General News Items.

M Landrin, the member of the Paris Municipal Council who led the discussion in that body on 22nd, ult, regarding the grant for the St. Louis Fair exhibit, said: "The Council's vote of $10,000 would have been much larger if the councillors could have believed that any adequate protection exists in the United States for industrial art or art works sent from abroad." French artists and manufacturers say there is little doubt that their work will be "shamefully copied and stolen on all sides during the exhibition."

Recuperative Effect.

Considered with reference to its recuperative effect, there is not so much good in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The latter costs $1.; the former—well, that depends; how much did yours cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

Several of the districts of Paris have been invaded by large numbers of mosquitoes.

A Great Increasing Army.

Composed of men and women that spend heart and soul in the vain effort to overcome a lack of vigor in the body. To replace inertia by vigor, to make good, red blood that will build up the system, to have strong nerves, you must eat more, digest more, assimilate more. How can it be done? By using Ferrozone. It invigorates, strengthens, possesses magical health giving powers. Get Ferrozone to-day and make yourself strong and well. All reliable druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

The widow of a St Petersburg chimney sweep proposes to form a guild of female sweeps.

Scawny People.

People grow thin, scawny, pale and weak when the blood is thin and watery. What is needed to round off the angles and fill out the form, is not fat but healthy muscular tissue. By enriching the blood and increasing its nourishing qualities Dr Chase's Nerve Food adds new flesh and tissue to the body as well as new vigor and energy. You can prove this by noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure.

Sunlight Soap will not injure your blankets or harden them. It will make them soft, white and fleecy.

THE "ROUND ROBIN".

NO ONE KNOWS ORIGIN OF THE STRANGE TERM.

A "round robin" is one of those documents of which the name is familiar to most people, but which uncommonly few have ever seen or signed. Every one knows that the thing which bears so singular a name is a communication—letter, remonstrance, warning or the like—the signatures to which are written around the circumference of the circle which incloses the body of the epistle, or radiating therefrom like the spokes of a wheel from a hub, so that the responsibility of signing is equally shared. No one signatory can be accused of being either the first or the last to sign, of being the leader or the whipper in.

The most famous example on record probably is the remonstrance which was sent to Dr Johnson in connection with his epitaph on Oliver Goldsmith. The doctor had prepared an epitaph in Latin, but some of his friends, who had also been friends of Goldsmith, took exception to it on two grounds, the first being that it did not quite do justice to the author of the "Traveler" as a writer, and particularly as a poet, and the second that it should be written in English. The party of friends were gathered around Sir Joshua Reynolds' hospitable if somewhat ill served table, and though they found themselves in general agreement on these two points, no one had the courage to be willing to "bell the cat," or in other words, to take the lead in tackling the formidable Johnson on these two rather delicate matters. "At last," says Sir William Forbes, "it was hinted that there could be no way so good as that of a round robin, as the sailors call it, which they make use of when they enter a conspiracy so as not to let it be known who puts his name first or last to the paper."

The idea was at once accepted, the address to Dr Johnson was prepared and all signed it in the form proposed. This very interesting paper is still extant and is preserved among other valuable manuscripts in the library of Haigh Hall, near Wigan, the seat of the Earl of Crawford. It begins, "We, the circumscribers," and the signatures, written around the circle, which incloses the address, include those of Gibbon, Burke, Joseph Warton, Sheridan, Sir Joshua Reynolds, George Colman and half a dozen others which are nowadays but little known. Johnson took the remonstrance in good part, but as to not writing the epitaph in Latin, declared that he would never consent to disgrace the walls of Westminster abbey with an English inscription! The whole story is eminently characteristic both of Johnson and his times.

No one has yet been able to give a satisfactory explanation of the strange term "round robin."—London Globe.

GOOD HEALTH.

HOW IT CAN BE OBTAINED AND HOW IT CAN BE PRESERVED.

The health of the whole body depends upon the blood and nerves. The blood must be rich and pure, and the nerves vigorous and strong. Therefore a medicine that makes new blood and strengthens the nerves reaches the root of many serious diseases. Dr Williams' Pink Pills will do this, and this is the secret of their wonderful power to conquer disease. Thousands of cases—many of them in your own neighborhood—have proved that Dr Williams' Pink Pills will cure rheumatism, sciatica, partial paralysis, St Vitus' dance, nervous and bilious headache, heart trouble, indigestion, neuralgia and the ailments that render the lives of so many women a source of misery.

