to the prescription.

NOTICE TO FARMERS!

WE expect to resume our business of slaughtering lambs this season as usual. We shall buy our lambs by the pound, weighing when taken away, which has proved very satisfactory. We shall continue to pay one cent per pound more for ewes and weather than we do for buck lambs.

We advise weighing all lambs before selling by the head, to see if we are not offering more by the pound for good lambs than they will bring by the head.

STRIKE AT MONTREAL

ASSUMING DANGEROUS PROPORTIONS.

MONTREAL, April 28.—The long-shoremen's strike developed into disorder and riot at the harbor front this afternoon with the result that the militia was called out by Mayor Cochrane. During the disturbances the strikers set fire to the cargo of one of the steamers and a striker was shot by a stevedore. In neither case the consequences were serious. The disorder started seriously when a mob of 600 angry strikers overpowered the small force of police who endeavored, on the docks, to guard non-union men at work discharging the five ocean steamers, and rushed up the gangways to the decks where they frightened off the laborers and sailors handling the cargo.

The shooting occurred on Berri street, where a crowd of strikers pursued William Quinn, a stevedore. Joseph Laviole, one of the crowd, jumped on Quinn, who drew a revolver and fired twice, one shot lodging in his assailant's leg. The mob chased Quinn, who escaped. Later he was arrested. Tonight order is restored, but the vessels are not working.

The men employed on the Salacia and Alexandrian lying at the foot of Berri street worked until 2.35 this afternoon when they were driven from the vessel at 3 o'clock.

Six hundred angry strikers and sympathizers made a demonstration at the Hochelega wharf, where the Carrigan Head was discharging. The mob charged and rushed by a handful of police, made up the gangways to the decks of the vessel and frightened off the men who were working.

The Victoria Rifles, 65th Regiment and Duke of York Hussars, 600 strong are stationed on the wharves. They will do duty all night, and protect the men who will be put to work by the stevedores. Each man is provided with 50 rounds of ammunition and strike cartridges. The troops are accompanied by an ambulance corps.

Before the troops were sent to the wharves, strikers set fire to the cargo of the Leyland liner Alexandrian lying near the Canadian Pacific elevators which were in danger until the crew of the vessel extinguished the blaze. A striker named John Donaldson was arrested for setting the fire. Six more strikers were arrested during the disturbances.

Three men were thrown into the harbor during the fights. They were all rescued. G. Billodeau, a non-union fireman, was badly beaten and thrown off a wharf. He was rescued. The Canadian Pacific liner, Lake Champlain, arrived to-night. She has on board 60 English dock laborers.

KING EDWARD AT ROME.

ROME, April 28.—King Edward received the diplomatic representatives in Rome in his own apartment at the Quirinal. He was presented by the British ambassador and shook hands and spoke cordially with each foreign representative. To U. S. Ambassador Meyer His Majesty said: "I have taken pleasure in appointing the Prince of Wales the head of the St. Louis fair commission. To this Mr. Meyer replied that such a compliment and honor was much appreciated in America."

King Edward spoke of the pleasure he experienced at being in Rome. When he received Premier Zanardelli earlier in the day His Majesty said:

"I am very glad to be in Italy," and he added emphatically, "especially in Rome."

These precise words, while they have produced great satisfaction, have been much commented upon in government and political circles.

King Edward and the King of Italy drove this afternoon to the Coliseum, the Arch of Titus, the Palatine Forum and the monument of Victor Emmanuel.

King Edward expressed his great admiration of what he saw. Whenever they went the two kings were loudly cheered and received a continuous ovation. A court dinner at which 104 covers were laid was held this evening. All the high dignitaries of the state and court were among the guests.

ONTARIO'S GOOD SHOWING.

Toronto, April 28.—Premier Ross delivered his budget speech to the legislature this afternoon in his capacity of provincial treasurer. The financial statement, which he presented, gave a very satisfactory view of the province's administration, and showed the surplus of assets over liabilities has reached $1,939,262.

