A Scientific Voice Improver.

Becance of its strengthening influence upon the vocal chords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of arkiety, unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and Prima Donnas would not be without Cat- friend, 'it wisna a merriage. It wis arrhozone and credit in no small de-gree their uniform strength and bril-liancy of tone to its influence. Advice to Mothers.

Advice to Methers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the threat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub it until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

ALABAMA TROUBADOURS.

The Boston Herald says,—Boston's new attraction this week is Gorman's Alabama Troubadours, though they were thought better than new, evidently, by the audience who crowded the theatre last night and gave a royal welcome to the engagement of these "Coon" favorites. No attraction of the whole season has been more popularly received. These genuine Southern darkies are a novelty and it was very noticeable that "swell" Bostonians turned out to see them. Last evening the audience presented as "swagger" an appearance as an evening at the Metropolitian Opera House in New York at the height of the grand opera season. The Company is particularly strong in the Vocal department, and its specialities are bright, clean and

The Company is composed of a fine looking lot of darkies who were organized in the South, and present a new side of negro life to Northern audiences. Their buck and wing dancing, singing and cake walking, banjos and musical instruments, camp meeting, shouting keep ones attention alert, and the applause constant, and the curtain goes down to the regrets of the audience at the

The Pitiable Story Of a Young

EVERY MOTHER OF A GROWING GIRL WILL BE INTERESTED IN THE STORY AS TOLD BY THE YOUNG LADY.

Miss Laura Dumontier is the augher of a well-to-do farmer in St. Cuthbert, Quebec. The circumstances under which she was forced to discontinue her studies and leave school will be of interest to all mothschool will be of interest to all mothers of growing girls, and Miss Dumontier consents to make them public for the benefit her experience may be to other. She says: "At the age of twelve I was sent to a convent school in this parish. At that time I was as healthy as any girl of my age. At the end of a couple of years, however, I felt my strength leaving me. My appetite grew poor, and I suffered from severe headaches. Inevertheless continued my studies until Octoless continued my studies until Octo-ber, 1901, when I became very ill and was forced to leave school. The headaches that had bothered me became almost constant. I suffered from pains in the back and stomach and the least exertion would leave me almost breathless. A doctor was called in and he said I was suffering called in and he said I was suffering from anaemia, and was in a very dangerous condition. He treated me until February without the least beneficial result. Then another doctor was called in, but no better results followed his treatment. My parents were now thoroughly alarmed and two other doctors from St. Barthelemi were called in, and after consultation their verdict was that my tation their verdict was that my trouble had reached an incurable stage. I was greatly disheartened and did not expect to live long when one day one of my friends asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had lost confidence in all medicines, but was willing to try anything that might help me, and my father got me a supply of the pills.
When I had used a couple of boxes it was very plain that the pills were doing me good, and after I had taken them a couple of months I was once more enjoying the blessing of good health. I feel that Dr Williams' Pink Pills have saved my life and I gladly give my experience in the hope that it may be of benefit to some other younge girls."

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to young girls and women as Dr Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the blood and nerves, invigorate the body, regulate the functions and restore health and strength to the exhausted patient when every effort of the phypatient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may had by mail post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing to the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Remember that no other medicine can take the place of these pills, and see that the full name, Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is on the wrapper around every box. THRUMS.
