FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1903.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE.

A careful perusal of the report published in our last issue re the condition of the pumping station, will convince any fair minded person that there is something radically wrong in the management somewhere, evidently somebody has neglected to perform his duties. Who is it?

This is too important a matter to every property holder in the Town to be neglected in order to allow any official more time to devote to other duties, and we would suggest that the Council, at its next meeting, have an investigation and find out who is responsible for the present state of affairs, if they do not already know.

In this connection we would also direct the attention of the City Fathers to the Sewer Department. We have observed during the last few days that a crew of men have been aimlessly, and without any responsible leader, digging ditches on Grover St and then filling them in again because "somebody had blundered."

We find that the bye-law of the Town respecting "The Superintendent of Sewers" says among other things, that "It shall be his duty to superintend the extension of the Sewer System of the Town." Does the present Superintendent give his personal supervision to all work in connection with the sewers, or does he not delegate a portion to others whose services are paid for by the Town? And does the Town not at the same time pay the Superintendent his full salary just the same as though he gave his personal attention to all these matters? Would this not also apply to a number of his duties as Superintendent of Water Works?

We would respectfully recommend a careful consideration of the above questions to the members of the Town Council and also to the property holders of the Town.

Supreme Court Judgments.

The Supreme Court, on Saturday last, delivered two important judgments, dismissing the appeals in both cases, viz., F H Hale vs J S Leighton Jr., and Emily Rideout vs James Tibbits.

In the first case, Mr Hale, who was the plaintiff, had Mr Leighton arrested the day he was to start for Ottawa, on a note for $404, which was afterward found to have been for the accommodation of Mr Hale. A verdict was entered for Mr Leighton and this has been sustained by the full court. F B Carvell represented Mr Leighton; A B Connell for Mr Hale.

The other was an action brought by Mrs Rideout, Grand Falls, against Sheriff Tibbits, actually against Senator Baird, for trespass to her personal property. At the trial, at Andover, in February last, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for $314. This has been sustained on appeal. This is an extensively important decision to sheriffs and constables, as it clearly settles their rights and liabilities. Thos Lawson and F B Carvell for plaintiff; A B Connell, K C, for defendant.

In the Nisi Prius Sittings, at Fredericton, Wednesday, the trespass case of W Henry Clarke vs Samuel Kennedy, was concluded, and a verdict rendered for the plaintiff, thus settling the line in dispute in Mr Clarke's favor. F B Carvell for plaintiff; J R Murphy, K C, and A B Connell, K C, for defendant.

Woodstock Dramatic Co.

One of the largest audiences Graham's Opera House has ever held was present on Monday evening when the Woodstock Dramatic Co, put on the boards the comedy drama "What Happened to Jones." Every member of the company performed his and her part in a capable manner. The ladies taking part were: Miss B Maude Dibblee, Mrs Tilley Brewer, Mrs George W Gibson, Miss Nettie Seelye and Miss K Bourne; the gentlemen were: G B Manzer, N R Loane, E W Mair, M G McLean, J N Jones, William Hill and Murray Milmore.

The above company was also greeted by a large audience, on Wednesday evening, in Sherwood's Opera House, Centreville, when the same drama was successfully played. The receipts were about $92.

Harry D Hipwell passed creditably the preliminary examination at the Pharmaceutical Society in St John last week.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

(Concluded from first page.)

On motion Coun Bailey, seconded Coun Skinner, the finance committee was authorized, if necessary, to borrow $4000 from the Bank, until collections from taxes are received. Coun Skinner voted nay.

On motion Sheriff Hayward was voted $2 for the day's attendance at Council.

On motion Coun Skinner, seconded Coun Gallagher, the unanimous sympathy of the board was extended to Coun Lamont, of Aberdeen, in his present illness.

On motion Coun Shaw, seconded Coun Bell, Joseph McGee was appointed a weigher of live stock for the parish of Wakefield.

Coun Forrest asked who had control of the Court House. His object was to get the use of the building for the S S convention, which will meet in Upper Woodstock shortly, as the people of the place have no suitable building for holding the convention.

Sec-Treas.—The sheriff has charge of it, under the instructions of the building committee of the Council.

On motion Coun Forrest, seconded Coun Faulkner, the request of the people of Upper Woodstock for the use of the Court House, to hold the convention, was granted.

A motion was made that W W Hubbard, agricultural agent of the C P R, be heard, but an amendment, moved by Coun Phillips (Northampton), that the regular business be finished, was carried.

Moved Coun McDonald, seconded Coun Saunders, that the building committee give Mr Dow and Albert Brewer the privilege of tapping the water pipes, entering the Court House, for a supply of water for their dwellings.

Coun Saunders said there was an agreement, between Mr Golding and the board, filed in the Sec-Treas office, that would give information whether or not the board had the right to allow other parties to tap the pipes for water.

Coun Gallagher thought, from the agreement, the board had only the right to take the water for use in the Court House.

Coun Merrithew would like to hear what the agreement was before he could vote intelligently on the subject.

Warden Carvell thought the agreement was that Mr Golding controlled the fountain head of water, the board gave him a water tap, and it used the water for the Court House.

Coun McDonald understood that Mr Golding was willing to allow the gentlemen mentioned to tap the water pipe; it would be a great obligation to Messrs Dow and Brewer, and would not interfere with the supply of water for the Court House.

The motion was then carried, Coun Skinner voting nay.

Mr Hubbard then addressed the board. It was a pleasure for him to accept the warden's kind invitation to be present at this meeting of the County Council. He thought Councils could do more than they are doing to encourage and improve the needs of the counties. It was a novel action of the C P R to appoint an agricultural agent, and he could assure them that he did not seek the appointment. The company seemed to think we were not advancing as we should, and if they could assist in the advancement in any way it would be to their interest to do so.

