

A "Royal Household" Story from the Annapolis Valley.

Mr. Arthur Cochran, of DeLong & Seaman, Boston, tells of an incident which he observed not long since while travelling through the Annapolis Valley.

Some five or six miles from Middleton, Mr. Cochran called at the store of a friend and customer of his firm; and while discussing general business questions with him, a carriage drove up to the door and a prosperous looking fruit-grower pulled up his horse and got out.

"I came over for a barrel of that 'ROYAL HOUSEHOLD' Flour," said he. "Suppose you have lots of it left. My wife told me not to get any other kind, so I hope you have it here."

The merchant said he was very sorry but he had sold his last barrel of "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" the day before, and didn't expect a new supply to the first of the following week. He said:

"Won't you take a barrel of — or —. They are both flours of good reputation".

But the buyer said:

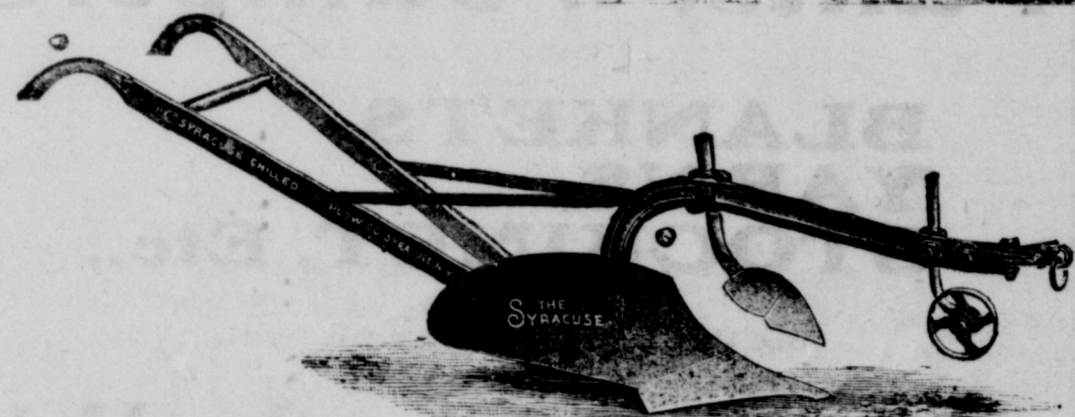

"No, we have used both those flours and we have used 'ROYAL HOUSEHOLD' and my wife thinks 'ROYAL HOUSEHOLD' so superior to any flour she has ever tried that she must always have it in future."

The merchant talked for a while and put up a pretty good argument, but finally the farmer said:

"It's only five or six miles to Middleton and, as I am hitched up, I might just as well drive over there and get what I want."

He thereupon drove to Middleton and got the flour he wanted; at least, Mr. Cochran presumes that he did, as he started for Middleton where "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is now sold in large quantities. Mr. Cochran thinks that there can be no doubt about "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" being the very best flour in this market when people will take such pains to be sure that they get it.

Breezy Notes from Georgia.

Forsyth, Ga., Sept. 6th, 1904.

Some weeks have elapsed since I wrote you, but you have been my companion every week. I wish it had been my good fortune to know your editor as well as I knew brother Watts. He was a noble specimen of a man, and a useful one. Whether the present editor is a good man or a bad one, his paper speaks highly for him, for it has improved much under the new management, so we will give him a seat in the good wagon. His editorial remarks are right to the point on most questions, and in accord with the ideas of the Old Boy, (I don't mean the devil) but one of your old boys.

Now, Mr. Editor, I find interesting material very scarce with me now, that would interest strangers. The weather here is quite pleasant now. In August we had 104 in. of rain. Previous to that time our summer had been rather dry. Crops are fairly good on the average, but in spots quite short. The peach crop has all been disposed of, also the watermelon, of which both these Ga. products brought fairly good prices. Many hundred carloads of these have gone out of the State this year, and now King Cotton begins to come on the market. Many thousand bales have already been weighed, and it is bringing fairly good prices. This of course makes the planter feel like paying his debts, (most of them).

This will be a great agricultural country when the land becomes skillfully tilled. The Georgia style of farming is being improved on year after year. This soil is capable of producing equally with Carleton Co. when skillfully treated and cultivated by willing hands. The main drawback here is the uncertainty of labour. The negro does not go out on strikes in a body like the Chicago meat cutters, but they go singlehanded when ever the notion takes them. It matters not to them how grassy the crop they are expected to work, or how much the farmer may lose, they go all the same. Once in a while we find one that will stick to business. These are found mostly among the old slave stock. Our chain gangs, and penitentiary are supplied mostly from the ranks of the free born negroes male and female. There is no Anglo-Saxon race in the world who knows so well how to live with and manage the negro as the southern people, if they could be let alone, and there are no people who are more in sympathy with them than the better class of southern people and will do more for those in need. You convict one of any crime no matter how heinous, and when he has served his sentence, he comes out a hero and is as much admired among his people as if he was a preacher. We have one in our jail now who is to hang the 19th of this month for killing a good citizen with his knife, just because the merchant asked for a small amount the negro owed him. They seem to be organized into what they call "Before Day Clubs," whose purpose is to kill, rob, and burn the white men and their families. That was demonstrated a few months ago in Bullock Co., Ga., where they had planned and executed the murder of a Mr. Hodges, his wife and eldest daughter, a small girl, but left two or three children that they thought too small to expose them, and fired the house, and burned the dead bodies and the two little ones alive. This was a family of a well to do farmer, and good people; no one knew he had an enemy in the world. These two criminals were caught tried and convicted and taken from the court by violence by an enraged mob over the protest of the court, and pleading of the victim's brother, as well as more of the conservative citizens and the state militia, and burned to death. This seems and is a horrid crime. So was the crime that led up to this. Think of burning two little innocent children in a house wrecking with the blood of father, mother and sister. This little girl begged for her life and offered them money, as she hid behind a trunk, if they would not kill her, but a blow from an ax hushed her pleading. This crime of revenge has brought down on the heads of the perpetrators of it the indignation of the press in Georgia as well as other States. I am not in favor of lynch law so long as it is in the other fellows domain, but when it comes home, what then? The only way to avoid lynching anywhere is to stop the cause that produces it. Why right here in Georgia these brutes in human form commit these unmentionable crimes on girls from five years old to a grandmother's age. The way to look at these things, as "Sam Jones says," is to set them up beside our own daughters, wives and mothers, and see how they look. Who can imagine its heinousness. Just as long as the Anglo-Saxon blood flows in white men's veins, just as long will these outrages be repeated, North or South, East or West. There is plenty of this sort of material here to write about, for almost every daily paper reports more or less of one or the other of these crimes, and sometimes both. But I have said enough perhaps on this unpleasant subject.

