THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

BY HARRY HAVENS.

Go to Delhi and near the city you will see a mysterious tower standing on a base of 47 feet and rising to the height of 240 feet encircled by five balconies with the most artistic sculptor work, and built so long ago that it is not recorded when or by whom it was built or for what purpose. Mysterious as it is, it stands as a mark of bygone ages, also an example to prove to us that sculpture is a lost art, an art that has not been entirely found yet as none of the modern sculptors can do work that will compare with the work on that tower and many standing as well as fallen relics of the past. The population of India is nearly 800,000,000; of these only 100,000 are British born. This great mass of native people are held in check and in loyalty to the Empire, not by the 75,000 British or the 145,000 native troops, but by their love for the Empire of which they form a part. They have been well treated by England and in return are willing to show their loyalty by laying down their lives on the battlefield fighting in her defence and by money given by the native princes. One Indian regiment the Sikhs are among the bravest regiments in the British army and before they became British subjects even withstood the charges of the Gordon and Black Watch Highlanders. What a change has taken place. They are now fighting side by side with the English and Abyssinian troops in the campaign in East Africa.

Canada, our beloved Canada, although in the third class, ranks first as a colony. Canada the queen of colonies, the brightest gem in England's crown to-day, is destined to be a great nation. No country in the world has such a bright future before it as this fair Canada of ours, the land of the maple. Yes, Canada has a great future and all it needs to make her great is unity of the people especially on one thing that is the encouragement of home manufactures. Some people have it in their heads that Canadian manufactures are not as good as foreign and especially those of the United States. Now there is no reason for that idea. We are the same people, have the same materials to work with and you needn't tell me that an imaginary line is going to make such a difference. Canadian manufactures are as good as the best and have proved themselves to be so at the World's Expositions that have been held in recent years. What reason is there that Canadian manufactures are not as good as American? There is none. The Massey Harris company turn out farm implements that are not surpassed by any in the world. This is only one firm. We have hundreds of them. Some people cry for protection of home manufactures. That is all right but there is more than one way to protect. Let people take my advice for once on this protection question and when they want a new mowing machine, or the like, don't buy a McCormick or a Deering. To my mind that is the best way to protect, for it acts the double purpose of protection and encouragement. Perhaps in years gone by we have had to depend upon the United States for a market for our produce and goods but people those days are no more. When we were dependent on the United States for a market, that country put on such a high tariff that it made it impossible for us to send there. Canadians began to look around to see if there was some other country beside the United States, and succeeded in finding a market in England. You know the Americans have preached annexation ever since and even before they became a country. Twice they tried to force it; but oh! how they got left. The days of 1812-14, the names of Brock, Salaberry, Queenston Heights and Lundy's Lane will never die in the memories of Canadians. The Americans have long since given up the idea of forcing Canada to annexation by means of the sword, and have devised a plan by which they thought they could starve us to it so to speak. This plan the high protective tariff instead of forcing annexation has driven Canada from them forever. The day is fast approaching and is at hand when we, as Canadians, thank Heaven, can live without the United States. At last Canada has Uncle Sam in the basket and is carrying him to prosperity at the rate of 100,000 annually. Andrew Carnegie says that the only future for Canada is to throw in her lot with the United States. What a statement! What a move Canadians would make if they left the mother country and leap from prosperity and liberty into a land of anarchy, of trust union and strike, of lynching, of burning to the stake and all such heathenish work; to leave these good laws of ours and go to a land where there are mob laws, laws that will allow a mob to lynch a man without trial, a land where the divorce mills turn out nearly 400,000 yearly and the murder and suicide mill their thousands. Does this look like prosperity, union and liberty? No longer is it the land of the free, Canadians beware! No doubt you all remember the stand that Mr. Gourley, a member from Nova Scotia, took in the House of Commons, when Mr. Bourassa spoke of annexation. Mr. Gourley also spoke of annexation but in a far different manner. His plan was to annex the United States capture Washington and bring the wandering sheep back to the fold. Although he was a blustering fellow yet he had the spirit of loyalty.

