An English was rowing against an Irishman in a race at the Yarmouth Regatta. The Englishman was winning so easily that he stopped two or three times, and shouted to Paddy to come along.

After the race everyone was chafing Paddy on the beating he had received, but he simply shrugged his shoulders and said: "If I had had as many rests as he had, I could have beaten him quite easily!"

Dear Sirs.—Within the past year I know of three fatty tumors on the head having been removed by the application of MINARD'S LINI-MENT without any surgical operation and there is no indication of a return. C. A. T. W. A. P. M. T.

Master—Well, Tommy you were not present yesterday. Were you detained at home in consequence of the inclemency of the weather?
Tommy—No sir, 'cause of the rain.

It's What It Leads to That makes Catarrh such a dreaded disease. If you have Catarrh taint, dropping in the throat, if you hawk and spit and have a stuffed up feeling in your nostrils, you should use fragrant healing Catarrhzone at once and get cured. Thousands have been saved from Consumption and completely cured by Catarrh-zone, so there is no reason why you shouldn't stamp out your Catarrh also. Catarrhzone will really cure you and prevent the disease from returning. It's very pleasant, just balsamic medicated vapor, no nauseous drugs. Absolute cure guaranteed to users of Catarrh-zone; it can't fail, try it. Complete outfit $1.00; sample size 25c.

'Well,' said the man on the opposite side of the tramcar to the passenger who had been staring at him in an absent-minded way, 'do you think you'll know me the next time you see me?'

'Why, yes,' replied the other, recovering himself. 'A man can't easily forget a face like yours. Why don't you have it changed?'

TOO GREAT A RISK.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

'Uncle, do you believe in signs?'

'Sometimes, my boy. Why do you ask?'

'Cause mother said that big ears were a sign of generosity, but you didn't give up anything for my birthday.'

Of Use Every Day.

Once you become acquainted with the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment and the scores of ways in which it is useful in every home, you would not think of being without it. Eczema, salt rheum, scald head, tetter, chafing, chilblains, burns, scalds and every form of skin irritation and eruption soon yield to its extraordinary soothing, healing influence.

He was a commercial traveler of the more flashy type, and had just finished telling a startling story to his newly made acquaintance in the railway carriage.

'That reminds me of one of Mun-chausen's yarns,' remarked the victim, for want of something better to say.

'Munchausen! Who is he?'

'Why, don't you know about him? He is the most colossal example of mendacity that civilization has produced.'

A brief, painful silence ensued, which was broken by the traveler, in a tone than was almost timid.

'Excuse me, my friend,' he said, if I seem inquisitive, but would you mind telling me what house he travels for?'

A Satisfactory Pile Remedy Will cure the conditions causing the piles. Try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; their frequent use prevents piles. No case ever known where the use of Dr. Hamilton's failed. Price 25c.

An old Glasgow gentleman, who dearly loved a joke, once said to a St. Mungo expert—'You beat me, but I play a grand defence with a man down.'

'You ought to,' was the reply;
'you have more experience in that kind of playing than any man I know.'

A riddle:—The man who made it did not need it; the man who bought it did not use it, and the man that used it did not see it. Answer:—A coffin.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

Daniel Webster liked to make remarks of a character intended to puzzle simple minds. Stopping to dinner one day at a country inn on his way to Marshfield he was asked by the hostess if he usually had a good appetite.

'Madam,' answered Webster, 'I sometimes eat more than I do at other times, but never less.'

Hurried and Worried All Day.

And the worst of it is you are a little run down and have mighty little chance to catch up. Everything seems like a grindstone wearing down your nerves. You are irritable and get less sleep than is absolutely necessary. Better stop before things get worse. Your best plan is to use Ferrozone for a while and give your nerves and brain a chance to pick up. Ferrozone is the finest tonic a busy man can take. It makes new blood, nourishes the body, strengthens the nerves, improves the appetite and rehabilitates the whole system. Try Ferrozone.
Price 50c.

Gertrude (the big sister)—Maud, I do wish you'd stop your chattering to that dog. Can't you see I'm talking to Mr. Loveadue?
Maud (aggrieved)—Well, I've got a right to talk to puppy, too.

NOTHING LIKE EXPERIENCE.

'One truth learned by actual experience does more good than ten experiences one hears about.' Tell a man that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure cholera morbus, and he will most likely forget it before the end of the day. Let him have a severe attack of that disease, feel that he is about to die, use this remedy, and learn from his own experience how quickly it gives relief, and he will remember it all his life. For sale by all druggists.

Mary—Stop your flatteries, or I shall hold my hands to my ears.
John (wishing to be complimentary)—Ah, your lovely hands are too small.

Mrs. Connell—It was very rude of you to yawn while we were making that call.
Mr. Connell—Well, good gracious! I had to open my mouth some time!

Jack—Will had a play produced by an amateur company the other night, I believe.

Tom—Who was the hero of it, do you know?

Jack—I was one. I sat through it.

'Doesn't she sing with a great deal of sympathy?'

'Yes; you would actually think she had heart enough to be sorry for those who were listening to her.'

'What are the illusions of courtship?'

Theophilus—Your idea that you can buy her all she wants; and her idea that she won't want anything you can't buy her.

Friend—They say you're new son-in-law is a handsome man.

Father—I never looked to see.

Friend—That's strange.

Father—Not at all. My daughter picked him out and all I had to do was to pay for him.

TOWN COUNCIL.

On Friday evening of last week, the council meeting was attended by Coun. Stevens, Fisher, Burr, Jones and Dibblee.

Marshal Kelly reported as collections for May, taxes $246.40, licenses $60. Report referred to finance committee, and the usual commission on licenses allowed the marshal.

