WHOLE No. 3001

THE INFORMATION FOR OUR READERS.

The Press seems to be in a complaining mood. It says the SENTINEL has been devoting much attention to the internal affairs of the conservative party. We do not think it any time to give the public legitimate information regarding that or any other party. The occasion upon which we recently said too much for the support of our contemporary was when we mentioned several prominent conservatives as possible candidates in the coming election. It will be remembered that the list included Messrs. Foster, Smith, Fleming, Vince, Tompkins and Hartley, in addition to the sitting member. The Press has some trouble to deny the existence of the first three, but is as careful to say nothing regarding Messrs. Vince, Tompkins and Hartley. That being the case, it is fair to assume that anyone of these latter gentlemen would be not unwilling to sacrifice himself on the altar. But the conservative party managers are not without strong hope that the present member may once more be induced to stand in the breach, at great financial loss to himself, and consequent ease to the rank and file. Whether he consents or not, it is of small concern to the liberal party. That party are determined to put up a winning fight, no matter who may lead the conservative forces in the battle of the ballots. It is with mild surprise that we have witnessed the publication, in what claims to be a reputable newspaper, of a most unmitigated slander regarding the liberal convention held in January. The Press knows very well, as does every man in the county, that the choice made by that convention was a spontaneous call from the solid yeomanry of the riding. The meeting was regularly called by the president of the liberal association, delegates from every parish and even each school district in the county were present, and in open convention, without one dissenting voice, the party standard was placed in the hands of Mr. Carvell. That magnificent gathering of liberals, the largest that ever assembled in the town of Woodstock, could not possibly be termed a "packed" gathering. If ever an insult was heaped upon intelligent and honest electors it is this contemptible assertion in the Press.

Now that it suits its purpose to do so, the Press is suddenly seized with the desire to praise Mr. H. H. McCain. That gentleman will have no difficulty in recalling to memory the many unpleasant things said of him in that journal whenever he stood as a candidate in this constituency, and he can have little sympathy with the effort the conservatives are now making to use him as a cat paw in the election.

Mr. McCain is too upright and honest an individual, too well grounded in the faith of liberalism, and has the interests of the country too much at heart, to pay any attention whatever to the despicable efforts certain conservatives are making in order to influence him against the party with which he has so long been affiliated, and by which he has been singularly honored in every contest into which he entered in past years.

The Press had better mend its own fences before gazing into its neighbor's lot. There is plenty of work for it within the confines of its own party. Should it desire information regarding some decidedly interesting episode in the recent history of its own party, we might perhaps be tempted to furnish them. But we have no pressing desire to wash the dirty linen of our opponents. There are those who will do it in due season, and they are not of the liberal persuasion.

The Press has been good enough to refer to the editor of this paper as simply Mr. Carvell's mouthpiece. Now we must confess some feeling of flattery at this, and would almost wish it were the case, but said to say, we can lay claim to no such distinction. Ever since the liberal candidate actively entered politics, he has been the bull's eye at which every Tory shaft has been hurled. No person is more feared, and none is more cordially hated politically than he, by the heelers of the conservative party, and it is only natural that he must be held responsible for everything. In so far as the SENTINEL is concerned, its entire management, both in the editorial and business sections, is in no way influenced by Mr. Carvell. The editor alone is responsible for the SENTINEL's utterances, and in so far as they agree with Mr. Carvell's sentiments, all well and good, but we expressly and distinctly deny that the policy of the paper is anyway controlled or directed by any person except the legally authorized manager. Mr. Carvell neither writes nor inspires the editorial matter found in our columns. This should be plain enough.

GOLF CHAMPIONS

PLAYED NOTABLE GAMES ON THE OUTREMOUNT LINKS.

The Outremount golf links presented an animated appearance on Saturday, the great attraction being the presence of the open champions of the United States and Canada, respectively, and the amateur champion of Canada.

