SPORTING NEWS.

The ball season across the line is in full swing. The National League is furnishing several surprises. Pittsburgh, last year's champions, are getting their bumps in great shape and are now near the bottom of the heap. The New York giants are leading by a big margin, and with such great pitchers as Matthewson, McGinnity, Ames, Milligan and Taylor, will prove a stumbling block for the sluggers on opposing teams. Brooklyn, considered weak on paper, is in second place and will make a good fight for premier honors. Cincinnati and St. Louis will be heard from before the season closes. The American League contest will be between Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland and New York. The Bean Eaters, world's champions, will probably once more land the pennant.

"Buttons" Briggs, the star twirler of last year's Toronto bunch, is now with Chicago. In a game this week he held the Pittsburghs to five hits, winning his game by a big margin.

Montreal has a team in the Eastern League. It is managed by musical Charlie Atherton, and owned by Magnate Kreitner of Buffalo. It will not land any pennant, but may make things lively for the others.

Sarah M Pickard vs. Avarl Kearney and Burdis Kearney, an action for trespass. Verdict for plaintiff. F B Carvell for plaintiff; J C Hartley for defendants.

Rachael Demerchant vs. Wesley Taylor, an action for negligence in setting fires. Verdict for plaintiff. J C Hartley for plaintiff; W P Jones for defendant.

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. ISAAC PERKINS.

The funeral of the late Mrs Isaac Perkins took place on Sunday last, from her residence, services in charge of Rev J D Wetmore. The deceased leaves a brother and sister, six sons and three daughters. She had been for many years a member of Centerville Baptist church, and was in her 74th year.

MISS LEAH TABOR.

Leah Tabor, daughter of Ammon Tabor died at the residence of her parents, on Tuesday. The deceased was in her 21st year. For about a year she had been in poor health, and a short time ago had consumption set in, which caused her death. Interment was made yesterday afternoon, services conducted by Rev Z L Fash, M. A.

MRS. HUGH S. WRIGHT.

The many Woodstock friends of Mrs H S Wright of St John were deeply shocked to hear of her death which occurred at her home early on Tuesday morning. For a number of years previous to 1900 she was a resident of this town and was very highly respected. A husband, three sons and two daughters survive. The funeral services took place on Thursday afternoon.

MRS. CHARLES CLARK.

On Saturday, 24th ult at Masardis, Me, Mrs Charles Clark, aged 27 years and 7 months. Deceased formerly resided at Speerville, Carleton Co. Typhoid fever was the cause of her death. Three children, one an infant, survive. She was buried on Wednesday at Speerville. Funeral services conducted by Rev W J Fowler. Alex Kerr is a brother. Three other brothers live in the west.

NOT VERY SATISFACTORY.

Farm laborers are scarce this year and wages consequently high. A number of hands from Denmark and Austria have been imported and scattered over the country. The Danes are fond of work and make good agriculturalists, but the gentry from Franz Joseph's realm are not proving a howling success. They are mostly Poles and are not at all acquainted with the methods of farming practised in this province.

THE GREAT LAND BATTLE.

General Kuropatkin seems to have his work cut out for him. The Japanese victory on the banks of the Yalu goes a long way towards proving the superiority of the Japs. Commenting upon the situation, the Toronto Globe has the following article:—

The Japanese victory at the crossing of the Yalu River is in many ways significant enough to be regarded as marking an epoch in the progress of the war. While it is impossible to know precisely what happened or how it happened, there can be no doubt as to the main facts of the case. The Japanese are now in Manchuria after having driven back from their entrenched positions a somewhat numerous body of Russian troops. Moreover, this success has been fairly won as the result of a plan of operations intelligently devised, carefully arranged, and skillfully executed. If the Russian Commander-in-Chief is really the profound strategist he is by his own compatriots alleged and believed to be, either he fatuously underrated the enemy or he is handicapped not merely by inferior armament, but by scarcity of men and supplies. It is inconceivable that he should otherwise have allowed himself to be so easily dislodged from a position which it was so very important to hold.

The battle of the Yalu has demonstrated that the Russian artillery is far outclassed by the Japanese artillery, and furnished ground for the conviction that the Russian soldiery are no match for the Japanese troops. The latter appear to excel in power of endurance no less than in intelligent resourcefulness. Their diminutive stature is not under modern conditions a handicap. The small soldier has less to carry on the march and can hide in a smaller trench when the march is over. True, the Japanese had the aid of gunboats, but this advantage they had secured by their ingenious, courageous, and successful effort to shut the Russian fleets in the harbors of Port Arthur and Vladivostok.

Sunday School Anniversary.

The 21st anniversary of the East Florenceville Baptist Sunday School was celebrated on Sunday, 1st inst. Col A D Hartley, who has been superintendent during all these years, gave an interesting address. Pastor Smith on behalf of the school, presented the Colonel with an address, accompanied by a gold watch and chain. The recipient was taken completely by surprise, and was so overcome by the kindness of the donors that he could scarcely express his deep sense of gratitude.

SHE WAS ACQUITTED.

Louisville, Ky., April 29.—"The female apostle of sunshine," otherwise "Mrs Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," who in private life answers to the name of Mrs Mary Bass, was to-day dismissed by Judge McCann in the Police Court, where she made her appearance to answer the charge of throwing the contents of a slop jar on Mrs Emily Smith, also of Louisville.

Mrs Smith claimed that her dress was ruined, her pride shattered and that her philanthropic impulses had received a shock.

In dismissing Mrs Bass the court said in brief:—"This prosecuting witness came to Mrs Wigg's house without an invitation. The defendant has been brought into great notoriety as the result of a literary production, and as a result has been terribly annoyed. Her home has been invaded and the peace and quiet of life continually disturbed. I think that she has had great provocation, and I think I ought to dismiss her of the charge on general principles."

Mrs Bass' testimony was given in her characteristic manner. She said:—"For many months, years, I've been continually interrupted. Hobo after hobo comes to my house. I order 'em down and away from my place whenever I see 'em. They come by droves, walk around the yard and open the doors. When they rouse me I come to the door to see what they want; I look upon not a single face I know. There they stand and look at each other in a foolish way. After a while one will say:—

"Well, we read the book."

"Well, I will say, 'Then if that's all, you can git,' and I make them git."

As she left the court room Mrs Bass said:—"Now maybe I'll be able to spend my old age in peace and maybe my trees'll grow out where all then memorials (souvenire) has been pulled off, and maybe my yard won't be full of strange people every Sunday, and I can move downstairs, where I used to live."
