POLITICAL POINTERS.

Vote for Carvell.

"Laurier and Victory" is the slogan.

Carleton County will swing in line on Nov. 3rd.

Strengthen the hands of Hon. Mr. Emerson by sending to his assistance a supporter from Carleton.

The liberals held their first organization meeting on Saturday. They were just a day ahead of their opponents.

Gamey has taken the stump for the Tories. The Buffalo perjurers who operated for the Tories in North Gray may next appear.

It is a foregone conclusion that Canada is with Laurier. Eight years of prosperity is a record that Canada will not go back on.

Quebec is solid for Laurier. That province sent but eight conservatives to the last house. There will be perhaps a half dozen after Nov. 3.

The independent papers like Toronto News, Montreal Witness, Ottawa Journal and Hamilton Herald, say the government will be sustained.

Vote for Carvell and send to Ottawa a man who can hold his own with all comers. We need a representative in fact rather than in name.

Will some tory please rise up and inform an inquiring public just what Fred Hale in his capacity as M. P. has ever done for Carleton County?

Where is the motto "We want no Tarte"? It was prominently displayed here four years ago by the conservatives. Will some person who knows explain?

Most encouraging reports are coming from the Northwest. The Grand Trunk Pacific has captured the hearts of the people. A clean sweep for Laurier will take place in the Territories.

F. B. Carvell is the unanimous nominee of the liberal convention. He is the duly accredited candidate of the liberal party. All liberals will work and vote for him. In so doing they endorse Laurier.

Tarte. Have you ever heard that name, Mr. Elector? Do you remember the last campaign? That name was a text for every conservative speaker. Where is Tarte now? In the bosom of the tory party.

The Tories in Quebec are in desperate straits. Very few strong candidates are willing to bear the party standard. Even Casgrain will be downed, and in the whole province there is not a safe tory seat.

No matter who the conservative candidate may be the liberals in this county are determined to down him. The consensus of outside opinion is that Carleton is sure to vote in favor of Laurier and Carvell.

Even poor Mr. Borden is becoming frightened. He may run in another constituency besides Halifax. That is pretty good evidence that Fielding will come out several laps ahead of the tory leader in the Nova Scotia fight.

The Tories are on the run in Nova Scotia. They have entered the fight in a half-hearted manner, and expect to lose rather than gain. Not more than three out of eighteen seats in that province will return conservatives.

Liberal Committee Rooms are open in the Payson store, next door to Fawcett Bros on Connell street. A rousing meeting was held on Monday. The candidate and W. P. Jones, M. P., made brief and stirring addresses.

Does anyone suppose that Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper would retire from politics if he thought there was a show of conservative success? Does any person think Borden, fighting almost alone, can capture the reins of government?

With a great flourish of trumpets it was announced by the Tories that Clarke and Casgrain would speak in the Opera last Tuesday. The orators failed to appear. It's too bad they had to run home in a hurry. Of course the fact that strong liberal candidates were at work in their constituencies had nothing to do with their haste.

"Keep your eye on Ontario" said a prominent visitor from Toronto the other day. "Our province is liberal at heart. We may not give a large liberal majority, but most certainly there will be a decided falling off in the conservative vote."

Seymour Gourley, the fire eating warrior from Colchester is fighting in the last ditch. Speaker Laurence has accepted nomination against him. Our condolences are extended to Seymour. The house of commons will never see more of him.

Canada has experienced eight years of liberal rule. It has been a period of surpluses. The preceding eight years witnessed a repetition of deficits. The tariff is lower than it was under conservative rule. There is a lesson in this for the electors.

The tory convention will meet in town on Monday. The men who were all along so anxious to run have cooled off. It is likely Fred Hale will be put up. He is said to be willing, and if the Tories are satisfied with his selection, the wicked grits will not kick.

Laurier, Fielding, Aylesworth, Mulock, Fitzpatrick, Fisher, Prefontaine, Emerson and Sifton. Where are the men in the tory ranks capable of taking their places? Surely Seymour Gourley, Sam Hughes, Doc Sproule and the others "behind Mr. Borden" cannot fill the bill.