The great wheat belt of the west is what is going to make Canada the great nation that she undoubtedly will be in the near future. Only 2 per cent of this great belt or the land qualified for the production of wheat has yet been occupied. So broad is the belt that if two new railways be built they need be no nearer than one hundred and fifty miles to each other and then will not reach the northern limit. An American professor while visiting Canada chanced upon a map of North America and wishing to get a better idea of the size of the wheat area of the Canadian west, took a compass and placing one foot on the city of St Paul he let the other foot run north 1,500 miles to the Peace river which is the northern limit of the wheat area. He then swung it around to the eastward and found to his surprise that it cleared the United States to east and south and stood out in the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, thus showing that Canada is quite a garden spot. North of the wheat belt stands the timber belt which is a strip seven hundred miles wide, and stretching from the Atlantic to Pacific. Then comes the Klondyke and the North Pole. With all these bright prospects why should not Canadians be proud of their country? Perhaps we don't know as much about the other colonies as we do about Canada; but we do know this much that Australia and South Africa lead the world in gold, diamonds and sheep.

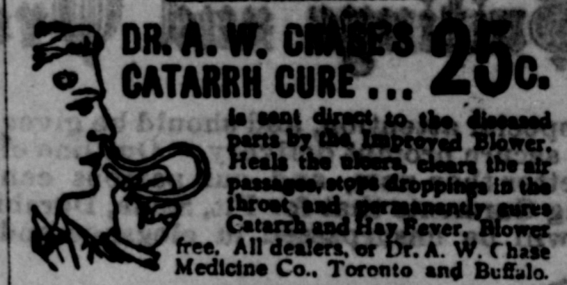

We also know that when the mother country is in trouble, as in the South African affair, the Australian and New Zealand troops proved themselves as good as the best and when it came to bearing expenses Australia paid $5 when Canada paid 50c. Also the Cape police, Natal and colonial light horse and Basuto rough riders proved to the world that they too were loyal to their sovereign and country. How quick the spirit of freedom follows the Union Jack! There are the Boers who but a few months ago were hostile to Great Britain even before the war was brought to an end, those who had surrendered and had received the first taste of freedom joined in with the Tommies and sang Rule Britannia and God Save the King, and now when England is

Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum

Cures Coughs

GRAY'S SYRUP does that one thing, and does it well. It's no "cure-all," but a CURE for all throat and lung troubles. GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM stops the irritating tickle—takes away the soreness—soothes and heals the throat—and CURES COUGHS to stay cured. None the less effective because it is pleasant to take. 25 cts. bottle.

The chairman of an anti-vaccination meeting in Edinburgh said that it was quite right that a man should have liberty to indulge in vaccination, amputation, bypotism, or anything else, but it was neither right nor proper that he should seek to force his fellow-men to share his pastimes.

FAGED OUT, DEPRESSED.

Energy, Snap and Ambition Gone—You Need a Bracing Tonic to Ironize the Blood. Try FERROZONE.

Ferrozone will make you strong and capable of doing a heavy day's work without fatigue. It is a marvellous remedy, and does marvellous things, as the following testimonial proves:

"After my baby was born, I was left in a weak, sickly condition, totally unfit for a mother's household duties. I somehow did not gain strength, although I took malt extract and tonics all the time. A lady friend recommended Ferrozone which I used with splendid results. The first box helped quite a little, and when I had taken six boxes my former health, ruddy cheeks, and good spirits, were fully restored." Mrs. Newlands, Swansea.

You can't spend 50c. to a better advantage than on a box of Ferrozone, and the sooner you get Ferrozone, the sooner you will get well. Don't accept a substitute, but insist on your druggist supplying the genuine Ferrozone, which sells for 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by mail from The Ferrozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

A plant for making silk from wood, erected near Sydowasue, Germany, is at present turning out fifty pounds of skein silk a day, which product can be increased in quantity to 2,000 pounds. The silk is soft in texture and creamy in color.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

(From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.)

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It cures the patient to "throw up the pillow" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Fine Points In Holiday Cooking!

Very often a dish is made or marred by the quality of spice or flavoring extract used. Try our flavoring extracts. They are much stronger than the ordinary liquids that masquerade under that name. Our spices have a better taste and go more than twice as far as the usual run of spices.

Quality of materials counts as well as skill in the success of your cooking.