The total assets are $7,824,208, and liabilities $5,884,946.

The estimated receipts for the year 1903 are $4,403,372, which with the cash balance of December 31 last, make a total of $7,818,893, while the estimated expenditure for 1903 is $4,537,428.

BRITAIN'S FATAL WEATHER.

The sudden death of the Right Hon. Robert William Hanbury, president of the Board of Agriculture in the British cabinet, will surprise and shock Canadians, to whom he was chiefly known for his refusal to remove the embargo on Canadian store cattle. Mr. Hanbury, in this, however, as well as his own convictions, was probably only carrying out the general opinion of the ministry to which he belonged, and it is doubtful if his death will be followed by any radical change. The agricultural interests of England have brought great influence to bear to exclude our cattle, and England would have a perfect right to continue her policy of exclusion if she were to frankly own that this policy is one of protection. Instead of that she continues to pretend that our cattle are excluded for fear of disease. Mr. Hanbury, while never in the front rank of statesmen, was very useful to his party and the country in several subordinate offices, and was a member of parliament for some twenty years or more. He came of the leisured class which naturally seeks a parliamentary career, and from which has been drawn the great majority of England's famous statesmen. His sudden death from pneumonia at the comparatively early age of fifty-eight is a startling reminder of the severe weather conditions in England and on the Continent this spring. While our spring has been an early one, and comparatively very fine, although cool, the United Kingdom has been in the grip of winter, with snow storms and piercing winds, accompanied by very low temperatures. In London, only a few days ago, we read of days beginning with frost and a biting north-easter, which sent shivers through the crowds in the streets, and affected even those who sought refuge in cabs and tramway cars. In Scotland the April weather has been even more severe. In the northern country the snow has been lying several inches deep, and agricultural work has been stopped, although it was in a forward state. In Stirlingshire as lately as April 16 there were nine degrees of frost, and three inches deep of snow in the Lammermoor Hills, while the Lanarkshire fruit crop, upon which the supply of Glasgow largely depends, has been greatly damaged. We read also of fifteen degrees of frost being reported from Nottingham, of an old man dying from exposure at Scarborough, and of the disastrous results of the frost upon the crops and fruit trees, especially of Yorkshire, Cheshire, Lincolnshire, Warwickshire, Sussex, Hampshire, Berkshire and Kent. Derby reported blinding snowstorms and ice half an inch thick on the ponds as lately as the middle of the month, and, under these abnormal and exceedingly trying conditions, the prevalence of pneumonia and its fatality in Great Britain this spring is deplorable but not surprising. Many valuable lives have been cut suddenly short by this dread disease, and the agricultural losses caused by the wintry weather must be enormous.

News from the Country.

Williamstown.

April 29th, 1903.

Everyone is busy farming although help is very scarce, both indoors and out. Some are housecleaning, some are done, others are waiting for help.

Mrs. Richardson left for Rhode Island last Saturday. Her sisters, Mrs. McWaid, Mrs. Smith and husband talk of following her next week. We wish them success, although sorry to part with them.

Mr. Fred Nelson has decided to stay here this summer.

Mrs. R. Reed was improving when I saw her a few days ago.

Mr. Philip Smith is in very poor health. She is at her father's, James Page, where she is well cared for.

Mr and Mrs Joseph Pryor have been very sick, but are improving.

The breach of promise case has been settled before court commenced. Report says the plaintiff got $50.00. That is selling men pretty cheap. Boys take a lesson and be careful what you promise. But some day the defendant will be the plaintiff in the next case which promises to be more interesting than the last.

Lindow Graves has raised a fine barn.

James Bradley has sold the grey horses he has driven so long. We hope they will be used well.

Miss Nettie Bradley spent Saturday and Sunday at home. She teaches at Deerville Corner.

We hope we will have a change of teacher the next term, as I was more than surprised a few days ago to see the state our neat little schoolhouse is in, all destruction.

Allen McAuley has gone to work for Mr Page for the summer.

