Don't Miss Kendall.

He Will be Here Tuesday Evening, at the Opera House.

Those who do not arrange to hear Kendall the entertainer when he will be at the opera house Tuesday evening the 14th will make a serious mistake, as Kendall has the reputation for providing an entertainment surpassed in interest by but few in the Eastern States. His wonderful laughing song "Der Oak and Der Vine" by Jacob Strauss is alone said to be worth the price of admission. In the Negro dialect, and all impersonations Mr. Kendall stands well to the front in the ranks of American entertainers, and few should be more gladly welcomed to Woodstock, as he is well able to create laughter, and make us forget our cares and responsibilities for at least a few hours. Secure your reserved seats on Saturday morning when the hall will be opened at Graham's store. Tickets 50 and 35 cents will be on sale Friday morning on the street.

Nelson Boyer.

Nelson Boyer, one of the oldest residents of East Florenceville, died on Tuesday after an illness of some weeks. He was seventy-nine years of age and was a son of the late Charles Boyer, one of the first settlers in the upper part of this county. He leaves a wife, and two sons, George H., of Bristol, and Oakman, Red Rapids, Victoria County, and one daughter, Mrs. Joel Hartley, of East Florenceville. Two brothers and three sisters also survive him. The funeral services will be held today under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Association, of which deceased has been an honored member for more than fifty years.

GOOD ADVICE.

Commodore Stewart of the Chatham World thinks that Editor Appleby of the Woodstock Dispatch should make haste to get married so that future generations of Applebys may be in position to take advantage of the educational institutions to be created by the munificence of the late L. P. Fisher. Good advice, but why does not the gay yet wifeless old Commodore set the example to our young friend of the Dispatch? (Fredericton Herald).

The Carleton County Hospital.

Several pairs of chickens were received through Mrs. Charles McKee from the following:—Mrs. Henry Dole, Mrs. Renben McKee, Mrs. William Gentle and cash from George Tracy, $1.00; William McKee, $1.00; Arthur McGeorge, $1.00; Clifford Everett, $1.00; Mr. Blackmore, .20; John McGrath, .25.

Death of Sam. Rogers.

An old land mark was removed from Northampton parish last Saturday night when Samuel Rogers passed peacefully away at the residence of his nephew, Mr. J. J. Rogers, at the ripe old age of 85 years.

Three generations ago Sam Rogers was one of the best known young men on the St. John river, engaging in lumbering and towboating. He was always to the front in the feats of strength and agility that are legendary tales to-day. He was a son of Andrew Rogers who came to this country from Ireland nearly a century ago. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. George Nix of Kilmarnock, and by two sons and a daughter in Minnesota. He was buried in the old Kirk burial ground at Greenbank on Monday, the Rev. Mr. Ross officiating.—Com.

Woollen Mill Again.

On Tuesday before the full bench at Fredericton Mr. J. C. Hartley on behalf of the town of Woodstock made application for a rule nisi to set aside an order by Judge Barker extending time for notice of appeal. The Woollen Mill people are appealing from the judgment of the Equity Court which was in favor of the contention made by the Town, viz, that the company is not exempt from taxation.

Joseph Magee called on the evening of the 3th ult to say that upon that day he sent away by rail twenty tons of dressed hogs.

A sumptuous repast and entertainment on last Friday evening by the Ladies' Missionary Society at the residence of John Barnett. Supper from 5.30 to 7 p. m. Adults, 15 cents; children, 10 cents. Fund handsomely replenished.

Mrs. William Everett of Burnt Land Brook, Tobique, after a visit of a few days here, left for Pasadena, Southern California, to spend the winter and probably the balance of her life with her son, S. A. Baker. Mrs. Everett was married in Woodstock to her first husband, Henry Baker, and for many years lived upon a farm in Nackawick. Mr. Baker having died, she married the late Mr. Everett some 17 years ago. Although in her 80th year she is very active and does not show her age as some who reach those years. The late Rev. George Hartley of Carleton, St. John, married a sister of Mrs. Everett who was his first wife. His second wife was Miss Hayden of Hartland and third wife a Miss Clark of Carleton, St. John. Mrs. Everett goes to the finest winter climate in the world. The writer speaks advisedly, having spent several years in Southern California. Mrs. Everett's maiden name was Louisa Estabrooks and she was born in Jacksonstown.

Mrs. Harold and daughter, Esther, of Florenceville spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. H. Bradley.

Married at the residence of Mrs. Emily Dewitt, this village, on Friday, 27th ult, her son, Wm. E. Dewitt of Island Falls to Lucy N. Condon of Moores, Me. Rev. C. T. Phillips officiating clergyman. The happy couple will reside at Rockabena, Me.

On Tuesday p. m., 31st ult, a fire was discovered in John Lupin's barn. It had gained considerable headway before water was applied. Hay, harness and sleds consumed and two pigs suffocated. Loss heavy. Cause unknown.

