Hurrah for Ed Gillmor. If Mr. Gillmor or some others of the head men of our county would take time to call on the farmers of this and adjoining settlements and see the empty barns, granaries and pantries and cellars and the last year's store bills, machinery bills, taxes and all the other bills not paid, they would take some interest. While the hail streak was only about two miles wide, it looks as though something ought to be done to help the unfortunate ones without enough to feed one hen. The rest of the county have an abundance of crop.

Last week was a week of cold weather, very cold; the wind blew all the week from the north from Monday morning until Saturday night, when it shifted and came in from the south. It rained all last night, and lowered the snow very much, and lessened the ice quite a little too; and the need of the hour is some more snow, which may come any day, and will be heartily welcomed when it does come.

This preparation is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough, has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

Itching Skin

Distress by day and night—

That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this scaling, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

"I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since." Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md.

Dec 22.

The people of this county have good reasons to complain of the "law's delay." The controversy in the Victoria County News must be edifying to the patrons of the paper. Confession is said to be good for the soul; if this is so, we hope the parties will feel better when they are through.

The blacksmith shop, now unoccupied in this place is an exceptionally good location for a competent workman. Chas. Watson, Andover, is agent for the property.

It is rumored that the mill property here will change owners in the spring. The electric light power could be supplied from this source. If this mill was supplied with new machinery and the roller process it would be a fine property and have a large patronage.

THE CHIEF WEEDS IN CLOVER AND TIMOTHY.

The spread of noxious weeds can be attributed to no single cause. They seem to be naturally adapted to rapid spreading, and besides there are various natural and artificial agencies which aid in their dissemination. Not the least important among these agencies is the seed grain trade. Almost every farmer purchases yearly seed of grain or grasses and clovers with little thought of introducing weed seeds in this way. As a matter of fact however, he seldom gets seed perfectly free from weed seeds of some kind. Occasionally these are not so injurious, but not frequently they are most undesirable, and, being introduced unconsciously, gain a strong foothold before their presence is suspected. In this connection some particulars of the analysis of seeds from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa should be of interest as they show to what extent these conditions prevail.

Of over two hundred samples of Timothy analysed during 1903 only four had no weed seeds in them; in the others over thirty different kinds of weed seeds were represented. Of these Cinquefoil, Peppercorn, Sheep Sorrel, Ribgrass, False Flax, Lamb's quarters, Canada Thistle and White Cockle were most commonly present, often at the rate of several thousand per pound. In Red Clover and Alsike, of each of which there were several hundred samples analysed, there were upwards of forty species of weed seeds, those being commonest whose size approximated that of the clover seed. Thus in Red Clover were commonly found Curled Dock, Canada Thistle, White Cockle and Ribgrass; while in Alsike, False Flax, White Cockle, Sheep Sorrel, Cinquefoil and Black Medick were prevalent.

This primary cause for this prevailing condition is no doubt the growth of weeds with the crop for seed, and the tendency of farmers to buy improperly cleaned seeds because they are cheaper than, and to a casual examiner, equally as good as dearer grades. It is usually safe to regard cheap seed as an inferior quality and on this account to avoid buying it.

Dodder was present in twelve samples of Red Clover at an average rate of 418 seeds per pound; this is considerably more than was the case a year ago and was no doubt due to more seed being imported from the south where this parasite thrives much better than here. The analysis of several samples obtained from Chili showed that Dodder is a very common impurity in seed from that country, one sample having upwards of seven hundred seeds per pound and others somewhat less. There is no probability of Canada ever having to import seed from Chili, but as both countries have a common market for their surplus supply, the presence of this impurity in the Chilean seed should afford the Canadian producer a considerable advantage. Were it not for this circumstance the Chilean Red Clover seed would prove a dangerous competitor, as it is well colored, plump and of high vitality, and with few other objectionable impurities.

Several samples of exported Canadian Alsike and Red Clover were obtained from English seed merchants. All these showed a uniform quality, none of them free from weed seeds but had apparently been well cleaned as there was a notable absence of such impurities as light seeds, chaff, or weed seeds either larger or smaller than the bulk of the sample. Small numbers of Cockle, Black Medick, and False Flax still remain in the Alsike, and of Foxtail and Ribgrass in the Red Clover. The germination was uniformly over ninety per cent. The average quality was therefore considerably better than that of the seeds retained in our own markets. It should always be remembered, however, by buyers that, while the average quality of our seeds may be low, the highest grades are always offered for sale, and this quality is in the end the most profitable.

Stomach Troubles.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all druggists.

Story of Dr. Chalmers.

Dr. Chalmers came home one evening on horseback, and as he could not find the man who took charge of the horse, nor the key of the stable, he led the horse into the garden and left it on one of the walks. When his sister, who had been from home, returned and learned that the horse had been left in the garden she cried, "Then our flower and vegetable beds will be destroyed," to which the Doctor answered that he had left the animal on the garden walk, and it was too sagacious to injure the garden products. To settle the point the brother and sister adjourned to the garden, and found—ruthless devastation. "Well," said the Doctor, "I could not have imagined that horses were such senseless animals."

The Engagement Ring.

How many thoughts are centred in the engagement ring! Every girl has special ideas about the one she would like to have. Diamonds are general favorites, a hoop of diamonds is the dream of some newly engaged maidens. Those who know that their fiancé can ill afford so costly a present, or would prefer that he should save the money towards the furnishing of their future home, will be content with a present far less pretentious. This is the girl who will choose a simply chased band of gold to one ornamented with poor or imitation stones. This latter would show such bad taste on the part of both the girl and her fiancé if he did not advise her otherwise.

Without doubt, there is nothing in life so well calculated to humble the proud as matrimony. Man, as a general thing, has to 'find his level' in marriage just as he did at school. This was the case of a man up at Winnipeg, who was objecting to doing certain work about the house, and he quoted scripture to his wife, showing that the household duties should properly be assigned to the woman. The good wife replied by reading her astonished liege lord 2 Kings xxi, 13: "I will wipe out Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." That husband has wiped the dishes ever since.
