EDITORIAL NOTES.

The once great conservative party now leans almost wholly upon Tarte and Gamey. "How are the mighty fallen."

Forty seven majority is pretty good. Where are the prophets who told of an expected revolt when the division bells sounded?

Chamberlain's policy seems quite unpopular. The by-elections are going heavily against the government in the old country. It looks very much as if Premier Balfour must rid himself of the man from Birmingham.

Forty Seven Majority.

The railway bill received its second reading in the House of Commons early Wednesday morning by the decisive majority of forty seven. A couple of amendments were voted down before the main division was taken. With the exception of Hon. A. G. Blair every other liberal member in the house recorded his vote in favor of the bill.

The St. John Telegraph, which was opposed to the government's railway policy as first announced, has now come out strongly in favor of the new road. The utmost harmony exists now that the party is committed to the policy of building another great transcontinental highway.

MILITIA CHANGES.

There has been quite a shake up in the 67th Regt. Major Baker becomes commanding officer with rank as Lieut Col; Capt Perkins is raised to the senior majority, while Capt J R Kirkpatrick becomes junior major. Capt W W Ross is appointed adjutant. No. 3 company is now in charge of Dr E S Kirkpatrick, who attains the rank of Captain. Lieut Herb Ross is given command of No. 4, with promotion to the rank of Captain.

The company with headquarters at Baker's Brook is placed in command of Lieut Lawson, who also is advanced in rank.

The regiment will likely be at full strength, or nearly so, when it enters camp. The changes seem to be received with general favor.

B. B. Manzer's Store.

Strangers in Woodstock speak very highly of the appearance of the splendid store kept by B B Manzer. At great expense he has made an entire renovation of the interior. The old fittings have been removed and new ones of the latest design have been installed. The appearance of the interior is greatly enhanced by the metallic ceiling and side walls.

The enclosed archlight system of lighting is in use. This is the nearest approach to sunlight. It is possible to distinguish the closest shades at any time when this light is used. Another great improvement is the Lawson cash system. This is the only store in town having these improvements. Probably a greater attraction than any other is the great value given for a small amount of money at this well known stand.

OBITUARY.

Luella Annie, eldest daughter of William Jewett, Florenceville, died at Edmonton, Alberta, on Sunday, August 23rd.

Nearly five years ago Luella went to Edmonton to live with her uncle H I Taylor of Florenceville in whose law office she was stenographer. During the Christmas vacation, 1901, she visited her old home. On New Year's day, 1903, she married John Howey, of Edmonton, who now mourns the loss of his affectionate young wife.

On Friday, Aug. 21st, a telegram was received saying that Mrs Howey was dangerously ill from cholera and inflammation of the bowels. On Sunday a telegram announced her death. She would have been 25 years old on Sept. 6th. Her body was interred at Edmonton. She leaves a young husband, father and mother, one sister and one brother, besides a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her early death. Because of her cheerful and loving disposition she made many friends and was loved by all. Her old school mates, neighbors and friends of Florenceville sympathize sincerely with the bereaved family in their great sorrow.

THE COLTS WIN.

ANDOVER TAKEN INTO CAMP.

The Andover base ball team arrived in town on Tuesday to play the Colts. The visiting players contain some good material and with a little more experience in fast company would prove a formidable organization. One of the best men on the team is Peter Francis.

For the first three innings the quality of ball played was hair-raising. Not a man on either team went safely beyond second base, and the indications were that a pitchers' contest would result.

In the fourth Peter secured a long drive which gave the visitors two runs. The Colts warmed up in their half and touched Tibbits so lively that four runs were chalked up in about as many minutes.

From this out the game was a procession. The Andover boys changed their battery, but all pitchers looked alike to the heavy hitting Colts. The slaughter continued to the end, leaving the score as follows:—

Colts 0 0 0 4 3 4 1 2 x—14
Andover 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0—3
Batteries—Milmore and Mercer; Tibbits and Baird, Rogers and Craig. Milmore struck out no less than sixteen men. Umpire, Frank Sullivan.

SECOND GAME.