A number of boys of this village are noted for playing truant and loitering about their various hiding places and creeping into barns where it is said they smoke cigarettes or tobacco in some form and play games with cards, and it is thought that the number of barn fires recently are caused through or by them. While they are being watched their cunningness so far has outwitted the vigilance of those who are on their track. It is but reasonable to assume that parents and guardians should know how those for whom they are responsible spend their time and the habits they are practising. Many boys are on the streets at midnight which cannot be for any good purpose and parents ought to know where their boys are at such late hours.

Hay is being shipped from here in large lots. Butter 21 cents; eggs 22 cents; oats 30 to 35 cents.

Fine Bros have on hand a very large stock of clothing and furnishing goods at prices to suit all.

It is rumored that a certain blind man in Upper Brighton, who receives aid from the parish, is dabbling with liquor, using it himself and supplying others.

How different from above—Ziba Orser who is stone blind conducts a flourishing livery and boarding stable and hotel, and being a thorough.

JOTTINGS.

Rev. W. J. Fowler of Kirkland will preach at the Adventist Church next Sunday evening at the usual hour.

Miss Katharine Clark, Miss Kate Saunders and Miss Louise Baird, all of the South Framingham School for Nurses, have passed their final examinations and will graduate this month.

Sullivan Bros Bowling Alley is well patronized. The candle pins seem to get the most attention. James Long the famous base ball twirler has the record. He put on 109 the other night.

Editor Stewart of the Chatham World has given $100 towards wiping out the deficit for the past year in the St. Luke's Church, Chatham, caused by repairs and improvements to church property.

ough temperance man is well respected by the entire community.

A steady solid patronage of all classes continues at the Commercial Hotel. Amos Rideout is proprietor.

Thomas G. Hurley has been selling braker's bread, made at Woodstock, for 15 years and still supplies his customers.

Don't forget that instructions are imperative in the collection of accounts made with C. W. Hurst and assigned for the benefit of creditors.

Councillor Allen Bradley deserves great credit for the energy, labor and interest manifested in securing a never failing supply of water for all the citizens and all purposes, the indications are that such is already secured. Persons having property in a wooden town should never kick against a water tax if such is properly expended. Water is Hartland's strong security and reduces insurance rates against fire.

The funeral services of Mrs. Wm. Grant were held in the Baptist Church on last Sunday p. m. Sermon by Rev. Mr. Steeves. Revs. C. T. Phillips and Elder Orser took part in the ceremonies—one by one.

Violators of the game law are being called to an account. The fine and punishment for such is severe. Men acting as guides without a license are foolish for the fine is heavy.

Mrs. Geo. McLauchlan is visiting relatives and friends while Mr. McLauchlan is fixing up house and office and getting ready for home comfort and work. The new paper is expected to make its debut in about two weeks.

A sad accident occurred on Friday last at noon hour when the five year old and youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aiton fell into the mill pond at the mouth of the Beckagui-mack Stream and was drowned. There was no person about, it being dinner time, but soon after his hat was observed floating on the surface. Grapplings were used and his body was soon found. Parents and members of family have the unbounded sympathy of the entire community.

To encourage a greater taste for reading, a public library would be an excellent institution it could have a beginning by individual contributions. Almost every family could find from one to ten books so thoroughly read in the home that they could part with them while others especially those of a literary caste would take pride in the bestowal of such works as would be entertaining and instructive. It would not take long to establish a creditable selection and could be sustained with small expense. Young ladies of Hartland take the initiative. We have many young ladies who would make good librarians.

The funeral of little Howard Aiton took place on Monday at 2 p. m. Services at the house conducted by Rev. Mr. Marr. A large number in attendance showing their love for dear little Howard and respect and sympathy for the family.

Dewitt Bros just called to say they are paying cash $1 per bbl for potatoes; pressed hay, $7.25; loose hay, $8; for butter in large lots 19 to 20 cents.

ADDON.

The marriage of Dr. Robert G. Thompson and Miss May Josephine Sharkey took place Wednesday morning at St. John in the Cathedral. The happy couple are receiving the hearty good wishes of their many friends.

Miss Catharine Denison, graduate of Bryant & Stratton's Commercial College, Boston, will receive a few pupils in stenography at her residence, Connell street. Now is the time to begin the study of this useful accomplishment in order to prepare for a situation in the Spring.—21-44.

Primrose a big Seller.

J. M. Frapp of the Meduxnekeag Roller Mill reports that his Primrose flour, ground on the premises, is meeting with phenomenally large sales. Farmers for miles and miles are bringing their wheat to be ground at his mill. At the recent provincial exhibition held at Fredericton five out of seven prizes for bread, biscuit and pastry were won by entries made from Primrose flour.

McManus occupied the chair in the absence of the Mayor, who was out of town attending the funeral of his father. Coun.