Mr James Adames, Brandon, Man., says: "Before I began the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills my health was much shattered with rheumatism, nervous depression and sleeplessness. For fully a year I rarely got a good night's sleep. I gave the pills a thorough trial and can now truthfully say I could not wish for better health."

What Dr Williams' Pink Pills have done for others they will surely do for you, but you should be careful to get the genuine with the full name, "Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper round each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing to the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TOOK IT CALMLY.

Not long ago a hospital nurse had a typhoid patient under her charge, who proved unusually grateful. His enthusiasm became, indeed, the talk of the ward. Naturally she was kindly disposed toward him, but as he took the turn for the better he evinced toward the young lady that things proved rather embarrassing.

Just as the nurse was beginning to get exceedingly uncomfortable her turn came for a three months' course at another institution, and she was heartily glad of it. But she greatly dreaded the effect of her going upon her patient. He was still very weak; in fact, on the day of her departure he was to have his first solid food. Even her senior nurse, who had no sentimentality, said she ought to be extremely careful how she bade him farewell, so as not to agitate him unduly. It was eventually decided that the best way for the lady to say goodbye was in a hurry, just on leaving.

However, the nurse was still nervous. When the time came and she ran downstairs to the ward she began to wish she had broken it to him by degrees.

When she reached his bed he was having his first meal, consisting of a chop, and, like all recovering from typhoid, was ravenous over it.

"I have been transferred to another hospital and have come to say goodbye," she said.

He went on eating unconcernedly. She thought he did not understand, so she repeated the remark and then half turned away.

"I am going," she added.

He gave her the most cursory glance and devoured some more meat.

"So is the chop," was all he said.—The New Yorker.

No building on the farm pays better than a good tool house. It should be so convenient of access that there need be no excuse for leaving farm implements exposed to the weather when not in use. Properly cared for, many implements that now last only a few years ought to be serviceable as long as the farmer lived to need them. Besides, a tool that has not been rusted, warped and cracked by exposure will work as well the second and third year of use as the first. On many farms tools are so much injured by being left out of doors that after the first season they cost more for repairs than they save in labor.

WORLD'S FAIR NEWS NOTES.

Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, will exhibit some of his latest inventions at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

San Domingo has officially accepted the invitation to participate in the World's Fair, St. Louis, 1904.

The Mexican Pavilion at the World's Fair, St. Louis, is nearing completion. It will be the first government building finished.

The site for the Pennsylvania building at the World's Fair, St. Louis, has been allotted on the plateau of states.

The largest glass bottle ever made in the world will be exhibited at the World's Fair, St. Louis, next year. It was blown in the plant of the Illinois Glass Company, at Alton, Ill.

The mining companies of Mexico are taking active interest in the World's Fair, St. Louis, and will make an extensive display, excelling that of any other country, the United States alone excepted.

Advices from Berlin state that Germany will send a fleet of her finest war vessels to participate in the naval display at Hampton roads in connection with the opening of the World's Fair, St. Louis, May 1, 1904.

The Connecticut building at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be a reproduction of a fine old colonial mansion built in the early part of the 18th century. It was erected by Charles Sigourney, a leading merchant of that period, and is now standing in Hartford.

The exhibit of the Rice Association of America at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be the greatest ever known. A rice kitchen costing over $30,000 will be constructed. An extensive exhibit of models of the different machines used in the rice industry will be made.

An interesting exhibit at the World's Fair, St. Louis, next year, will be the police exhibits. The exhibit will show the evolution of the policeman, a gallery of noted police officials, and also types of the various grades of criminals. The exhibit will also include a display of police equipments, stations, etc.

A Famous Old Yacht to be Broken up.

The recent announcement that the America (the old schooner yacht with which the Americans first won the international cup many years ago) would be broken up could not but cause sentimental pangs even among those yachtsmen who will receive parts of the old yacht's frame as souvenirs. It might easily be said that the America has been our mascot, and that this would certainly be Sir Thomas Lipton's year. The yacht that brought the cup to America in 1750 is no longer seaworthy and her owner, Congressman Butler Ames, will have the boat taken to pieces. The different parts will be distributed to yachtsmen all over the world. The last time the old boat was in commission was the day the Defender won the deciding race of the series of 1895, and sent the Valkyrie II., a defeated boat, back across the Atlantic.

For horses fagged out after a tiring journey, there is no safer or better tonic than a "white drink," made by stirring a pint of oatmeal in a pall of water off which the chill has been taken. White drinks of this kind are not only good thirst quenchers, but they also seem to act as restorative, and are found very effective in enabling animals to regain the "tonicity" of constitution lost either through illness or through undergoing severe exertion.
