THE EVELEIGH CHARGES.

Our readers may recollect that during the last session of the legislature Mr Benjamin Franklin Smith made a fierce attack on the agricultural policy of the local government, particularly in connection with the manner in which the dairy superintendents were discharging their duties. In this connection Mr Smith read a communication which he had received from N. W. Eveleigh, a gentleman who resides at Sussex. In this letter, obtained by Mr Smith as the result of a fishing expedition, there were certain charges of neglect of duty, intemperance and other offences against Messrs Tilley, Mitchell and Daigle. At once letters and telegrams poured in to the department from trustworthy individuals entirely contradicting Eveleigh. The dairy superintendents are not the stamp of men who meekly submit to indignity. They urged an investigation. Premier Tweedie was accordingly commissioned to go to Sussex to ventilate the whole matter under oath. Before the investigation was finished things became so hot for Eveleigh that he actually wrote a pitiful apology entirely retracting his charges, expressing regret for making them, and resigning his position as manager of the Sussex factory. He furthermore claimed that he never expected Mr. Smith to make use of the letter sent by him to that gentleman. We imagine in future when Mr. Smith gets after the dairy superintendents or any other government officials, those who receive his requests for information will be very sure to write nothing they cannot substantiate. Mr. Eveleigh, who is a good tory, cannot have the most kindly feelings for the man who is directly responsible for the unenviable position in which Eveleigh at present finds himself owing to the collapse of his charges.

Admiral Togo is said to be a Christian, a member of the Methodist church, but the statement recently made by him "that we gained a success beyond our expectation is due to the brilliant virtue of the emperor and to the protection of the spirits of his imperial ancestors and not to the action of any human being" seems to go a little beyond even the limit of excessive loyalty and must be considered as smacking somewhat of paganism.

Joe Howe's Great Work at Halifax.

In the intercollegiate meet at Halifax on Monday between athletes representing Acadia and U. N. B. the latter won, 45 to 44. The feature of the day was the great work by Joe Howe, a Kings Co boy who is well and favorably known here. Mount Allison sent no representatives. They kept up a great amount of quibbling over the date and would be satisfied with nothing, probably because of lack of material to go up against the other colleges. Howe won the hundred yard dash in ten and four-fifths sec, the 220 in 24 sec, the quarter in fifty seven and two-fifths sec, and ran a dead heat with his team mate for first place in the mile in 5 min 3 sec. He also won the broad jump clearing 21 ft 8 in, and the high jump with 5 ft 3 1/2 inches. In the hurdles he was leading but very unluckily fell and had to be content with third place. Fred Squires was a competitor. He was second to Howe in the high jump, 220 yds dash and tied with Dick Malloy for first place in the hurdles.

Big Time at the Fort.

There will be a grand time at Fort Fairfield on July 4th. It is expected that six classes will be on the racing card. Prof Morrell, the hero of Grand Falls, will walk the tight rope after dark, carrying with him a lantern, also a man on his back. The rope will be eighty feet from the ground. The event promises to be the grandest celebration ever held in Aroostook County.

A Royal Visit.

The King of Spain is now on a tour of Europe. While in France he was nearly assassinated while riding in a carriage with President Loubet. An anarchist threw a bomb which fell close to the distinguished pair, but luckily did not injure either. The young King was escorted to Southampton by a huge British fleet, and met at the landing by the Prince of Wales. Before leaving Paris he donated $5000 to the poor. It is said that the young King is looking for a wife to share his throne.

All accounts seem to indicate that Oyama is preparing to give the Russians another run for their money.

The Town Fathers HOLD LENGTHY SESSION.

Will Send a Delegation to Ottawa,
And Pay the Teachers Under Certain Conditions.

The regular meeting of the town council held Monday night was remarkable for several things. In the first place it was a record breaker for length, not being through until midnight. The greater portion of the time was consumed in a somewhat useless discussion on the much talked about dispute between the School Trustees and the Council.

After the formal reading of the minutes of the preceding session, the report of the Town Treasurer was received. This document conveyed the cheering information that the Bank Debit Balance was still soaring in the realms of frozen finance. Up to date statistics placed the hiatus at $5670.53.