Coun. Stevens reported that he found G. W. Vanwart was correct in his petition before the board at last meeting, and he recommended that a rebate of $11 be given to Mr. Vanwart. In the matter of the request of C. F. Rogers, he (Stevens) recommended that the assessors reduce the assessment on the island property to $1800. The council adopted both recommendations.

Coun. Stevens said as the clerk is absent from town, no information could be obtained whether or not the Creamery Co had been exempted by the town, nor as to the preparation of a new standpipe bond to take the place of the one lost by fire and held by the Bank of Nova Scotia.

A letter was received from Peter Clinch, St. John, secretary of the fire underwriters, suggesting a fire limit for the town.

On motion Coun. Dibblee, seconded Coun. Burr, the mayor was requested to write to Mr. Clinch and arrange a meeting to consider the matter.

Coun. Stevens, as chairman of finance committee, said the time limit for the payment of taxes, 1904, to secure a discount, had expired, and although there was a surplus in the bank it was not wise to let up on the collecting. He moved, seconded by Coun. Fisher, that the taxes be accepted at face up to July 20th, after which executions are liable to issue against defaulters. Carried.

Coun. Stevens was not satisfied with the collections during the month of May of the taxes for 1903. He scored the marshal severely for being too tender hearted with defaulters. He would insist on the marshal collecting the taxes immediately. Complaint had been made that several defaulters for last year were able to pay their just dues and they had not done so.

Marshal Kelly was heard before the board. He pointed out that a larger amount of taxes had been collected in 1903 than in any previous year of the town's existence. Executions have been served on nearly all the defaulters, and he had received abuse from that quarter for being too free with executions. If the board specified any particular individual, he would seize the goods or property of that individual tomorrow.

Coun. Stevens—Has the mayor any report from the solicitor in the case of the town against the woolen mill?

Mayor Lindsay—I have not sufficient information to lay a report before the board as the solicitor has not arrived home. What information we have should be kept to ourselves, and should not be given to the other side.

On motion Coun. Dibblee, seconded Coun. Stevens, no bills will be paid for trucking in future and the town team will do the work.

On motion it was decided that the chairman of the fire and water departments should keep both horses at work, and that the chairman of any committee and town officials may use the horses at any time for town purposes.

On motion Coun. Dibblee, seconded
Coun. Fisher, R. J. Lindsay and A. G.
Bailey were appointed town revisors for the ensuing year.

On motion Coun. Jones, seconded Coun. Dibblee, George Buck and Fred Hayes were appointed poundkeep-ers and their barns constituted legal pounds.

The mayor requested all pound-keepers to present themselves before him to be sworn in before entering upon their duties.

Acting on the suggestion of Coun.
Dibblee, the mayor said upon receipt of a letter from Mr. Clinch stating when it would be most convenient for him, he (the mayor) would call a meeting of the council to take up the question suggested by the fire underwriters.

VISITING CARDS.

A great London paper lately commented on the improper use often made of visiting cards by nefarious persons, but it is evident that the writer did not know that whole packets of such cards, bearing the most distinguished names, can be purchased for a mere trifle.

These cards are for the most part, as one of the vendors assured the writer, used innocently enough in a way of speaking by persons of social pretensions who simply wish to impress people of their own circle. In the hall or on one of the dining room tables elaborate salvers are left carelessly about, each one piled with cards bearing most distinguished names, and of course the waiting visitor, examining these cards to pass the time, is presumed to be deeply impressed by the weight of the social circle in which the owner of the drawing room mixes. The tradesman who was the writer's informant declared that some of the purchasers of the cards greatly enhanced the effect by having scribbled in pencil upon these bits of pasteboard, in different handwritings of course, more or less intimate little messages.

The same informant declared that he had known men of a facetious turn of mind about to visit watering places near London who would take the cards of great people with them and would on making chance acquaintances for mere amusement greatly impress these latter by giving them one or other of the pieces of pasteboard bearing a notable name.—London Tit-Bits.

THE BEST LINIMENT.

'I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Palm Balm for rheumatism and lumbago,' says Mrs. Anna Hagelgans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. 'My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment I have ever used. I would not think of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they always speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful.' For sale by all druggists.

DOMESTIC HINTS.

Coffee and butter cakes are the daily luncheon of thousands of downtown workers in New York.

A cup of milk added to the water with which an oilcloth or oiled floor is to be washed gives lustre like new.

Insects, it is said, will never attack books which are dusted once a year with powdered alum and white pepper.

A box filled with lime and placed on the shelf in a pantry and frequently renewed will absorb the damp, and keep the air pure and dry.

When washing knives be careful not to put the handles in the water, as if this is done, after a time the blades will become loose and the handles discolored.

For savoury Scotch cheese cakes take four ounces of butter, four ounces of good grated cheese, four beaten eggs, a little cream, salt and pepper; mix and bake in paste cases.

If your window glass is lacking in brilliance, clean it with liquid paste made of alcohol and whiting. A little of this mixture will remove specks and impart a high lustre to the glass.

Lemon juice, it is said, rubbed on the cheeks before going to bed and allowed to dry there will remove freckles, sunburn and whiten the skin, besides giving it a charming smoothness and softness to the touch.
This should be done about three times a week.

Dr. Hugh Marshall, a lecturer on chemistry in the University of Edinburgh, has invented a mode of carburetted air for lighting purposes.
The draft of the lamp chimney draws the air through the carburetter, which contains paper pulp saturated with gasoline. The carburetted air gives a bright incandescent light without a wick or smoke.

As the tree is known by its fruit, the gold by the touch, and the bell by the sound; so is a man's birth by his benevolence, his honor by his humility, and his calling by his courtesy.

A Durham pitman was asked the other day what was the meaning of a "living wage."

'A living wage, mun; whoo, enough to keep the dawg and anesel, forbye the wife and bairns.'