Carleton county had one of the best pieces of territory in the province, the whole area well adapted for agriculture. We should not be satisfied, however, but should advance in every way; if everybody was satisfied, it would be unfortunate, for there would be no further advancement. To an outsider, on going up and down the St John river, the first thing noticeable is the absence of stock, and he will say "where are your cattle and sheep?" By a proper handling of the hay and oats now grown and fed to cattle and horses, the farmer would realize more money. This county raises 20,770 tons of hay and 153,000 bushels of oats for export; if the former sold at $6 per ton and the latter at 30c or better per bushel, the total amount received would be about $173,000 for the stuff carried out of the county. If the hay and oats were fed in an intelligent manner, it would support 9000 head of cattle for five months, when each animal could be sold for $50; supposing each animal cost $30, it would mean a profit of $20, or a total amount of $180,000. Then the farmer would have his fertilizers beside; the manure value of our average hay crop, which is mostly timothy, is $4.70 per ton, and the manure value of oats is 11c per bushel, making a total manure value of $116,220. People cannot lumber and farm at the same time successfully in N B, either branch will be neglected. The company was as anxious to encourage the dairy business as was the provincial government. Our people have been breeding dairy stock quite generally, and the result has been a good milking cow, but, on account of the labor, the average farmer will not keep over a dozen. They can't stock a farm with dairy cows. The company claims that by using bulls of the Shorthorn families, good milking heifers can be got from our cows, and the bulls can be sold by the thousands for the Northwest; a man will be here next month to buy all such bulls at a good price. It is stated that the Shorthorn blood will spoil a herd for milking purposes, which statement is not correct; for cream and butter, probably the Jerseys are the best breed. Our farmers are not prepared to keep many dairy cows, but they can keep three or four times the number of cattle that will give good beef animals. He then gave the results of tests made in different places, and showed that for dairy purposes the Shorthorn averaged ahead of other cows. He quoted Mr Peterson, secretary of the Live Stock Association of Calgary, as stating that $1 p. c. of the cattle applied for and sold there, were Shorthorns. St John would sooner buy its beef from the Province, but three-quarters of the beef going into that city came from the west; Ontario should not be able to compete with us in the St John market. Farmers can sell Shorthorn cattle, one or two-year-old, for "stockers" in the Northwest, at an average price of $25, and it would cost about $5 to put them in that country. He enlarged on the good market in the old country for horses, such as from Clyde stallions with the best of our mares. He thought some stringent efforts should be made to protect our sheep from the ravages of dogs, or farmers would cease raising sheep.

Coun Saunders said he it was who requested the board to invite Mr Hubbard to address them. He (Saunders) made a motion at the board, years ago, to send a man to the old country and look up the market for horses and the kind needed, but the motion did not carry. The time did come, however, when a man came to this county looking for horses and he did not find the kind he wanted; if his motion had been carried, our farmers would have raised just such horses as were needed. The C. P. R. cannot benefit themselves without benefitting us. The information just received would be of great benefit to ourselves and to the whole country, and it was unfortunate that a large number of farmers were not present to hear Mr Hubbard.

A vote of thanks was given Mr Hubbard for his able address, and tendered to that gentleman by the warden.

Coun Phillips (Peel) said in his section 100 sheep were killed this spring by dogs; a large number of the latter were shot, but they still came from all parts of the county. A number of farmers have decided to raise no more sheep, on account of the loss by dogs. He suggested a tax on dogs as a remedy.

Coun Bull agreed that a heavy loss to farmers was caused by dogs. He was strongly in favor of a dog tax.

Coun Kearney said in some parishes an attempt was made to enforce a dog tax; some farmers paid the tax, and others got off scott free. It was only right to have that tax money refunded, with interest, as the law is a dead letter now.

Coun Williams—Mr Hubbard, will there be any more Shorthorn cattle brought down here?

Mr Hubbard said he had arranged to take special orders for cattle, from nine months to twenty. A judge from the Live Stock Association would assist him to select the animals; he would be pleased to buy heifers, as well as bulls, and would secure a good animal for anybody who wished him to do so. He and Mr Phillips of Pembroke, were going on the business mentioned, to Ontario, next week.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Mr Ryan is making some improvements in his already handsome dwelling, at the lower end of town, among them being the erection of a portico; Manzer Atherton is doing the work.

Sunday, the 28th inst, is the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church. Appropriate services will be held in the Methodist church, here, on that day. Rev J N McConkill, B A., pastor of Central Methodist church, Moncton, will preach. Special music will also be provided.

Miss E. Maund Allan, one of Woodstock's most popular young ladies, left for Worcester, Mass., on Friday, June 12th, where she will join the staff of nurses at the Worcester City Hospital. Miss Allan was head clerk in G W Vanwart's store for some time. Her friends presented her with a gold chain and locket, also a belt pin enameled with the British Arms. Her many friends join in wishing her every success in her new work.

"Little Mike", the firemen's speedy little pacer, is adding to his list of admirers every day. He is being driven by "Bill", who will have him in perfect condition for the lucky winner in the lottery which is to take place in the near future. Hose Co. No 1 is the owner of the pacer, and the members of the Company report a good demand for tickets, the proceeds of which will be expended in furnishing the new department rooms when completed.

A THIEF'S SHOE.—For some time past, the contents of my creamery have been missing, but I have been unable to discover the thief. Last Saturday night the culprit again appeared and helped himself to the cream. On Sunday morning I discovered the footprint, and here are the dimensions of the shoe: From toe to heel 11 inches; across the ball of foot, 3 1/2 inches; length of heel 3 inches by 2 1/2 in width. The printing of these dimensions will enable parties at Upper Woodstock to guard against the thief in future. BATES DUREPO.
