THE WIGHTMAN FAMILY.

The Wightman family is one of the best known in America. It has several representatives in this country. From the Standard of Montreal we clip the following article:—

"Sabine's History of the Loyalists of the American Revolution," Vol. II., page 428, has the following: "There seems to have been three, and probably four, of this name in the service. . . . The Colonel of the Loyal New Englanders was one of them; that officer's name was sometimes spelled Whiteman. There was a William Wightman, who was a lieutenant in the King's American Regiment, and who was wounded in the Battle of Hobkirk's Hill, 1781; and a Lieut. John Wightman, of another Loyalist corps, who died in Carleton, New Brunswick, in 1819, aged 71; and a Captain Wightman, who was a grantee of St. John in 1783."

As Sabine was a foreigner, and consequently not personally acquainted with the family, it is easy to understand how his account might be a little faulty and a little incomplete. The Captain Wightman and the Lieut. John Wightman mentioned by Sabine is one and the same person, who, with William, were sons of Colonel John Wightman, of the Loyal New Englanders. The Colonel at the close of the war went to England, where he died. His son, Lieut. John settled in Carleton, N. B., and was a grantee of the city. He also received large grants of land in Cornwallis, N. S., and in King's County, N. B.

Guy B. Manzer, of Woodstock, N. B., is a direct descendant of Lieut. John Wightman, his mother, Theresa, being a daughter of the late Bayard Belyea, whose mother, Ann Amy Wightman, was a daughter of Lieut. John Wightman.

Family records and relics, covering a period of over four centuries, tell a story in which truth and righteousness have repeatedly been sought rather than wealth or fame. Fidelity to King and conscience has more than once been the cause of a self-imposed exile on the part of members of the Wightman family.

In the marriage union of Victoria Matilda Wightman to Guy Bernard Manzer there were certain peculiarities which marked an epoch in the cycle of time and gave it a marked interest to them and their respective families.

Victoria Matilda Wightman is a descendant of the brother who remained in Rhode Island during the troublesome times of 1776-83, and who espoused the cause of the colonists against King George III. The marriage, therefore, reunited the two branches of the family that were separated 130 years by clash of war. The Wightman arms were granted to Wm. Wightman, Esq., of Harrow-on-the-Hill, Middlesex, Eng., on July 14th, 1562.

KNIGHT HERALD.

A SEAT IN THE SENATE.

It pays to be a senator. An article in the Toronto News gives the names of the members and the sittings at which each was present, with the indemnity drawn by each. The upper chamber had 65 sittings.

Here is a list of familiar Honourables, compiled from the News article.

On the whole the maritime province senators attend far more regularly than their Ontario and Quebec confreres.

A NEGRO M. P. P.

In Kinston, Saskatchewan, it is generally believed that Dr. Shald, the Provincial Rights candidate has been elected. He is a colored man, probably the first one to become an M.P.P. in Canada. In the U.S., particularly in the South, negroes sometimes become members of state legislatures, or even congressmen.

The glad Christmas time; the time for generous deeds, for the exercise of the better humanities. How the iron nature glows and bends in the white heat of the divine thought of a living Christ. Strip the idea of all supernaturalism and make him simply and naturally the son of Joseph and Mary. Call the story if you will a romance a myth of the past and yet the Christ idea remains and ever will remain to call forth the best and sweetest in human nature. It is then we recognize to a degree the brotherhood of man and that we are all children of a common father who never wavers in his love for us or in bestowing of his bounties. The beautiful angel of charity all mantled with the smile God walks forth in these glad Christmas days into the byways of life carrying joy and comfort to the hearts and homes of the poor. Every poor unfortunate within the prison bars opens the wicket of his cell to bid the divine guest to enter in. We glory in the spirit of "Peace on earth good will to men" which celebration of the birth of the Christ child ever brings to the race.

Give to woman the ballot and how long do you suppose the hydra head monster the liquor traffic would receive its quietus? There are none who feel the terrible curse so keenly as the wives and mothers of the land. Living Christians should stand solid in favor of temperance reform and thereby set a worthy example to political Christians.

It costs nothing to be civil one can say "no" in a gentle and pleasing way as to make a lasting friend of the one whose request is thus deemed. While on the other hand a favor grudgingly rendered will receive no esteem from the recipient for the one bestow it.

Some men who are genial and affable in public are the worst of tyrants in their own families. They seem to save all their meanness for their own homes. They always have a kind word and a pleasant smile for their neighbor's wife, while for their own they have only sullen looks and unkind speech. Such men need a baptism of the Holy Ghost and they need a hot one.

Over in Prince Edward Island the temperance people want to repeal the Scott Act. In that province there is a prohibitory law which comes into effect as soon as any municipality repeals the Scott Act. The city of Charlottetown has been under prohibition for some time. Now the temperance folk are going to drive out the Scott Act from the counties. It will be funny to see the liquor men voting and working for the Scott Act. The P E I prohibition law is very much more severe than the Scott Act.

Miss Tibbits rolled a string with big pins for a score of 125. The former high mark here was 105, made by Mrs. H. E. West. The St John record is said to be 115. —Oleander.

After the holidays the local lady enthusiasts intend to go in hot for bowling. Manager Sullivan is arranging special days for the fair sex.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

The SENTINEL heartily thanks the business men of the town for their large holiday advertising patronage. This year we made no effort whatever to sell extra space. Any man who wanted a holiday ad come to the office or telephoned for it. The SENTINEL regrets that a few had to be turned away on account of being too late in applying for space. It is certainly gratifying to find that "SENTINEL" space sells itself.

Undoubtedly the sentiment in favor of reciprocity is growing in the United States; but the reciprocity the majority of the agitators want is a kind that will make it easier for American manufacturers to capture our market without running any risk of having their home market invaded by Canadians. For instance the manufacturers of Illinois are demanding reciprocity so that they may no longer be compelled to establish branch factories on the Canadian side to escape the Canadian tariff. They seem to forget that reciprocity implies two parties. But that's the Yankee of it.
