EDITORIAL NOTES.

Jack Macdonald, grandson of Sir John A., will be a candidate for a seat in the territories, according to advices from Winnipeg.

James Kendry, M. P. for Peterborough, a staunch supporter of Mr. Borden, announces his opposition to the Chamberlain policy. Mr. Kendry says the preference idea would result in England doing the manufacturing, while Canada could console herself with the buying. Then of course there would be the raising of food-stuffs, but he is of the opinion manufacturing industries in Canada would greatly suffer should Chamberlain's scheme carry.

Speaking of Mr. Roland Henry who is to be here with the Meister Glee Singers on Saturday evening, Sept. 17th, an English critic says of his performance: "The hall was alive with the sense of fun, laughter becoming positively painful, and while the author of it at the end was as cool as a cucumber the audience was nearly in a state of collapse."

"Miss Ethel Henry of London, England, is one of the most beautiful women on the stage to-day. As an elocutionist she has probably never been equaled. She has an exceedingly musical voice, well modulated and of just the proper timbre. But it is her acting that rivets attention." From the New York Herald. Miss Henry will be here with the Meister Glee Singers on September 17th.

Tuesday evening Coun. Jos. Fewer was returning from Bath in a carriage. Along with him was one of his men. When below Hartland, near Shaw's mill, a team overtook them on the way. As there was no chance for the newcomers to drive by, Mr. Fewer could not let them go ahead of him. The party who was driving behind seemed determined to run over Mr. Fewer and his companion; with the liberal use of the whip his horse was forced right upon Mr. Fewer's buggy. The result was a telescopic collision which sent both horses and wagons rolling over one another, and threw the occupants into the ditch. Mr. Fewer's wagon was badly smashed. The other man's rig was also damaged. Horses and passengers escaped with a few bruises. Mr. Fewer has secured the name of the party who caused the trouble and will take legal steps to force a settlement.

Death of George Vanwart.

Many residents of this town will remember George Vanwart, who years ago moved here from Wickham, Queens Co, and engaged in business, first running a mercantile establishment, and later becoming proprietor of the livery business on Connell Street until recently known as Lee's stable. After disposing of that, Mr. Vanwart went to Montana, where he resided for some time. About a year ago he left Butte and moved to a farm nearly 60 miles from Calgary. On the 20th of August he was busy in the hayfield, was suddenly taken ill with heart failure, and expired. Deceased was about 63 years of age. His wife was formerly a Miss Moore of this town, sister of the late Fred Moore. She and two children survive. G. W. Vanwart, the King Street dry goods merchant, is a cousin of deceased.

A SOUND BODY.

The future of the Canadian people depends upon the development of the mental and physical powers of the young. It depends more on these qualities in our young men and young women than upon the building of railways and canals, the increase of immigration, the development of trade, or whether the Government is Liberal or Conservative. A sound mind in a sound body is the basis of all progress. There have been strong minds in weak bodies, but these are the exception. Lucretius's ancient observation is worth recalling:

"Gigni pariter cum corpore, et una Crescere sentium pariterque senescere mentem."

"We see that the mind is born with the body, that it grows with it and also ages with it." Sterne carried the idea another step when he said: "Man's body and his mind are exactly like a jerkin and a jerkin's lining—rumple the one, you rumple the other."

Some young people take too little interest in athletics, some take too much. There must be a proper balance; and the maintaining of the balance depends upon the teaching of the parents and the educationists. Athletics should not be made the aim of life; they are but a part of the preparation.—September Canadian Magazine.
