BRING BACK FISH.

Half the angler's battle depends on good equipment. We have everything you want—perhaps some things you want and don't know it—better come and see.

When you go fishing you might as well go loaded for 'em by taking along the improved tackle that other enthusiastic anglers have evolved out of their experience.

Our line of tackle is complete and up to date, and getting it at our prices will help the fun.

REPLY TO VERITAS.

A writer in the Press, calling himself "Veritas," has an article intended for a slap at the Carnival. Not content with his own protest, he invites others to rush into print. Although he does not say so in so many words yet it is clear enough that the gentleman is squarely opposed to the manner in which Carnivals are conducted in this town. The fact that private parties have the management of the racing during the celebration seems to bother the worthy writer. Does he not know it is impossible for the Carnival committee, no matter how favorable they might be towards the idea, to control the track? The driving park is under lease to private parties. The only solution under the circumstances is for the Carnival organization to work in harmony with the lessees of the track, who have gone to considerable trouble in order to give patrons of the race course the greatest two days sport ever seen in these parts. As for the statement that too much music was provided at the track rather than on the street during the afternoons of last year's carnival, the critic is nearer the mark. That was a mistake which may be corrected on future occasions. The reference to Dominion Day celebrations at Bristol rather than in town is a gratuitous slap without any excuse. The fault is purely that of the townspeople who did not patronize racing sufficiently well to warrant Dominion Day sport. Bristol offered greater attractions, and of course received the preference. Rather than employ his talent in throwing cold water on the project, Veritas would do himself more credit by falling into line with nine tenths of the people and work heartily for the success of the celebration.

BASE BALL.

Through the courtesy of Richard K. Fox we have received a copy of the Science of Base Ball written by the great captain of the New York Giants, John J. McGraw, better known as "Mugsy." The book has a handsome cover and contains pictures of Mathewson, McGinnity, Brennan and other stars of the diamond. Any person who wishes a copy should send fourteen cents in stamps to the publisher, whose address is New York city. The rules for 1904 and much valuable advice to players will be found in the book.

Sentenced to Reformatory.

Before Judge Carleton on Wednesday morning, Ernest Stephenson, a twelve year old boy residing at Hartland, elected to be tried under the Speedy Trials Act, and pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing $2.50 from the residence of Geo. R. Burt. His Honor, taking into consideration the extreme youth of the prisoner, gave him some good advice and sentenced him to three years in the Boys' Industrial Home at St. John. W. M. Connell appeared for the crown.

VICTORIA DAY.

Victoria Day was quite generally commemorated by the citizens. The merchants as a whole closed their places of business in the afternoon, and numbers of them did not transact any business during the day. The range was a scene of activity both morning and afternoon when the rifle club members had their first field day of the season. Other citizens drove to Houlton, some went fishing and many enjoyed the usual holiday private picnics. The use of the park was kindly given by Gallagher Bros., the lessees, to the directors of the Carleton County Hospital, and the sports there in the afternoon were quite largely attended.

THE RACES.

In the trotting races, no prizes were given and as the horses were not fitted for racing so early in the season, only half mile heats were trotted. The officials were: W. B. Belyea starter, George H. Saunders, Judson Briggs, judges; B. B. Manzer, H. E. Gallagher, timers; Warren Lindow, clerk. In the race for green horses, the competition was close but Annie Laurie had too much speed for the others and won in straight heats. Lou Gans, the speedy three year old owned by Coles Dugan and J. H. Thompson, won his race quite easily. In the 2.20 class three of our speediest horses battled for supremacy. Dugan's Joe Hal won the first heat, the second falling to Tribe's Gertie Glen. In this heat Mr. Dugan claimed his horse had been crowded out of position at the post by Shamrock, who was avoiding a muddy spot on the track, and as the judges decided that Gertie Glen should not lose the heat through the actions of Shamrock, Mr. Dugan withdrew his horse. In the third heat it was a neck and neck contest between Gertie and Shamrock, but the former won. No more heats were called, and the race was given to Gertie. The following is a summary:—

GREEN HORSES.

