A Man has no Excuse for being badly dressed. It costs no more to buy good clothes than it does, in the end, to buy "cheap" clothes. The difference is in the comfort and wear.

"PROGRESS"

is for the man who must economize, as well as for those who needn't count dollars and cents. It's the kind of clothing any man is proud to wear. It gives the service and comfort—it holds its shapeliness and good looks—in a way that makes it a practical economy to buy "Progress" Brand Clothing.

Sold by Leading Clothiers throughout Canada.

Progress Brand Clothing may be had from John McLaughlan, Woodstock, and C. J. Greene, Bath.

The death occurred at Devonport on the 13th ult. of Alderman John Wm. Ryder in his 98th year, being the oldest alderman in England. He was Mayor when the late Queen Victoria came to the throne and also in 1887, the year of Her Majesty's first Jubilee.

JANUARY DESIGNER.

The pretty girl on the cover of The Designer for January will undoubtedly tempt more than one man to investigate the pages to which she acts as gate-keeper. Two articles in this number have a decidedly Western flavor: "A Chinese New Year in California," by Jessie Juliet Knox, and "The Stanford University and Its Girls," by Sarah Comstock, Stanford, '96. The unfortunate music-lover who has had a Wagnerian afternoon ruined for him by chattering neighbors, will heartily appreciate "At the Matinee," a monologue by Harvey Peake; and the observing man or woman who has watched the wonderful contortions of which the human countenance is unconsciously capable, will concur with Bertha Hasbrouk, who writes on "The Making of Faces," in "The Interest of Beauty." "Our Winter Boarders—The Downy and Hairy Woodpecker," by Craig S. Thoms, is a charming bit of nature study, and "A Dinner of Herbs," by Temple Bailey, is a capital New Year story in which two widows, two bachelors and a bull-dog take prominent part. "Pleasant Sitting-Rooms," by Mary Kilsyth, shows how to combine comfort and attractiveness in the living-room. In the fancywork line there are "Initiating Household Linen," "Fillet or Gilted Embroidery," "Hand-made Sweaters," and "Rib-bon Decorations," and in addition to the captivating midwinter fashions there are three pages of "Character Costumes," suggestive of novel garb for fancy-dress occasions.

Winnipeg counts a population of nearly 83,000 people, and confidently expects within the next year or two to pass the hundred thousand mark. Millions of dollars' worth of buildings have already been contracted for for next year.

Rev. William Francis Shaw, a well-known theologian and archaeologist, died at Huddersfield on the 21st ult., aged 75 years. He wrote five manuals for the Church of England, which are now in general use.