In the morning Mr. Willie Anderson, of the Apawamis Club, and United States champion played the best ball of Mr. Percy Taylor, amateur champion of Canada, well known for his brilliant and effective golf, and Mr. Gerald Lees, of the Outremount Club, whose easy graceful style has many admirers. A very strong westerly wind was blowing and made low scoring difficult. The formidable carry from the tee at the fourth hole was rendered still more formidable by the adverse wind, but with the wind behind, some phenomenal driving was seen at the long third and ninth holes. The splendid condition of the course was a source of great surprise to those who saw the wilderness of three years ago, while of its sporting qualities there was no doubt whatever. The following are the holes with their distances in yards, and, played twice, constituted the full round: The Plateau, 325; the stump, 300; cross-country, 390; Try-Davies, 450; Edgehill, 160; the Recorder, 160; the railway, 260; the fort, 150; home, 490. Total distance for nine holes, 2,685 yards. The first hole was divided in five and the second in six. This, though very even, was hardly first-class. First blood, however, was drawn by Mr. Anderson by a perfect 4 (one less than bogie) for the difficult Cross-country hole. The American champion also won the fourth in 5, and then by skilful putting Mr. Taylor won Edgehill, and the Recorder in 3 each, Mr. Anderson requiring 4, and the match was now square. Mr. Anderson next won the railway in 4, divided the fort with Mr. Lees in 4, and the home hole it 5 with Mr. Taylor, thus concluding the first nine holes one up. Going to the plateau for the second time, Messrs. Anderson and Lees divided honors in 5 each, while Messrs. Anderson and Taylor took but 4 this time for the stump. Mr. Anderson also won the 12th, 13th and 15th, while the amateurs won the 14th and 16th. The last hole was played by the trio in 5 each, so that Anderson won the match by three holes.

There was an exceedingly large attendance at the afternoon games. Mr. Murray, of Westmount; Mr. Oke, of Ottawa, the open champion of Canada, and Mr. Anderson, drove off in the order named. Beautiful screams were sent by all three. The first hole, 325 yards, was holed in three perfect fours and the gallery was delighted at the even and splendid play. Here Mr. Oke ran down his putt from, at least, 25 feet away. At the second hole Mr. Anderson electrified the gallery by a magnificent approach from 130 yards or more, holing out in two more, while Messrs. Oke and Murray each took an extra stroke. Beautiful drives for the long and difficult third hole followed. Murray and Anderson dividing it in five, Mr. Oke taking one more. Driving over the terrible pot-bunkers of the fourth (Try-Davies) hole, Messrs. Murray and Oke were short, while Mr. Anderson just got over. Here the American champion's second stroke was one of the prettiest of the day. Taking his brassy for a hanging and, rather indifferent lie, he sent a low ball that for nearly 180 yards seemed not more than four feet from the ground. Mr. Murray followed brilliantly, and the hole was divided in the same figures as the third.

At Edgehill Mr. Anderson ran down a pretty putt for a 3, while his opponents each took 4. At this stage Mr. Anderson was leading Mr. Murray by 2 strokes and Mr. Oke, by 4. The Recorder was halved by Messrs. Murray and Anderson in four, but Mr. Oke, lying rather near a root branch of the big elm, struck the ball instead of his ball. Somewhat disconcerted at his bad luck, he took six for the hole, and five instead of four for the railway, which was the score of his comrades. The Fort was taken by Mr. Anderson in 3, by Mr. Murray in 4, and by Mr. Oke in 5. At the foot of the fort one of the prettiest bits of play of the day took place. From about 120 yards off Mr. Murray laid his ball six feet from the hole and went down in perfect four, beating bogie, by two while Mr. Anderson took six, though hanging on the rim for 5 and Mr. Oke 5. This concluded the first round, and Anderson was leading the Westmont pro. by two strokes and the Ottawa mau by seven as per the following scores.

Anderson.....4 5 5 3 4 4 3 6—38
Murray.....4 5 5 5 4 4 4 5 4—40
Oke.....4 5 5 5 4 6 5 4 5—45

In the second half Mr. Oke pulled himself together, and by dividing the tenth in four with Mr. Anderson winning the eleventh from him by one stroke, showed that he might still be in the running. The twelfth was beautifully played by all three and divided in 5. Indifferent putting cost Messrs. Murray and Anderson, 7 each for the thirteenth, while Mr. Oke took 6. The fourteenth was halved in four, while Mr. Murray negotiated the Recorder in 3 for his opponents' 4. The remaining holes were keenly contested, but Mr. Anderson proved himself a bit too strong for his doughty adversaries and won the match by a total score of 79, Mr. Murray taking 83 and Mr. Oke 86. The figures for the second half were as follows:—

Anderson.....4 5 5 7 4 4 4 3 5—41
Murray.....5 5 7 4 3 5 4 6—43
Oke.....4 5 6 4 4 5 4 5—41

His honor Mr. Recorder Weir acted as referee throughout the day, to the great satisfaction of the contestants. After the match tea was served in the club's beautiful quarters.

VANCOUVER LETTER.

