The New Valley Survey.

The Valley Route is to be surveyed from Andover to Chipman. Three parties are being made up to-day. The first under Engineer Maxwell will work from Andover to Woodstock. From here to French Village Guy Balloch will be in charge. From that point to Chipman a Mr Hervey will direct the survey, with C F K Dibblee as transit. The new survey will be what is known as a Trial Location, which will determine the length, probable cost and other necessary information concerning the new road. It will be noticed that the first two parties will be in charge of New Brunswick, and the third has a Woodstock man as second in command. Chairman Parent at the urgent request of F B Carvell M.P. and Senator Thompson, ordered this new survey. The people living along the Valley will get a square deal. The new chairman, Mr Parent, seems absolutely air-minded and willing to do the square thing as between the rival states. Next week we will have more to say on this matter.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At a meeting of the board held Monday evening on motion of Coun Stevens, seconded by Coun Henderson, resolutions were ordered issued against all delinquent taxpayers. It is not yet known whether thumb-screws and boots will be applied. The town fathers are out flatfooted for the taxes, and mean to get them or know the reason why. A lot of time was consumed in a squabble over a motion by Coun Leighton that more pay be given the assistant assessors. The mayor would not put the motion, as he claimed it was sprung on the board without notice at a special meeting called for another purpose, and in the absence of two councillors known to be opposed to any such move.

Opening of the Bowling Alley.

Sullivan Bros new up-to-date bowling alley will be opened with appropriate display on Wednesday evening next at half past seven. Seating capacity will be reserved for about fifty ladies. Hon J L Carleton, Hon W P Jones, F B Carvell M.P., Mayor Jones, J C Hartley and I E Sheasgreen have been invited to do the grand opening act. The enterprise shown by this hustling firm speaks well for their business capacity. The whole town is proud of them. The alleys will be under the personal supervision of James Sullivan, who is an expert at the game, and will coach those who wish his instruction. Special evenings will be reserved for the ladies. Everyone will get a cordial greeting at the opening.

Visits His Old Home.

Mr E W Mair, an old Campbellton boy, and Mrs Mair have been visiting the former's old home here. Mr Mair is now conducting a very successful drug business in Woodstock, but finds time occasionally to renew his acquaintances in Campbellton. Mrs Mair was formerly Miss Wright, daughter of the late Mr H S Wright, who was one of the provincial managers of the North American Life Insurance society, and was well and favorably known in this section. Mr and Mrs Mair intend leaving for home to-morrow.—Tribune, Oct. 24.

Come in and roll a string at the Bowling Alley. Open on and after Wednesday evening next.

THE HOSPITAL SUPPER.

The Hospital Supper, which is to be given in the Opera House on the King's birthday, Thursday, Nov 9th, promises to be a great event. The ladies who have been appointed to solicit supplies throughout the town and county are unanimous in their praise of the peoples' generosity on all sides. All sorts of food supplies are being daily received. Turkeys, fowl, eggs and vegetables are promised for the occasion. When the canvass is completed it is thought there will be abundant provisions to feed the 800 people who are expected on the 9th of November.

Among the ladies who have been very successful are Mrs T F Sprague and Mrs F B Carvell in their visit on Tuesday to Centreville. Besides a great deal of fowl and vegetables promised, they brought back $31 in money. The contributors were as follows:—

KENDALL IS COMING.

What This Celebrated Entertainer Does.

It is interesting to note that another excellent entertainment will be given the public by the Presbyterian body, the date of which is Nov 14th and the place the Opera House. The talent procured for this occasion is Fred E Kendall, of Boston, and Miss Ethel Munro Bunting, reader and monologist, also of the hub. Kendall is an impersonator and baritone soloist, and in both stands in the very front rank of American artists. He is extremely versatile, and work which is varied enough to suit all desires, ranges from the intensely humorous to the pathetic. He uses a great many excruciatingly funny short dialect stories. As a baritone soloist he is one of the best in the country. None in Woodstock should miss this fine entertainment on Nov 14th. The committee are expecting a crowded house.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

MR. EDITOR.—Probably it might be of interest to some of your readers to know in how careless and unlawful a manner the election of Northampton was carried on on the 10th inst. 1 The parish clerk neglected to take the oath of office as chairman as the law required him to do so. It was called to his attention at the opening of the poll in the morning.