We need a strong, fearless and able advocate at Ottawa. We need a representative who will attend to his parliamentary duties. We need a member who is able to rise in his place and uphold the dignity of this good old country. We need F. B. Carvell as our next M. P.

Mr. Elector, are you in favor of having a member in name only, are you in favor of a representative who cannot or will not attend to his parliamentary duties, who disregards the mandate of the people and devotes practically the whole session to private business? This is the kind you have had for the past four years.

Dr. H. B. Hay, a former Woodstock boy, son of Hugh Hay, the Main Street Dry Goods Merchant, has accepted the liberal nomination for Sunbury-Queens, against R. D. Wilnot. Good luck to the genial doctor. May he relegate Wilnot to the wilds of political oblivion, and bring the grand old riding once more in its true position within the liberal fold.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, the great Toronto lawyer who stood up bravely for Canadian rights on the Alaskan Boundary commission and thereby gained the confidence and respect of all, has struck another blow for his country. He has accepted a place in Sir Wilfrid's government, and will run for some Ontario riding. Besides being the ablest lawyer in the country he is a man of unblemished personal character. In religion he is a Methodist.

NO HYPOCRISY.

When Mr. Jas. Kendry, M. P., issued his famous declaration "against the idea of preference in any form," a good many people wondered how he expected to manage with Mr. Borden. He has found a way out. He has decided not to be a candidate for Parliament again, and another has been selected in his place. Mr. Borden will be spared the inconvenience of Mr. Kendry's continuance as a parliamentary supporter of his.

It may, perhaps, be considered by some people that the Conservative party does not gain an awful lot by sticking to a policy which forces a strong man like Mr. Kendry to choose between staying in public life as a "hypocrite," and getting out as a man who prefers not to deceive himself as well as others.

It must also occur to a good many that it is very fortunate for such men as Sir George Drummond, Mr. Clouston, Mr. Stikeman, Mr. George E. Drummond, Hon. J. D. Rolland, Mr. Coristine, and others who repudiate Mr. Borden's railway policy, that the march of events in no way subjects them to the humiliation of a public sacrifice such as Mr. Kendry has made. They have made known their opinions, but they are not candidates, and so do not have to stand aside when Mr. Borden comes to town.—Herald.

Sir Henry Cochrane, for 25 years a Dublin alderman, and who was the unsuccessful Unionist candidate for College Green Division in 1892, died at Bray, Wicklow, on the 11th inst.

PUBLIC MEETINGS.

A series of public meetings will be held during the campaign. So far the following dates have been arranged.

Monday 10th inst, at Clearview and Benton.

Tuesday 11th inst, at Greenfield and Northampton.

Wednesday 12th inst, at Bristol and Lower Woodstock.

Further particulars will be given by posters. The Candidate, Mr. F. B. Carvell, will speak at as many meetings as possible. W. P. Jones, M. P., P. H. Paxton Baird, Frank R. Shaw and other able speakers will take the stump. The electors are cordially invited to attend these gatherings.

HAPPY MARRIAGE.

Grand View, N. B., Sept 21st, 1904.—

The home of A. W. Lenentine was the scene of a pretty wedding, when his eldest daughter, Lillian F., was united in marriage to Beverley S. Hillman, an esteemed resident of Canterbury. While Mrs. Wm. Collicott of Canterbury Station played the wedding march the bridal party took their places beneath a floral archway, expressive of the good wishes of their numerous friends. The bride looked very lovely in a costume of white organdy and carried a bouquet of sweet peas, and was attended by two tiny maids, also carrying flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. N. Barton. The selection of gifts attest to the popularity of these young people. After a dainty tea, amid showers of rice, Mr. and Mrs. Hillman took their departure for their home in Canterbury. The guests included only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

JOTTINGS.

Mrs. W. M. Connell is visiting relatives in Portland and Rockport. Mr. Brown, foreman of the Houlton Times, was a caller at this office on Wednesday.

