Woodstock, N. B., Jan 25, 1905.
Mr. C. HAMILTON:
Dear Sir:—This to certify that I have been using your Hair Tonic for the past seven months, and I can safely say that I have used different ones, but all proved a failure. My hair used to fall out, but by using HAMILTON'S HAIR TONIC I find my hair ceased falling out and also cured the dandruff.

East Florenceville.

Florenceville, this winter has been honored by having in its midst a newspaper correspondent whose abilities and imagination were so great as to cause the residents to sit back with senses dulled and mouths wide open. This "parcel of young brains" organized a mythical society and after changing the names of our most prominent citizens had them appear as leading lights in the diplomatic and social circles of the town, when every one knew they were better adapted to a plow and pick and shovel. Fortunately our young friend wrote nothing which he was ashamed of; he very cleverly wormed around his subject and generally succeeded in bringing his game to the earth, not with a straight emphatic statement but with a hint so gentle and suggestive as to leave no doubt to its meaning. Then again he in so mild a manner and with a face as innocent as a new born babe appeared among us and read with surprise his own efforts, always commenting largely on the jokes and friendly hits and always anxious to learn the name of the contributor.

We hope he will continue his noble work so that strangers may read with wonder the debates of the "Kismet Club," the frequency of his "January thaws" and above all the magnificent display of exaggerated happenings. Closing we may refer him to the poet Browning who says "A man dislikes a liar, but a circulator of exaggerated facts is a worthy citizen."

Williamstown.

Pressing hay and hauling it to Peel station is the general business around here now. The road is reported to be terrible, broken sleds and loads upset is a common occurrence.

Wm Oldham was seen passing through this section yesterday on his way to East Florenceville.

Meductic.

Work on the Eel River bridge is progressing. The old bridge has been removed, and the debris cleared away from the site of the new foundation. Part of the crew was "laid off" last week.

Nature's bridge is still in good condition, but the question is will it last till the new bridge is ready for crossing?

Rev. Geo McDonald returned from Grand Manan last week.

Mr Fletcher, bridge inspector, spent Sunday in the village.

Debec.

Harry Crawford who has been very low with typhoid-pneumonia, is recovering.

March is in, it came like a lamb and we expect it to go out like a lion.

The dance given by the young men of Andover was quite a success they had good music, a nice lunch and a good time generally.

Among those from a distance who attended were Miss Howard, Grand Falls, Miss Hale, Grafton, Miss Hopkins, Aroostook, Miss Holt, Presque Isle and others.

Miss Baird of Grafton is the guest of Miss Lena Baird.

Miss Nellie Sadler is a guest at Spruce Grove.

Mrs Bertha Waite had a bad accident on Saturday evening. She with two others were driving and met an unknown team which would not move out an inch and although they moved as they could the two teams collided. The occupants of the "Waite" team were all thrown out and more or less hurt, Mrs Waite had her eye so badly cut that Dr Wiley had to take several stitches and she is quite ill from the effects. The unknown team drove right on without even inquiring the extent of the damage.

We know a man who says he knows a man who is so lazy that he won't have anything but loaf sugar in his coffee.

The Carleton Sentinel, New Brunswick's oldest paper, is a favorite visitor in the homes of all. Try it.

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It consists simply in treating others as you love to be treated yourself.

Few people know that an onion, cut up into four parts and put in a sick room where there is any infectious disease, takes in all the infection.

Never have medicine bottles, liniment bottles and disinfectants all mixed up together on the same table. This piece of carelessness has led to inquests.