W T Blake and Howard McDonald made application for billiard, pool and bowling alley licenses, which communications were laid over for further consideration. The school trustees sent a letter to the council which was to the effect that unless satisfactory assurances were given that the money would be forthcoming to pay the salaries, the trustees would engage teachers for the remainder of the year only. Immediately after the reading of this document, Coun. Leighton rose and moved that the document be placed on file. He accused the trustees of discourtesy in giving their letter to the papers before it officially came before the council. "It certainly seems strange" said he "that men who cannot get elected to this board will after the exercise of sufficient pull to become a town trustee, come and dictate to the council." He claimed that the trustees were altogether exceeding their duties in sending such a request. The town council would vote the trustees all the money they had asked for. Last year the board got more than they asked for. He also accused the trustees of transferring the thousand dollars received out of this year's appropriation to the account for 1904 which was already overpaid by some hundreds of dollars. Coun. Henderson seconded the motion. Coun. Stevens thought there was altogether too much discord. The money claimed by the trustees was no doubt due them. It was an old balance extending over a dozen years, and would have to be paid sooner or later. He felt like giving the trustees a courteous intimation that they would have the account attended to. Coun. Leighton wanted to know where the money would come from. Coun. Stevens' idea was to pay the balance of the old deficit out of the amount received on the delinquent tax list. Coun. McManus agreed with Coun. Stevens. The town now had as good teachers as could be found anywhere. It would be a pity to cause further friction which might result disastrously to all concerned. He would favor paying the amount due. Coun. Henderson delivered an oration of some length in support of the six months hoist. He resented dictation from men no better than the council. He also considered the papers had done wrong in ventilating the trouble. Coun. Leighton spoke once more. He for one would not be tramped on by the trustees. In the early stages of the trouble a fair settlement was suggested by a committee of the council and submitted to the secretary to the trustees, who admitted it to be fair, but the chairman or somebody else on the school board drifted along from the street corner and upset the arrangement.

His Worship the Mayor agreed with Coun. Leighton's contention. He was in favor of paying the $5600 asked for by the board but thought the town council was not in such straits that it must give any guarantee. Coun. Henderson had another shot at the trustees. To him their course seemed utter nonsense. He would stand for no browbeating. After several explanations by Couns. Nicholson, Stevens, McManus and the town clerk, Coun. Leighton's motion was carried, as well as a further motion by the same gentleman to the effect that the town council is ready to honor the warrant of the trustees up to one thousand dollars just as soon as the trustees rectify the error in warrant now in the hands of the town treasurer. The clerk explained that if the facts were that the trustees obtained the previous thousand dollars by a warrant applying the amount to the appropriation for 1904 when the motion was that the sum be granted from the 1905 allowance, the funds must have been illegally obtained.

The Mayor asked the chairman of the finance committee for a reason why the assessment was not out. Assessor Fields who was present made a clear and satisfactory response. The work was very heavy this year, but was nearing completion.

Coun. Henderson asked that the town buy a piece of land from the Sunder property with sufficient frontage to provide a driveway from Green to Orange St. There was already a passage sufficient for pedestrians. The land could be obtained for a trifling sum. The matter stood over for future consideration. The mayor said it was important that a delegation be named to go to Ottawa to urge the building of the G. T. P. down the valley. Coun. McManus moved that the council send the Mayor and two other members of the board. This was carried. Coun. Leighton moved that Coun. Nicholson and Henderson be named. Nobody seconded the motion. The majority of the board wished the mayor to name his associates. His Worship promptly appointed Couns. Nicholson and McManus. After considerable further talk the board adjourned until this evening.

Just about a year ago W S Saunders of this town was appointed provincial agent for The London Life Insurance Co, with headquarters at Fredericton. In the work assigned him he has been so successful that the company recently offered him a very remunerative situation as organizer for the Northwest, with headquarters at Calgary. The offer was so tempting that Mr Saunders thought it advisable to accept. He has left Fredericton and is now on his way to the West. For the present his family will remain at the capital. Mr Kerr of Milltown is to succeed Mr Saunders as chief agent for New Brunswick.

Joseph E Howe, formerly principal of Hartland Superior School, graduated last week from Acadia College with the degree of B. A. Mr Howe besides being a very scholarly young man of splendid physique and noble Christian character is generally admitted to be the best allround athlete in the Maritime provinces.

Extract from a letter received from an old resident of this town now in Massachusetts:—"I was greatly pleased to see in a recent issue of your paper the statement in favor of making Woodstock a city. It seems to me the good old town should take on new life with the change. When you reach the dignity of a city the attraction to outside capitalists will be increased. There is no gainsaying the fact that very material advantages would ensue. I should like to hear of your town council making a move in this matter. They seem to be vigorous enough and should be able to bring the subject to a successful conclusion."

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the residence of E. F. Witherly, Arthurette, Tuesday evening at 6 p. m., May 30th, when his daughter, Gussie, was united in marriage to Bertram W. Graham of Woodstock, by the Rev. J. R. Hopkins. Only the immediate relatives were present. Miss Albina Campbell played the wedding march. The bride looked charming in a dress of white silk mull with shower bouquet. The happy young couple left for Plaster Rock the same evening where they will for the present board. Their many friends wish them all the happiness possible through life's journey. The NEWS also drops a bouquet.—NEWS.

DOCTOR SPONGE.

Water is nature's tonic. It is best applied with a sponge. Frequent baths cure hot weather debility; they help "that tired feeling" to get out of the pores. It pays to get extra good bath sponges when you can buy them right.

We have some genuine

"Sheeps-Wool" Sponges

that you will have a tedious time wearing out. They cost more than ordinary sponges and may not look any prettier, but the value is there.

Have bleached bath sponges at almost any price you care to pay. We insure your money's worth, no matter what sponge you pick.