Some of our boys were to Charleston to help raise a barn for Thomas Travis, Sr; they report a large crew, and more than plenty to eat of the very best; they did not have to go home without their supper, nor did not do it either.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs R Rideout fell and fractured a rib; she is an aged lady, and lives at Good's Corner.

Debec.

Maggie Nason entertained a party of her friends on Wednesday evening of last week.

Mr and Mrs John Blackie spent Sunday with friends here.

Irene Campbell of Richmond Corner, visited Annie Hemphill last week.

Rev A D Archibald went to Kincardine on Saturday consequently there was no service in the Presbyterian church at McKenzie's Corner on Sunday.

May Atherton and Lizzie Hemphill of Houlton spent Sunday at their homes here.

Jas Pickel was home for Sunday. Dr E S Kirkpatrick gave us a flying visit on Saturday.

Ernest King, who has been working on the Houlton section, left this week to assume a more responsible position.

Wm Crabb is home from Fredericton.

The concert in the Forester's Hall on Monday evening was well attended. We hope our Woodstock friends will visit us again.

The lawn surrounding the R C church has been plowed and improvements will be made that will add much to the appearance.

Westfield, Me.

Mr and Mrs T H Miller took a trip to Robinson, Saturday.

Enoch Briggs is having a barn raising to-day.

Tracey Day and Elmer Chase are now recovering from a very severe attack of mumps. Think the disease has not slighted any in the town who have not had it. There have been about eighty cases this spring.

Mr and Mrs Perry Day and Miss Bessie Day drove to Presque Isle from hence to Sprague's Mills and back, Saturday evening.

Mrs John Knowlen accompanied her father, Chas. Nickerson of Bloomfield to Mapleton, last Saturday and returned on Monday.

Harry Lamont of Chapman and Gilbert Bell of this place have exchanged farms. Mr. Lamont was a former resident here and his neighbors welcome his return.

Otha Noble of Mars Hill has purchased Frank Shorey's farm and is moving in this week.

Pitt Cook of Bridgewater has bought Jonas Smith's farm. Although we regret to see the old neighbors leave we extend a welcome to the new ones.

John Adams is preparing to build a new barn.

Anyone wishing to see a flock of nice lambs should call at Mr Samuel Baird's. He had eighteen lambs from nine sheep and only one of the number has died.

Fifteen persons were frozen to death during Sunday's snow storm in various parts of Silesia, Prussia.

MEN'S CLOTHING WITH CHARACTER.

There is much Clothing made—such vast piles of it. And there is much carelessness in the making; so much hurry work on each piece that needles and fingers must fly quickly to seam ends, to make big pay enough to keep on living. So cheap clothing comes—smooth pressed by the tailor's goose into good looks; but so risky to health—so soon to be shabby and worn out of shape.

We purchase no sweat shop goods. We handle clothing that is rightly made on the premises. Our Spring and Summer Suits are now ready for inspection.

Business Suits for Men at $7.50, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $11.00.

Made up in the very Latest Styles, the same as we are turning out of our Custom Tailoring Department. Fancy Mixed Cheviots and Worsteds effects; Neat Stripes and Checks. The largest and most complete line we have ever carried. If you practice economy you will not buy until you have seen these goods.

Terrific and Fatal Explosion.

Frank, Alberta, April 29.—"Earthquake happened about 4.30 a. m., whole valley below town for over a mile wide shook up. Immediately after, what appeared to be a volcanic eruption took place on top of Turtle Mountain, which overlooks the town, throwing tons of rock out and covering the mine entrance and buildings and burying them hundreds of feet up.

"All the people about the mine were instantly killed, and over 20 miners imprisoned in the mine with little hope of rescue. Seven cottages buried under rock.

"Loss of life is estimated at over 100, mostly women and children. A. Leitch, his wife and four children, are among the dead. His three little girls escaped. Mountain still throwing up rock."

By the use of electrical appliances three men now do the charging of twenty furnaces, at Homestead, which formerly required 200.
