Romantic Story of a Russian Nurse.

A romantic story develops around Miss Corelle, the Russian war nurse, who is on her way to Japan. She refused to talk, but a reliable authority says her capture by the Chinese bandits who took her into the Japanese lines was part of her scheme to find her lover. The first reports said that Miss Corelle had voluntarily entered the Japanese lines. This now seems to be incorrect.

Miss Corelle, it is now said was a nurse during the Boxer rebellion and won the Stanislaus medal. During that war she was wounded in the arm and received the St. George's medal, because she continued to work after her wound was dressed. She is a remarkably handsome woman of twenty-one years of age.

A young Russian officer fell in love with the pretty nurse who reciprocated his affection fully. Recently this officer was among the missing and it was believed he was wounded or a prisoner among the Japanese. In order to find him it is alleged, Miss Corelle strolled from the Russian camp and very cheerfully allowed some Chinese bandits to capture her.

This was about ten days ago. The next step in her scheme was to become a Japanese prisoner or reach their lines. The bandits, it is asserted, allowed her to communicate with the French Consul at Newchwang, following with a detail of Japanese soldiers reached their camp and Miss Corelle was taken to Newchwang. She tried to secure permission to go to Japan and search for her lover, but the Japanese gave her twenty four hours in which to leave the town, suspecting her of being a spy.

The French Consul at Chefoo is now endeavoring to obtain permission for Miss Corelle to nurse the wounded Russians in Japan. A dispatch to the Associated Press from General Oku's headquarters via Fusan, November 20 said that a Russian woman Red Cross nurse had entered the Japanese lines on Sunday last surrendering and requesting to be sent to Matsuyama to nurse the Russian prisoners there. She said that she was the daughter of a Russian Colonel and that she had been sent to Japan to care for the officers at Matsuyama. It was added that her wish was granted.

A POOR EXCUSE.

Hamilton Herald: ED Smith says he will hold the seat for Wentworth, and he explains that the reason why he won't resign is that the Liberals having entered a protest against his election, his motive might be misconstrued if he gave up the seat; his enemies would be certain to accuse him of desiring to prevent an investigation. No well-informed person expects Mr. Smith to resign now, for the very good reason that it is not in his power to resign. He cannot do so until parliament meets and a speaker is chosen. But he can announce his intention to resign. This he should have done before the protest proceedings were started; there would then have been no excuse for the charge that he decided to withdraw in order to head off an investigation. But as it is we don't think there is much virtue in Mr. Smith's excuse. The great question is whether it is right or wrong for him to retain a seat to which he was not elected by a majority of the Wentworth electors. If he thinks he would be doing right in holding on to the possession through the blunder of an official, there is nothing more to be said. If he thinks that the proper course for him, as an honorable man, is to resign the seat at the earliest opportunity, to plead as an excuse for not doing so that his motive might be misconstrued is scarcely creditable to Mr. Smith. The strong man will dare to do the right thing, no matter what people may think or say about his motive for doing right. Does Mr. Smith take the position that doing right is merely a matter of expediency?

The Home-Coming of Lord and Lady Minto.

A public meeting was held in the schoolroom at Minto, Roxburghshire, on the 14th ult. to consider what steps should be taken to give Lord and Lady Minto and family a fitting welcome home on their return from Canada. Mr. Harvey, schoolmaster, presided over a large gathering. It was eventually remitted to a representative committee to carry out a scheme of festivities, including a reception at Hassendean Railway Station, four miles from Hawick, which it is proposed should be brilliantly illuminated, a bonfire on Minto Hills, and an illuminated triumphal arch at the entrance to Minto village. The village and grounds will also be illuminated, and there will be a torch-light procession. Lord and Lady Minto are expected to reach Minto House about the second week of December.

SLEEPLESS BABIES.

"The fraternal societies are, in my opinion, one of the greatest powers for good government, and the protection of the home, that we have in this country. This government will endure just so long as we protect the great interests represented by your orders. In working out the great problems which confront our nation, we must depend wholly upon the sentiments which actuate the fraternities, viz., the brotherhood of man and the sacredness of American home life."—President Theodore Roosevelt.