Miss Vera Connell returned on Friday to her duties in Hackensack Hospital, N. J.

When you want a Gerhard-Heintzmann piano see that you get it. There is no substitute. (a)

On Sunday Rev. A. H. Hayward will preach at both services in the Albert Street Baptist church.

A small sum of money was found on the street on day this week. Make inquiry at this office.

Mrs. H. P. Baird returned on Thursday from Salisbury, where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Howie.

Parker Jacques, Presque Isle, accompanied by his friend, Asel Peck, spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacques.

Last Sunday evening in the Free Baptist church, Rev. F. A. Currier gave an able and eloquent address on Baptist Union. A vote was taken on the question, and resulted unanimously in favor of amalgamation.

Dr. A. Pierce Crockett, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, of St. John, will be at the Carlisle Hotel, Woodstock, Friday Oct. 14th, where he will attend to any affections of those organs as well as the application of glasses. (a)

WANTED:—Four girls to work in wrapper and overall factory. Girls with some experience preferred. Steady work and good wages. Boarding place and rooms would be furnished if desired. Address the Davis Manufacturing Co. St. Stephen, N. B.

Carleton County sends several freshmen to the U. N. B. F. Arnold Jewett, H. R. Boyer, Dorcas R. Sharpe, Had Saunders, Golden Wetmore and Raban Vince form our contingent. It is doubtful if any county in the province has a brighter half dozen at the provincial university.

From our special Georgia correspondent, Mr. E. T. Mallory, Forsyth, Ga., we have received some fine specimens of cotton bolls. Any person who has never seen cotton just as it grows would be interested in looking at the exhibit, which may be seen upon making inquiry at this office.

Delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention, October 11th, 12th and 13th, are requested immediately on arrival at Woodstock to proceed to the Reformed Baptist church for the purpose of registering and meeting the entertainment committee, who will be waiting to receive them. Town delegates are requested to register on the morning of the 11th.

Some Worthy Exhibits.

Owing to pressure of matter, we are forced to curtail our remarks on the exhibits at the exhibition. In addition to those described last week Connell Bros showed a fine display inside the building and in the yard. Among the many articles for the manufacture of which this firm is noted, are Climax Hot Air Furnaces, the most powerful furnace made, one size only, burns wood 40 inches long. Large door and coils can be placed in the fire box for hot water heating; Villa Crawford Ranges with and without reservoir, burns wood or coal; full line of Cook Stoves, four samples, Landadown, Marquis, Matchless and Ironclad. Heating Stoves they have Yukon triple heater, broadsides and box stoves; four sizes of cylinder stoves. In the yard the firm had a tornado thresher with direct gear level tread horse power; a circular wood sawing machine; three sizes Syracuse etc. 1 plows; a Spring tooth steel frame harrow; a wood frame Spring tooth harrow; four sizes farmers' boilers, pulpers, cider mill, etc.

A Henderson had a fine display of carpets. His reputation for handling only the best is so well known that praise on our part is superfluous.

C. R. Watson introduced a new piano in these parts, the magnificent Gourley, a Canadian made perfect instrument. He also showed the Bell and the Mason & Rich.

The Small & Fisher Co. Ltd. are known far and wide for the excellence of their goods. Their threshing machines are each year becoming better known, and are having phenomenal sales. Their wood sawing machines are the best to be found, while their ploughs are the equal of any. Their exhibit of stoves caught the eyes of all. The well known and highly favored Woodstock Range is a magnificent creation. Artistic in design, requiring little fuel, having superior baking qualities, and justly appreciated by the public, this great range is equal to any and surpassed by none.

G. A. Keith had a fine exhibit of photos. He also showed some nice frames. Picture frames may be secured from him, with guaranteed satisfaction.

Albert Worth exhibited a neat piece of work, a C. P. R. locomotive model. This was one of the best things at the show.