The wedding of Mr. Malcolm B. MacLennan, one of the most popular men on the police force in Vancouver, and Miss Kate Burpee, Jose Avenue, took place at high noon on Wednesday, the 7th inst, in the Princess Street Methodist church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. Newton Powell in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Among those present to witness the ceremony were the Misses A. Maud and Ella B. Burpee, sisters of the bride, who came from Boston to be present on that occasion. The bride was attired in a white silk, draped by a flowing bridal veil. She wore a wreath of roses, and carried a shown bouquet of white roses. Miss Anna Maud Burpee, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid, and Miss Ella Brown, her niece, of Bellingham, Wash., was flower-girl. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Duncan MacLennan. The ushers were J. H. Burpee of Revelstoke, Mr. Olds of Adelaide, Australia, George Horrell of the Coquitlam Institute, Chilliwack, and John Brown of this city. Miss Stewart presided at the organ. After a wedding luncheon at the home of the bride's father, amidst showers of rice and good wishes, the bride and groom took the C. P. R. train (Imperial Limited) and speeded away to Harrison Hot Springs on their honeymoon. The presents were numerous, nice and costly. The groom's present to the bride was a large uncut Australian opal brooch; to the bride's maid a gold brooch representing a miner's outfit; to the maid of honor a moonstone ring, and to the flower-girl a sapphire ring. These presents were also received:—A cheque of $10 from the bride's father; F. W. Burpee $100; dessert spoons, Ella Burpee; one half dozen sterling silver tablespoons, Maud Burpee; linen table cloth, Mrs. G. W. Brown; one half dozen hand painted bread and butter plates, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burpee; one silver mounted glass cruet stand, Mrs. Gonsel; table linen, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fletcher; sofa pillow and doiley, Miss Minnie Burpee; one vase, bronze mounted and hand painted, Mrs. Worsley; silver pie plate receiver and fruit spoon, May Burpee; tray cloth and hair receiver, Miss Bristol; china bread plate, Miss Fowler; Engrossed marriage certificate nicely framed, the officiating clergyman and wife; two hand painted plaques, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson; cut glass celery and cheese dishes, Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan, brother and sister of groom; silver mounted glass sugar bowl and six silver spoons attached, Mr. Olds; oak rocking chair, Mr. J. Brown; dinner set, from the choir of which the bride has been organist for about four years; one dozen table napkins, Guy B. Fletcher; hand painted vase, Mrs. F. W. Burpee; satin pin cushion, Mrs. Godfrey; silver butter knife and sugar spoon, Miss Stuart; sofa pillow, Mrs. Huff; beaded chain, Mrs. Proctor; silver pie knife, Miss Simmons; 2 vases, Emily Brown; rose jar, Ella Brown; cheese dish, Mr. and Mrs. Rumble; marble mantle clock, police force; tatted doiley, Miss Young; cut glass knife and fork rest, Dr. and Mrs. Kerwin; crocheted shawl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burpee; taborette, Mr. Horrell; cheque $25, J. H. Burpee; china Bon-Bon tray, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie; cheque $10, Mr. Bristol. When they return to Vancouver they will reside at 638 Jose Avenue.

JOTTINGS.

John T. G. Carr, the well known Hartland merchant, was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Belyea arrived in town on Tuesday. They are guests at the Carlisle.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Schooley, Centreville, were guests at the Carlisle during exhibition.

Jim McGrath of Springfield, York Co., was the guest of M. Ryan a few days this week.

Dr. St. John of Hackensack, N. J., spent Sunday in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Connell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown have returned from a pleasant visit to St. John, Moncton and Chatham.

Mrs. J. Walsh and little son, Frank, were the guests of Mrs. Margaret McClement for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Allen, who were the guests of Mrs. Harry Dysart, have returned to their home in Auburn.

Misses Watts, Porter and Stevenson, who have been visiting in St. John for some time, returned on Monday.

Chas. F. Clare, the popular Campbellton jeweller, is visiting his parents. His host of friends cordially welcome him.

Mrs. R. E. Holyoke, Mrs. H. D. Stevens, Mrs. G. A. Keith and Miss Nellie Dent have been attending the W. M. S. conference in St. John.

Lost. An ordinary account book. Black cover, contains entries of household expenditure. Finder please leave at this office.

The Centreville Exhibition will be held on October fifth. One of the leading features causing most interest is the hauling contest, in which several entries have already been received.

The Hartland Advertiser has made its appearance once more, under new ownership. Those who formerly looked forward to its weekly visit will gladly welcome it again. G. McLaughlan is editor and proprietor.

What is probably one of the largest potatoes ever grown in the county was brought to this office by Benjamin Burt, Esq. The tuber is 7 1/2 inches, and weighs nearly three pounds. The variety is Green Mountain.

Considerable interest was felt in the appearance of the new Citizens' Band during the exhibition. The boys under Prof. Dixon's able direction gave good satisfaction. It is hoped that they may frequently be heard in the future.