The Japs seem to keep pegging away on the Russians, so am I pegging away on my little farm with my old negro and his children. We have out about one half of a bale of cotton, but will get more if we keep on as we have begun. My second crop of Irish potatoes which are looking fine if Mr. Bug will let them alone. They will soon bloom and I will soon be through eating the spring crop. Then I can let my appetite recuperate, ready for the late crop. I tell you our Irish potato is always in order with this scribe and could I have some of New Brunswick salmon or speckled trout to go with them I would be as happy as a cub in a molasses tub.

I learn S. J. Parsons in exhibiting his boy on your streets as the only hope of maintaining and bearing his name. Well, brother Sam, I hope you can rear him up to be as good and useful a man as his grandfather and his own dad. I can sympathize with you on the same line. I have only one boy and he has only one child and that is a girl. So you see my name is in danger of being lost to the world, that is as far as my own family is concerned.

I note your correspondent, who has been writing up some interesting things about your town and people, says if he had my name he would write me a personal letter, he could not please me better. He can get my name from your office or from His Worship Mayor Lindsay.

I am glad your liberal political prospects are bright for another victory; so mote it be.

I see my family and friends are dropping off one by one in New Brunswick, thus weakening my interest in what was once my pride.

ONE OF YOUR OLD BOYS.

A Reckoning With England.

"There will come a reckoning with England. We recognize her as our old enemy, who has stood in the path of Russian development."

Prince Hesperie Oukhtowsky.

Ye who would reckon with England—

Ye who would sweep the seas

Of the flag that Rodney nailed aloft

And Nelson flung to the breeze—

Count well your ships and your men,

Count well your horse and your guns,

For they who reckon with England

Must reckon with England's sons.

Ye who would challenge England—

Ye who would break the might

Of the little isle in the foggy sea

And the lion heart in the fight—

Count well your horse, and your swords,

Weight well your valor and guns,

For they who ride against England

Must sabre her million sons.

Ye who would roll to warfare

Your hordes of peasants and slaves,

To crush the pride of an empire

And sink her fame in the waves—

Test well your blood and your metal,

Count well your troops and your guns,

For they who battle with England

Must war with a Mother's sons.

The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by all druggists.

Mr Charles M Schwab has announced that in his opinion there is no credit in dying rich, and that he has a difficulty in spending his income.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

IN MODERN DAYS.

The Ways of Doing Things Have Greatly Changed.

No Branch of Science Has Made Greater Advancement Than That of Medicine—Thousands of Lives Prolonged by Modern Discoveries.

"Few things have developed as rapidly during the past quarter of a century as the science of medicine," said a well known practitioner recently. "And undoubtedly the most striking phase in its progress is in the treatment of the blood. In the old days it was thought that opening a vein and letting the blood out was a cure for most diseases. The utter fallacy of that theory was discovered after a while. Then the symptoms of the disease were treated and the blood disregarded. That also has been shown to be a wrong practice, for, though driven away for a time, the symptoms always return if the cause is not removed, and the disease is worse than before. It is the root of the disease that must be attacked, and the most important development of modern medical science has been in discovering that, in most diseases, this lies in the condition of the blood. If the blood is thin and poor, the nerves and vital organs cannot receive their proper nourishment, the system becomes run down and in a condition to invite disease. Build up the blood, restore the worn-out nerves and you remove the cause. When the cause is gone the disease will vanish."

A instance of the truth of this is given by Miss A. M. Tuckey, Oxdrift, Ont., who says:—"I do not know what would have become of me had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My blood seemed to have turned to water, and I was troubled with dizziness, headaches and general prostration. I tried several medicines but instead of getting better I was gradually but surely growing worse. I became so weak I could no longer work, and it was while in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using the pills for a few weeks I began to gain strength; my appetite returned, the headaches and dizziness vanished, and before long I was enjoying as good health as ever I had done in my life. I cannot thank you enough for the good the pills have done me, and I hope they will long continue to help other sufferers."

Indigestion, neuralgia, heart trouble, anemia, kidney and liver complaints, rheumatism, the functional ailments of women, and a host of other troubles are all diseases of the blood, and that is why they are always cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which actually make new, rich, red blood, thus reaching the root of the disease and driving it from the system. The great success of this medicine has induced some unscrupulous dealers to offer pink colored imitations. You can protect yourself against these by seeing that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or may be had direct from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.