Annie Laurie.....	1 1
Lou Dufferin.....	2 3
Kittie Lou.....	4 3
Lady Edwards.....	3 4
Time—1.26, 1.14, 1.24.
2.20 CLASS.
Gertie Glen.....	2 1
Joe Hal.....	1 2
Shamrock.....	3 3
Time—1.13, 1.14, 1.13.

THREE YEAR OLDS.

Lou Gans.....	1 1
Don.....	2 3
Berry Almsler.....	3 3
Time—1.40, 1.38.

BASE BALL.

The base ball match between the Colts and the Mysteries, in the park, commenced at 2.30, with the following line-up:—

Mysteries.	Catcher.	Colts.
H McKinley.....	L Milmore
S Pickel.....	R McLaughlin
A Dickinson.....	F McRae
W Dalling.....	W Courtney
P Pickel.....	C McLean
C Donnelly.....	Short Stop.
C McKinney.....	F McLean
A Glidden.....	G McLaughlin
Fred Buck.....	G Connell
	Centre Field.

When Umpire Frank Sullivan called "play ball," Mayor Lindsay promptly stepped in the box and delivered a speedy in-shoot over the plate with such accuracy that the umpire called "one strike," and the first game of the season commenced. The base ball cranks were out in large numbers, and as it was impossible to watch the trot and the ball match at the same time, the latter took precedence with the aforesaid cranks. The game was a most interesting one, and the picked team truly proved mysterious to the crack Colts—a mystery that the latter could not solve. For two innings each side drew blanks; in the third, Fred McLean scored for the Colts, and the men of mystery got a blank; the fourth brought a cypher for each; the fifth netted no scores for the Colts, but the Mysteries began to bat heavily and did not stop until three scores were made, adding another one to the number in the seventh innings. Fred McLean and Gord Connell, for the Colts, contributed two runs in the eighth innings, and as no scores were afterwards made, the Mysteries won by a score of 4 to 3. It was a pitcher's game throughout with little work for the outfield of either team. McKinley played his usual good game; Pickel proved a puzzle to the heavy hitting Colts and his work was of the stellar order; the remainder of the team did good work, that of Dalling and Dickinson being of a high order. For the Colts, Milmore as back stop played his position excellently and no better work will be asked of him this season; Roy McLaughlin pitched an extra good game, and before the season is far advanced will make good the claim of his friends that he is a star twirler.

Following is the score by innings:—

Colts.....	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 3
Mysteries.....	0 0 0 0 3 0 1 0 2 4

Scorer—Roy Dickinson.

Empire Day in the Schools.

The celebration of Empire Day in the schools is gradually becoming a matter of considerable interest. It will be remembered that last year the proceedings were held at Broadway. This year the event was duly celebrated at the college, all the town pupils being present. Promptly at half past two o'clock the four or five hundred boys and girls took their places on the playground around a large platform, on which were seated Chairman H. P. Baird, Inspector Meagher, Trustee Balmain, Principal Harrison and Mr. Logie. Many parents and others interested in school work were in the audience. Without any wearisome preliminaries, Principal Harrison introduced the popular chairman of the school board as the first speaker. Mr. Baird's rising was the signal for a tumult of applause from the children, showing at once he was to face a sympathetic audience. The speaker was in excellent form and in the course of a twenty minute speech covered the ground in good shape. He spoke of the essentials to the growth of a strong and robust spirit of manhood and womanhood in the youth of the Dominion. The great deeds and heroic impulses that characterize the British people throughout the world arise from careful training. If Canada is to become a great nation her people must be honest, economical and intelligent. The address was an able effort and at the conclusion hearty and long continued applause was given.

The old but ever popular "Rule Britannia" was then sung, led by Mr. Logie, after which little Miss Simons gave a pleasing recitation. Inspector Meagher and Trustee George Balmain were called upon and responded briefly. The National Anthem and the customary cheers brought the gathering to a close. Photographer Neilson, armed with his camera, was present, and took several fine group snap shots.

They'll Remember Him.