2 The voters list furnished to the clerk was not a proper one.

3 The clerk left the ballot box and went to his residence or some place and was gone for some time.

4 The clerk allowed people to vote when their names were not on the list.

5 Also allowed voters to put their ballots in the box before he knew whether their names were on the list.

6 At close of poll he neglected to administer the oath to the tellers as the law requires.

If the independent ratepayers look quietly on such conduct as this on the part of the officials of the law and do not put a stop to it, is it any wonder that the whiskey and bribery element rule at elections?

QUERY:—Under the above conditions how are the councillors to make oath that they were legally elected?

RATEPAYER.

The above communication was handed to us for publication by a Northampton elector. We accede to his request without in any way accepting responsibility for the statements therein for which "Ratepayer" agrees to take full responsibility. Rather than carry such matters into the newspaper tribunal we think it would be better to have them tried out in the proper place.—Ed Sentinel.

Theodore H. Estabrooks, the Tea King of Canada, a Native of Carleton County.

From the St John Times we republish the following article which will be of great interest to Carleton County people, as it gives in brief form the story of the rise of a poor Carleton County boy to the top of the ladder as one of Canada's Merchant Princes, and the leader in his line.

Theodore H Estabrooks, wholesale tea merchant, and one of the most successful of St. John's younger business men, was born at Wicklow, Carleton County, N.B., on December 28, 1861, and is therefore in his 44th year. He was educated in the public schools and in the grammar school at Sheffield. Having an idea of going into commercial life he took a course in Kerr's business college in this city and in April, 1884, entered the employ of W F Harrison & Co on Smythe St. He was with the firm for ten years, one year as a junior and the remaining nine years as chief clerk or manager.

On May, 1st, 1894, he commenced business for himself on Dock St., dealing chiefly with the import and export trade with the West Indies. The tea trade was at that time of minor importance, but gradually grew until Mr Estabrooks gave his whole attention to it. He foresaw that the direct importation and the blending and packing of teas would become a great business in St. John; and also that the teas of India and Ceylon would steadily gain in favor in this territory. His foresight and energy resulted in the development of a business of national extent.

Outgrowing the premises on Dock St he removed to Nos 11 and 12 North wharf, and these quarters being also found soon to be too small, he built for himself on Mill St occupying in October, 1903, the large and handsome brick block where he is now situated. This building is the largest in Canada devoted exclusively to the tea trade.

Mr Estabrooks now employs about seventy people. He has seventeen travellers, covering practically the whole of Canada, Newfoundland and a portion of the New England states. He has branches in Toronto and Winnipeg. He has in his St John warehouse a complete modern equipment for blending, weighing, packing and labelling teas, and his establishment is therefore an important local industry.

Mr Estabrooks is connected with the Board of Trade, New Brunswick Tourists Association and Exhibition Association. He has been a member of the executive boards of these organizations for a number of years, and has always taken an active interest in them. He has been a member of several important delegations to Ottawa, on matters of importance to the trade of this port, and was a member of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association which this year toured Great Britain. He is a member of the St John taxation commission appointed last year. He is on the executive of the Protestant Orphan Asylum, Boy's Industrial Home and Associated Charities. He is interested also in a number of industrial enterprises. Though he has never come before the public prominently in politics, he is an active supporter of the liberal party, and has always taken a lively interest at election time.

At the time of the Riel rebellion Mr Estabrooks was a member of the 62nd Fusiliers, and when troops were called from here he accompanied the detachment. They, however, did not get past Sussex, as the trouble was all over.