The store in the Vanwart brick block, formerly occupied by H. E. Burt, has been taken for a term of years by a Moncton firm, who will open a branch here. Dry goods, gent's furnishings, boots and shoes, will, it is said, be carried in stock. M. E. Gross has been in town several days getting things in readiness.

Perley McKenzie of Carlisle may well lay claim to the honor of securing what is probably the finest moosehead ever seen in the province. One day recently he went hunting big game, and before he had been gone over two hours he brought down a magnificent moose, the spread of whose antlers was just sixty seven inches.

Lovers of song will receive a rare treat on Monday evening. Jessie McLachlan, who is well known here, will appear in Graham's Opera, supported by other artists, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church. In all probability this will be her farewell tour of America, and in order that all may hear her, the prices are very moderate. Secure your seats early. The plan may be seen at Graham's Grocery.

On the 21st of September there was a very pretty wedding at the residence of Mrs. John Kirk, Bedell Settlement, when her daughter, Miss Lydia A. Kirk, was united in marriage to Mr. George W. Jackson of Kirkland. Miss Flemming played the wedding march, and the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. J. Fowler of Kirkland. Upwards of forty guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The bride was the recipient of many costly, beautiful and useful presents.

W. H. Stewart of Phillipsburg, Montana, a former Carleton County man, who has been in the west for fourteen years, returned last week, and may locate in this vicinity. He has been in the mining business. Mr. Stewart says there are many New Brunswickers in Montana who are doing well. Several from Carleton County are making their mark. He talks very interestingly of conditions in the west. Times are good. The state is quite sure to favor Roosevelt in the fall election.

Lower Southampton.

Ezra Cronkhite visited the exhibition at Woodstock this week.

The water is increasing in the river very fast, and we hope to see the Steamer Aberdeen running soon.

The hay and grain crop of this place is very short. Potatoes are an average crop.

Mrs. Ezra Cronkhite has gone to Waltham, Mass., to visit her sister.

Meductic.

A week ago last Sunday some boys broke into the store of G. P. Olts and carried off a quantity of candy and cigarettes. Steps are being taken for their prosecution.

P. S. Marsten, Geo. MacDonald and E. Port spent last week moose hunting on the Miramichi. They returned minus the moose. Two days after their return, while Mr. Port was mowing grain, a large bull moose came out into the field and stood there until Mr. Port got his rifle and shot it. Such is luck!

The temperance service held by Rev. C. N. Barton on Sunday evening was largely attended.

Tart Dickinson has a crew hauling the logs out of Eel River.

John Nye, who has been very ill with pleurisy, is recovering. Thanks to the skilful treatment of Dr. Turner.

Meductic was well represented at the St. John exhibition last week.

Miss Nellie MacMullen of Biddeford is visiting Mrs. J. O. Porter.

J. E. Scott, who has been in California for the past eighteen months, returned last Wednesday.

Forest City.

A. F. Fawcett, Woodstock, employs 35 men 5 months. The wages amount to some $10,000. This business with a number of other lumber operations amount to some $50,000. Mr. Fawcett's business is done in the vicinity of Forest City.

Mr. Markey of this place is what we may call a self made man. When a boy he had not the privilege of going to school, but had pluck and courage and got his own education. He is a good reader and writer, splendid in figures, keeps his own books, and is doing a large amount of business. He has lately been repairing his house by the addition of a new veranda and coat of paint.

Forest City is situated between two lakes, Grand and Stednick Lakes, which empty into the St. Croix River some 25 miles in length. It has two churches, two stores, one hotel, a good school house, post office and daily mail, which is a great convenience.

Forest City Hotel, Allen Markey proprietor, is an up-to-date house, has telephone connections, good stable and teams to meet all trains. Mr. Clark is doing a large lumbering and farming business.

Forest City is a good place to spend a few days or weeks vacation. Plenty of game from partridge to moose, and the lakes abound with good fish from trout to salmon.

A large number of anarchists have been expelled from Switzerland.

Matrimony is the destroyer of many pleasant engagements.

SMOKERS' GOODS.

We have an assortment of Smokers' Goods which cannot be matched in this locality.

Our line of Cigars and Smoking Tobaccoes include all the popular brands and a variety of others just as good though less known.

The critical smoker can find here just what he wants, no matter how critical he may be.

Fine Line of Pipes

When a pipe is wanted this is without question the place to get it. We have all grades of

Wood, Briar, Cob and Meerschaum,

Ranging in price from 5 cents to $8.00. You may know there is choice picking in an assortment of that character.