Opposition critics make much of the fact that the minister of Railways is not given to the making of long winded orations in the house. The windmills to the left of the speaker keep up an incessant grind. No person is any wiser on account of their loud speechmaking. Far better for them it would be were they to follow the moderation of many on the government benches. It is well known that when a man shows signs of ability a dead set is made upon him by the entire opposition party. It is within the recollection of our readers what a torrent of abuse was heaped upon Hon. Clifford Sifton. Then again Sir William Mulock has been simply bombarded night and day with abuse. For what purpose? Simply because the two ministers showed marked ability. In the eyes of the opposition they were dangerous to the tory party, and must be destroyed. It is just that fact which calls down upon Mr. Emmerson the wrath of opposition critics. Opposition hotheads and punsters from the West sometimes put on a lofty air and inquire "Who is Emmerson?" For their information it might be said that the gentleman in question was once premier of New Brunswick, and in his last local fight gave the provincial conservative party the most pronounced drubbing it has ever experienced. Incidentally it may be well to remind them of the fact that his leave taking of local politics was to carry the war into the federal arena. How well he succeeded is shown by the manner in which he redeemed the tory stronghold of Westmorland. Upper province Tories may not know the man, but the New Brunswick variety know him much to their sorrow. We shall be surprised if the western gentry have not cause before many years to fear the stalwart minister from our province.

Port Arthur presents one peculiarity. It can be blockaded from the land side by a small force. One use of fortresses is that they usually can be relied upon to keep immobile forces of the enemy considerably superior to their garrison. Ten or twelve thousand Japanese established on the Talienwan isthmus can hold fast twenty or thirty thousand Russians in the fortress.

Greenville and Vicinity.

BY CALVIN GREEN.

Columbus Grant has four bay horses very much alike in color and size; they are handsome, well put up, kind and with good dispositions; their weight is 1100 lbs each; one pair is three year old. The same gentleman has two apple trees planted by his father, which have borne fruit for 75 years and continue doing so.

John Grant saw in his field, recently, 13 deer, which is quite a large number. Frank Turney also saw four deer a few days ago.

Emerson Dickinson, sick for some time, is gaining slowly.

Mrs Joseph Ivy, of the Blow Down settlement, is very sick with slim chances for recovery.

Harry Saunders, engineer on the C P R, lost his grandmother by death at the home of her daughter, Mrs Kezier, at the age of ninety years.

The church at the corner and Union has given Rev Mr Atkinson a call to labor with them.

Bull's creek is situated four miles below Woodstock. Leonard Slipp came to this country some 52 years ago and purchased 1100 acres of land in one block. He has been very successful in farming for he knows how to farm, and his stock shows that he does; it consists of 18 cows, 22 head of young stock and four good horses. They cut 150 tons of hay, 1000 bushels of oats and from 75 to 100 bushels of wheat. The day I was there was his birthday, the 12th day of May, and he was 82 years old, and is able to work every day. He has a pair of three year old colts breaking to harness. Mr Slipp experienced religion and a change of heart at the age of 10 years, at 20 years he commenced to preach the gospel in different places, and now he has been preaching about 62 years.

Rockland.

Weather very fine, and farming progressing; men coming in from the various drives on tributary streams—the average of time for driving has been less than ordinary years, being an abundance of water, wages very good.

Charles Swim and son-in-law Grier have returned from putting in their drive on the Miramichi at as reasonable expense as they anticipated—good lumbermen.

Carleton County North L O L holds its next session on the 14th June with the lodge at Windsor. Scarlet chapter in the evening.

Samuel W Nevins, a native and life time resident of Rockland, died on Thursday p. m., 19th inst., after a long and tedious illness, leaving a widow and two sons, the eldest owning the homestead, unmarried, and Fred who married the daughter of Perry Dickinson; two daughters, Mrs Boyer, Florenceville, and Mrs Will Drake, Bannan. Mr Nevins was a friendly neighbor, generally respected, a prominent conservative in politics, a member of the Baptist church, had nearly reached his 58th year; his widow is a sister of Gideon Phillips who moved away from here a year ago to establish a home in Vancouver, B. C.

The writer had the pleasure of attending the S. S. convention at Hartland on Monday and Tuesday of last week. The meetings were rendered exceedingly interesting by excellent addresses and splendid music, vocal and instrumental; business transacted without tediousness and very harmoniously; schools in almost all the parishes reported and many sent delegates. I regret to know that the two schools in this village were not in any way represented while in adjacent places a good showing was made; the F C B house was packed every meeting. Miss Calder of your town, secretary and treasurer, deserves great praise for her painstaking efficiency; being elected for another year, it was a deserving act to pass the resolution that she receive $20 as an apology for remuneration for coming year.