Wednesday morning the Andover boys went up against a team somewhat different to the proposition of the day before. Many of the Colts found it impossible to get away from their occupations for a morning game. Messrs Long, Bagley, Glidden and Glew were annexed for the occasion. The redoubtable James was in the box. Although he won't play in the National League next year, Long put up a good argument and was held well by Milmore. Glew and Bagley made great rents in the atmosphere when facing Tibbits, but when they did happen to reach first, some lively sprinting followed. Waite made a home run on what should have been an easy out at first. Tibbits and Baird were in the points for Andover and did better work than in the first game. Fred McLean, the first man up, pasted Tibbits' first ball away out into deep centre for a three-bagger. The two braves on the visiting team were in the game at all times.

Owing to the visitors wishing to go home on the Express only five innings were played.

The score:—
Andover..... 0 2 0 0 0—2
The Colts..... 2 1 0 1 x—4
Umpire—Roy McLaughlan.

The Andover boys are a gentlemanly lot, and put up what was probably the cleanest and most unobjectionable play seen here this year.

The Coming Attraction.

Simvelle's adequate presentation of Shakespeare's immortal play of love and passion, Romeo and Juliet, will be given at Graham's Opera House one night only Saturday Sept 5th, with a carload of special scenery, properties and electric effects. It will be without question the elite legitimate presentation of the entire season. One of the most brilliant minds of modern times has spoken as follows of the immortal bard, Shakespeare: "There was nothing within the range of human thought, within the horizon of intellectual effort, that he did not touch. He knew the brain and heart of man, the theories, customs, superstitions, hopes, fears, hatreds, vices and virtues of the human race." Shakespeare was an intellectual prodigy of the first class. He lived in times hardly bare of the skirts of feudalism, with all the ignorance that that implies, yet he knew, as if by intuition, science, languages, law, medicine, heraldry, warfare and statecraft. He employs a vocabulary of fifteen thousand words, three times more than the ordinary writer, and he always uses the right word in the right place. He has been for three hundred years the greatest master of the English language. His plays have a practical work-a-day interest for us. They form an encyclopedia of human life—all that lies hidden in the human heart. His most popular play is undoubtedly Romeo and Juliet. The Simvelle production will be magnificently staged and costumed and an acting company of great merit will be entrusted with the various famed roles.

A. W. Hay Remembered.

A genuine surprise was visited upon A W Hay at Lower Woodstock on Monday evening last. On entering his store he was suddenly surrounded by the employees of the Mednetic Meat Company, whose design proved to be no more sinister than that of presenting him with a testimonial of appreciation and regard. Mr Thomas Winchester, who acted as spokesman for the men, made a few well chosen remarks in his characteristically happy vein, and presented Mr Hay with a serviceable leather suit case adorned with a silver name plate suitably engraved. Mr Hay thanked the men for their thoughtfulness and was glad to have such an interesting case on his hands.

Letter from Mr. Hagerman.

To the Editor of Carleton Sentinel:

I see by a notice in your last issue, Oldham Bros still continue the same notice which appeared in the Woodstock Press in July, the truthfulness of which I denied in the issue of July 20th, and at this time I wish to say that the notice contains statements misleading and false, as I am working for John Oldham, formerly of Oldham Bros; as for the great saving to customers which O. B. claim they give to their customers, by taking orders themselves is all rot. No man can take orders for cemetery work, pay his expenses, and then make his customers a present of it. I would like to duplicate some of these great bargains; beside this, we may contrast the extra cost of hauling the raw material a distance of from 12 to 22 miles from the most convenient stations, then returning the finished work to those stations, and having the work done very near a railroad. I think the difference in the cost will more than pay the very small commission allowed on that class of work.

Hoping that the friends of John Oldham, as well as the friends of the undersigned, will soon know from the work being done, and that which we will solicit in the future, that in workmanship and prices it cannot be excelled.

Yours respectfully,
F. HAGERMAN.

The Mission
Of Toilet Soap

A Toilet Soap should cleanse the skin—it should do this and nothing else. A safe soap is the one made from vegetable oils, with alkali and oil perfectly combined. Excess of oil means imperfect cleansing; excess of alkali means a roughened skin.

While cheapness in soap often means badness of quality, you need not pay high prices in order to get good soaps. We are careful in buying, and as a result of our carefulness we are able to furnish worthy soaps at little prices.