John H. Lee, agent for the famous Berliner gramophones, made a fine exhibit. One of the neatest booths at the show contained a complete line of these popular machines, ranging in price from $15 to $45. Over the top was a large banner, bearing a fine ad. of the Berliner gramophones. A neat souvenir in the shape of a pintray was given away free. All the latest and popular airs were played each day and the sales were very large. Mr. Lee looks sharply after the business and is rapidly filling up the county with these popular instruments.

A York County Woman Murdered in N. H.

Last Friday, John Lutwick of Dow Settlement, received a telegram from Wentworth, N. H., stating that his daughter, Mrs. Laura Wilkins, had been murdered and that her husband, W. H. Wilkins, was missing. No further details of the tragedy are at hand.

The missing man is a native of Canterbury Station, and during the first year or two of his married life was a resident of Dow Settlement.

There is a current report that he was seen at Debec a few days ago and has since been seen in the vicinity of his old home.

Appealing to the Country.

The Parliament of Canada is dissolved. Sir Wilfrid Laurier makes his appeal to the country. On October 27th the candidates will be nominated for election to a new Parliament. On November 3rd the electors will record their judgment on the conduct of the Government during the term of office which has just closed. The Government will stand or fall upon its record. That record is before the people of Canada, inscribed in the wise laws and in the efficient administration which have characterized the ninth Parliament of Canada. Upon that record Sir Wilfrid Laurier may well stand before the people confident and unashamed.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier makes no claim to perfection either in the legislation his Government has enacted or in the public services rendered under his administration. There may have been mistakes in judgment and defects in administration, as there are in all other human activities. But this can be claimed, that never before in Federal affairs, and never in any other country, was there a term of eight years of such continuous and rapid industrial development, accompanied by such freedom from grave administrative scandal and such steady integrity in public life, as have marked the two Parliaments of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership. Sir Wilfrid Laurier stands for what is best in the life and worthiest in the prospects of the larger Canada. By his statesmanship he has brought into harmony the contending interests, the widely-separated sections, and the rival races of this Dominion. When he assumed control of the Government in 1896 there was strife between class and class, jealousy between race and race, and distrust between creed and creed. To-day there is mutual respect and a growing confidence, and all classes and races and creeds are alike devoted to the higher ideals of Canadian nationhood. To have done so much as that is to have earned a first place in the service of one's country. And that Sir Wilfrid has done.

On the record of his eight years of leadership Sir Wilfrid Laurier makes his appeal to all the people of all the Provinces. The campaign will be brief and need not be bitter. The root of bitterness has been removed, and the discussion of the great questions of policy and administration need involve no personal recrimination or party slander. That Sir Wilfrid Laurier's leadership will be endorsed, and his government sustained by a sufficient majority, will be the almost certain issue of the campaign. For the sake of the past eight years, and in view of the interests at stake in the years to come, the electors, on November 3rd, will vote for Laurier.

NOTES BY CALVIN GREEN.

The Woodstock Exhibition was first class in every respect from a rabbit to a piano. A look of all grades was splendid credit to those who had exhibits. Carleton County, which stands well in the ranks of agriculture, is truly a wonder, and it is a question if the county of Aroostook could do as well. As near as I could learn there were six parishes represented at the exhibition, and Jacksonville and Northampton took the lead in stock raising. The horse show or parade in the park was a handsome sight and the horses were a credit to their owners. The drawing match proved another attraction to the hundreds of spectators and consisted of 5 span of horses, each averaging from 1200 to 1500 lbs, and drawing a drag loaded with stone weighing about 4 tons, and four men.

The Aberdeen Hotel, Woodstock, James H. Harvey, proprietor, is a first class hotel pleasantly situated on Queen street, about two minutes walk to the train. It is a three story building and contains 30 sleeping rooms, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey do all they can to make their guests feel at home.

SOAPS!

Soaps==Soaps!

Are often bought carelessly. If this were not so there would be no demand for the inferior quality on the market.

You can buy carelessly here if you like, because we buy carefully, and any soap we sell you is a worthy one.

It is a satisfaction, too, to pick from such an extensive stock of toilet, bath and nursery soaps as we carry.