J T G Carr, Esq., has been confined to his house for some days and during the time of convention, and as he was president of same last year it was a disappointment to many as well as himself that he was unable to attend any of the meetings. Rev W J Fowler presided and was elected Mr Carr's successor.

Rev J D Wetmore performed the funeral services of the late S M Nevins on Sunday a. m., having returned from a two weeks vacation to P E I on Friday last.

Rockland Com. Agency has increased its stock in some lines with goods entirely new in design. Try the confectionery, oranges, bananas and maple sugar; all kinds of canned goods, garden and flower seeds. Baptist sewing circle still holds its fortnightly sessions.

Upper Woodstock.

May 24th, 1904.

We have no church here and the visits of ministers of any denomination on Sunday afternoon are few and far between. It would seem that every one would appreciate the attempts that are made towards religious services, but that such is not the case is plainly visible by the past behaviour of some of the young people at the weekly prayer meetings in the Union Hall. While it is true the Hall is used for many purposes, yet, nevertheless, on a day or night set aside for a religious gathering it is just as much the house of God as a church of the handsomest design. Perhaps if the parents of the boys and girls knew where and what they were at half of the time, it would make some difference, as it is now we believe they do not. Those interested in the meetings have had great patience with the young people, who have been used well indeed for their unkindness; and we are sorry that girls and boys in their teens have not yet learned to act as ladies and gentlemen should.

Miss Myrtle Estey of Jacksonville, has been visiting Mrs Frand Burpee of late.

On Tuesday of last week, Donnie, the young son of Mr and Mrs A F Plummer had the misfortune to fall fracturing his arm. The limb was set and he is at present doing nicely.

Albert Brewer has had a cistern placed in his house. Mr Brewer is making a good many improvements and has a very attractive place.

The culvert on the Main Road, between Murphys' and Sharp's needs repairs badly. We have had the reputation of having good roads, and, although that was some years ago, the dead can be resurrected simply by the application of brains, muscle and gravel.

We have heard quite a few comments on our piece that appeared last week in reference to the Turning Co. We are pleased that the truth hits, and though we are very insignificant citizens we will guarantee that the Company has an engineer in charge this year who knows an inspirator from a glass-gauge.

If you want to know what's going on in your town, take the SENTINEL. William A Young, a former resident of this place, but now of Springfield, Mass., is visiting friends here. George Chapman of the C. P. R., spent Sunday at home.

Kirkland.

Owing to the heavy rains the farmers have been somewhat delayed getting in their seed this spring. A little heat now will cause very rapid growth.

Mrs Edgar, after a lengthened visit with her daughter, has returned home.

La grippe seems to be very prevalent among both young and old.

Thomas Slater, jr, who has been ill for some time, intends going to the hospital for treatment.

The Mission Band Thankoffering service held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church, was well attended. The recitations and singing by the children were very good. Mrs Fowler, president of the band, sang a solo, and the pastor gave an address on mission work.

Four Falls.

Some thirty-three pupils answered to the roll call Empire Day in School District No 10, parish of Grand Falls. The register shows forty nine names since the sixth of April—a fine, hardy, intelligent school.

The vastness of the British Empire, its immense population, resources, and far extended battle line, protection and impartial justice to all, irrespective of class, creed or nationality, were noted on this day. Neither mighty Rome nor Charlemagne ever had such a Dominion, on which the sun never sets—a great heritage. God save the King.

The spring has been very favorable for cropping and as a result the farmers are more industrious than ever. There is also a good prospect for all the lumber to be gotten out of the streams.

Our sympathies are all with the Japs in this vicinity, and believe the Gods will lead them to victory yet.

John Cox, who has been miller here for a number of years, died Monday. Mr Cox was a member of the L O L, and used to attend the gathering at Woodstock.

The necessity of a suitable burying ground at Four Falls is apparent to all the inhabitants, as the burial of the dead at Andover is attended with a great deal of inconvenience and unnecessary expense. It is hard to understand how this thing has been neglected all these years. We think a place could be selected near the church here, and believe our energetic minister, Mr Bedell, could accomplish this without any difficulty.
