Hon. Mr. Foster Turns Up.

After many long moons spent in the obscurity to which he was relegated by the electors of St John and North Ontario, Hon Geo E Foster bobbed serenely into view at St John this week, and at once began to talk politics. The Hon George thinks an election is near. One does not need to be reminded that the sage of Apohaqui is no sure prophet, but he still keeps at the business. As of yore he is an optimist of the first water, no less than at least half the seats in the maritime provinces being the modest claim for his party. It is well within the memory of the present generation that the ex-Finance Minister stood upon a public platform in the town of Woodstock less than four years ago and told his admiring hearers that the liberals had no show at all in the lower provinces, and would come out of the then impending contest with a decided loss. Three weeks later the smoke of battle had cleared away, and what was the result? Each of the maritime provinces gave a majority of votes for the administration, the conservative forces were shattered beyond repair, and the Hon Mr Foster himself was among the stranded. Liberals will not be deceived by the glowing prospects for the conservative party so happily pictured by the distinguished son of Carleton County. The truth is that the maritime provinces, in keeping with the rest of the country, are more strongly than ever in favor of the Laurier administration and will speak in no uncertain tone when the ballots are cast.

HON. MR. SUTHERLAND ILL.

The latest news from Hon James Sutherland, minister of public works, is not very cheering. The honorable gentleman has been ill for a long time and his friends fear the only hope of recovery lies in a complete withdrawal from public life and business. At present he is undergoing medical treatment at one of the best hospitals in America, but the doctors advise a long rest. As the general elections are thought to be near, he will perhaps retire from the Commons, although the sturdy men of Oxford would re-elect him by an enormous majority without so much as an effort on his part. The duties of his department are in charge of Hon Charles Hyman of London, Ont., well known here on account of his business connection with the industries at Benton.

Cartwright for the Senate.

Sir Richard Cartwright, who has fought many successful battles for the party, in and out of the Commons, has probably run his last election. The Knight of Oxford will, it is said, receive appointment to the Senate, where his mature experience, undoubted ability and splendid fighting qualities will add materially to the strength of the dominant party. He will in the event of his entrance to the senate take over the leadership of the Upper House, in succession to Senator Sir Richard Scott, who finds the arduous duties somewhat more than he can attend to in his present state of health.

N. B. GIRL ELOPED.

An electric car elopement from Cambridge, Mass., to Worcester on July 16, in which a New Brunswick girl was one of the participants, has just become known. Cards have been issued announcing the marriage of Miss Lena Josephine Cadman formerly of Westmorland Co., N. B., and Chester W Woodbury, a young society man of Cambridge. It appears that Miss Cadman, while visiting her uncle, George Avard, last October, met Woodbury, and since that time they had been frequently seen in each other's company. As the young lady was under 20, her folks would not agree to a wedding. Last month Woodbury and Miss Cadman boarded an electric car for Worcester, where they were married by Rev R E Johnson. The young lady mentioned in the above article is known in Woodstock. About four years ago she and her sister spent some weeks in town visiting Mr and Mrs J T Collins.

The private car Alberta having on board the chief engineer of the C P R and party was attached to the express going north on Wednesday. Supt Newcomb accompanied them.

The Misses Corkery, daughters of J Corkery, were registered at the Royal, St John, on Wednesday.

Mrs Wm Drysdale of Woodstock is visiting relatives in town.—New-castle Advocate.

It is understood that the dispute between Hon H A Connell and the C P R will be settled by arbitration. The judge in equity is to appoint three arbitrators who will determine what sum shall be paid by the C P R as damages to Mr Connell for the right to construct a pier upon his land on the south side of the Medunakeag. Both parties agree to accept the award.

On Wednesday afternoon the qualifying rounds for place on first eight, who will compete for the 1904 golf club championship, resulted in the following members securing the right to compete: Dr Sprague, Clarence Sprague, George Mitchell, N F Thorne, J S Creighton, B M Macleod, Dr R E Guy Smith and H P Baird.

Captain Milmore of the Colts has received a letter from the Grand Falls team, in which it is stated that the team at that place disclaim all responsibility for the article published in the Gleaner, commenting rather unfavorably upon the actions of the Colts in the recent game at the Falls. The up river boys say they are perfectly satisfied, and have the best of feeling for the Colts. They also hope soon to have the pleasure of another meeting on the diamond.

Woodstock Masons obtained a due share of honors at Grand Lodge. John McKenzie is junior grand deacon and Geo W Gibson a grand steward. In the grand council of the H. P. S., E L Hagerman is junior vice president, and G H Harrison steward. Mr Harrison was also chosen deputy grand high priest of the Royal Arch Chapter. Senator Baird of Andover is senior grand deacon, and J R Tompkins of Florenceville is a grand steward for the coming year.

For Sale. On Main street, Upper Woodstock, that corner residence and store with lot of land 60x220 feet owned and occupied by Mrs Wm Mackintosh. This would be a valuable property for anyone starting a business, or as a residence, as it is convenient to the trains and market. The garden contains apple and plum trees, also all small fruits, and can be inspected at any time. Apply on the premises.—4i-35.

The minister of militia is very much enthused with the idea of promoting the efficiency of Canadians in rifle shooting. To that end liberal appropriations have been set apart for the erection and improvement of ranges throughout the dominion. Sussex is to have a new range. The Woodstock Rifle Club feel the necessity for long distance practice. At present six hundred yards is the longest distance. The range will, it is expected, be soon lengthened so that firing may be done at 800 and 1000 yards.
